PORKKALA: 60.05 N. 24.23 E.

DOCUMENTS: and all general information, refer to "Helsinki".
PILOTAGE: A Pilot can be obtained from the pilot station of Rönnskär or Porkkala, except for the shallowest fairway, for which the Pilot can be obtained from another pilot station.
APPROACHES: There are four official ship routes leading to the port of Porkkala of Suomen Sokeri Osakeyhtiö, the deepest one of which is 9·2 metres (30 ft.) and the shallowest one is 5·5 metres (18 ft.).

The port does not have an ice-breaker of its own and the fairway is kept open by means of the State's ice-breakers.
CLEARANCE: The customs formalities of the port are attended to by the Custom House of Helsinki.
TUGS: A tug-boat can be ordered either from Helsinki or from the port of Inkoo.
BERTHING: The port of Porkkala is owned by Suomen Sokeri and it is located at Kantvik. Directly in the vicinity of the port there is the factory of Suomen Sokeri Osakeyhtiö (sugar mill).

The port basin has two parts. The outer part of the pier is 110 metres long and it can be used by vessels with a draft up to 9·2 metres (30 ft. 2 in.). The inner part of the pier is 50 metres long and it can be used by vessels with a draft up to 5·3 metres (17 ft. 4 in.). The fairway of the port basin is 120 metres wide, narrowing up at its end to 76·5 metres.

South quay (at the south bank of Kantvik bay): length 60 m., draft 21 ft. 11 in.
FRESH WATER: There is a water post for vessels, as well as distribution of electric current and connection facilities for telephones.
DENSITY: 1004.
SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: The sugar discharging berth for Porkkala is at Kantvik, situated in lat. 60° 05′ N., long. 24° 23¼′ E., about 21′ West of Helsinki.

The Pilot for the port is embarked at the position indicated on British Admiralty Chart No. 2331, 115° 3½ miles from Porkkala lighthouse. From there to the berth is 12 miles and the passage presents no difficulties. It is well lit, and there is ample water. The least depth recorded was 31 ft. and that was alongside the berth. There is a powerful tug for assisting in berthing and unberthing.

The discharging berth, alongside which vessels lie port side to, is modern and well fendered. It is sheltered from most directions. Unfortunately, the berth is short for a 500 ft. vessel, and additional moorings have to be placed from amidships.

There is only one crane on the berth and, to work either of the end hatches a shift would be necessary. Work was continuous while the vessel discharged her part cargo at Kantvik, and an outturn rate of 100 tons/hour was achieved.

Fresh water is readily available from the Jetty, and presumably, fuel could be obtained by lighter from Helsinki. Telephones in the dock offices are available for official use.

There is a bus service to and from Helsinki, the journey taking about 40 minutes.

SAIMAA CANAL AND PORTS IN LAKE AREA OF SAIMAA

APPROACH CHANNELS: The canal can be reached from the international waters of the gulf of Finland through an approach channel South of Someri. The channel passes the Island of Vihrevoi and continues, at the Island of Malyj Vysotski, as the Vysotski-Viipuri channel, from which the approach channel departs at a distance of 10 km. from Malyj Vysotski. The length of the approach channel from the point of departure to the Brusnitchnoe Lock is 14 km. The distance from the international water area to the island of Vihrevoi is 94·5 km. and the length of the section Vihrevoi–Malyj Vysotski 12 km. The total length of the channel from the territorial waters of the Soviet Union to the Brusnitchnoe Lock is thus 131 km.

From the territorial waters of Finland the canal may be reached through the so-called coastal channel starting from the Finnish border at the island of Santio and joining the above sea channel at the island of Vihrevoi. The length of the channel from the border to Vihrevoi is 49 km. and the overall length of the Brusnitchnoe Lock is 85·5 km. The channel and its refuge harbours have beeen marked on the Soviet sea charts nos. 1131 and 1132 and on Finnish charts nos. 11 and 12. The coastal channel may only be used by Finnish vessels while vessels of other nationalities must use the sea channel, except foreign tugs.

Canal: The length of the canal on the Finnish side of the border is 23·3 km. and that of the part on the Soviet side 19·6 km. The overall length of the Saimaa Canal is thus 42·9 km. The average difference in the height between Lake Saimaa and the Gulf of Finland is 75·6 metres. The canal has eight locks, the heights of fall of which range between 5·54 m. and 12·69 m. Earth transports will use the seven moving bascule bridges and the six stationary bridges across the canal.

SEASON AND HOURS: The natural open-water season of the Saimaa Canal lasts an average 211 days. In mild spring and autumn seasons the open-water period lasts 225 days. Since most vessels using the canal have been strengthened for navigation in ice, a season of navigation of almost eight months will probably be normal every year. The season begins at the turn of April–May and ends in mid-December. The locks of the canal are provided with ice-melting equipment and they will not form an obstacle for lengthening the season of navigation. On the other hand traffic will be obstructed by freezing of the water system of Saimaa and by pack ice formations in the bottom of the Gulf of Finland. As to the water system, the farther North one goes the earlier will the waters of Lake Saimaa freeze in autumn and the later will the ice melt in spring.

The opening and closing of the season of navigation on the canal are decided each year by the Finnish and Soviet Canal Delegates. The closing date of the canal will be announced in the daily papers of Helsinki and Lappeenranta not later than 7 days before the day of closing, but for the opening day one day's notice is given.

During the season of navigation the Saimaa Canal is kept open throughout the day. The administration centre of the canal will be on continuous duty.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage in the Soviet area on the sea channels between Vihrevoi–Brusnitchnoe and on the coastal channel between the border and Brusnitchnoe is carried out by the Soviet Pilot Service. All vessels must use a Pilot on these channel sections.

Pilotage on section Brusnitchnoe–mouth of the Saimaa Canal on Lake Saimaa (or Lock of Mälkiä) is carried out by canal Pilots submitted to the Canal Office. Pilotage is normally carried out in two parts, on section Brusnitchnoe–the Lock of Pälli and on section the Lock of Pälli–the mouth of the canal on Lake Saimaa. All vessels, excluding Finnish small vessels and floating objects less than 25 m.

in length, shall use a Pilot when proceeding through the canal. The Canal Office may grant upon application a Master of a vessel the right to navigate his vessel on the canal without a Pilot provided that the Master of the vessel has passed an examination of the Canal Office. In navigation from the Gulf of Finland the Pilot must be ordered from the Viipuri Section of Inflot 12 hours before the arrival at the point where the Pilot is taken on board. The order must be checked two hours before the start of pilotage. To avoid excessive work by the Pilot Service and to eliminate delays special attention is to be given to the accuracy of the time the pilotage is to be started, particularly in the last notifications.

In navigation from Lake Saimaa the Pilot must be ordered from the Canal Office 12 hours before entrance into the canal. The order must be checked two hours before pilotage is to be started. In navigation from the Gulf of Finland a canal Pilot need not be ordered separately. Similarly, a Soviet Pilot for the approach channel need not be ordered separately when the vessel proceeds from Lake Saimaa. These orders will be placed by the Finnish and Soviet authorities concerned.

Pilotage in the water system of Saimaa is carried out by Pilots of the National Board of Navigation in Finland. The order for Pilots shall be made in good time to the Pilot Station of Lauritsala.

MAX. SIZE: The canal can be used by vessels with dimensions not exceeding the following:

|---|---|
| length | 82·0 m. |
| beam | 11·8 m. |
| draft | 4·35 m. |
| height of mast | 24·5 m. |

The draft of a vessel in tow, however, shall not exceed 4·3 m. For vessels larger than those mentioned above, a permit for navigation on the canal may be granted upon application by the Canal Office of the Saimaa Canal.

Permits may be granted to vessels the dimensions of which do not (at least considerably) exceed the following:

|---|---|
| length | 82·0 m. |
| beam | 11·8 m. |
| draft | 4·4 m. |
| height of mast | 24·5 m. |

and which also as to their structures and properties are suitable to navigation on the canal. The permit may contain regulations concerning the structure or equipment of the vessel or special provisions pertaining to navigation of the vessel on the canal such as good manoeuvrability, liability to wait or speed restrictions.

The Canal Office of the Saimaa Canal may also grant a vessel or equipment with slightly larger dimensions, carrying exceptional cargo, a Trip Let Pass for one passage through the canal.

The Rules and Regulations for Traffic on the Saimaa Canal also contain more detailed directions – among others on the permissible dimensions of vessels in tow and timber rafts using the open canal sections.

NEW VESSELS: When designing new vessels, to be used also in traffic through the Saimaa Canal, the designers are advised to consult the main dimensions and the structure of the vessels with the canal authorities. The conditions of navigation in the canal depend, first of all, on manoeuvrability, though certain other factors are also important. Vessels suited to canal and inland water traffic may be constructed slightly longer and wider than permitted at present on the canal.

MAXIMUM PERMISSIBLE SPEED AND TIME OF PASSAGE: The highest permissible speed on the actual channel of the Saimaa Canal is 9 km/h and on the lake channels of the canal 15 km/h.

The Canal Office has the authority to issue regulations permitting higher speeds, principally for small vessels. The time of passage through the part of the canal provided with locks (mouth of the canal on Lake Saimaa–Lock of Brusnitchnoe) is 6–8 hours depending on waiting time at locks caused by heavy traffic volumes, and on size of vessels.

The average speed on deep-water channels on Lake Saimaa is estimated to be 18 km/h.

SIGNS AND SIGNAL LIGHTS: The sign system of the approach channel of the Saimaa Canal, the canal and the channels on Lake Saimaa is adequate to ensure safe navigation throughout the day, also at night and in poor visibility.

The approach channel is provided with beacons, light buoys and signs in accordance with the lateral system. The signs have been erected by Soviet authorities. The illumination and the signalisation systems of the Saimaa Canal are based on the same principles with beacons and signs, but in the signal system of the canal, sign lanterns, signboards, line markers, water traffic signs and radar reflectors have been used. The colour of sign lanterns is orange on the West bank and green on the East bank of the canal. In marking of the lake channels of Saimaa according to the cardinal system, leading and warning lights, light buoys, range beacons, landmarks and signs have been used. Information of the marking of the water system of Saimaa has been issued as a booklet by the National Board of Navigation in Finland: "Sisävesistöjen loistot I 1968" – "Beacons of Inland Water Areas I 1968".

RADIO: There are two radiotelephone networks for marine use in the sphere of influence of the Saimaa Canal. On the frequency of 160 mHz reserved for actual marine radio communications there are also the pilot radiotelephone and the public radiotelephone networks.

The Pilot radiotelephone network covers all stationary radiotelephone equipment at all locks, on the Kansola Bascule Bridge, at pilot stations and in the traffic office in the administrative building at Mustola as well as portable radiotelephone apparatus used by canal pilots. The radiotelephone equipment of the canal Pilots operate on Channel 11 of the international marine radio. The telephone of the Brusnitchnoe Lock and the radio telephone in the Administrative Centre of the canal are also provided with a general calling and safety Channel 16.

When approaching from the sea the vessel takes a radio contact with the Brusnitchnoe Lock by using Channel 11. After this all radio communications required by navigation on the canal also use Channel 11. On Lake Saimaa, radio communications move over to Channel 13 on which the traffic office of the Saimaa Canal and the pilot station of Lauritsala are also able to operate.

The general radiotelephone network on Lake Saimaa (the so-called Saimaa Radio) uses Channels 23–28 of the international marine radio. The network covers the entire region of the water system of Saimaa extending from Lappeenranta to Iisalmi and Lake Pielinen. Channel 24 is the calling channel of the Saimaa Radio.

Two marine radio stations for general traffic have been built at Nuijamaa and Virolahti especially for navigation on the Saimaa Canal. Both radio stations are on duty and they are remote-controlled from the Coast Station of Kotka. The stations have the calling and safety Channel 16 and a calling Channel 24 for public traffic. The Nuijamaa Station operates on Channel 28 and the Virolahti station on Channel 23. The range of the Nuijamaa Station extends from South of Viipuri to Southern Saimaa and the range of the Virolahti station covers the entire Bay of Viipuri. The stations can be called either on Channel 16 or on the operating Channel. The Kotka Radio calls vessels either on Channel 16 or 24.

The principal purpose of both the Saimaa and the Kotka Radios is to ensure the communications of the safety service of navigation. These stations may also be used to transmit calls to the public telephone network – also to foreign countries – or vice versa, to receive calls from the public telephone network.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory for vessels over 60 metres length. Vessels can communicate with pilot station, tel. 31.36.08, through Boulogne Radio. When pilot launch is at sea, contact by VHF Channel 12.

The most favourable boarding point is between the sea buoy and the wreck buoy situated 1½ miles to the South, or slightly nearer the land if there are strong Westerly winds. In any event, the surf created by the Carnot breakwater must be avoided by keeping at least 1 mile off shore. If Pilot is not immediately available, vessel must wait in Outer Roads, if necessary at anchor, until further instructions received. On no account should vessel attempt to enter Carnot Roads without Pilot.

ANCHORAGE: The outer anchorage for large vessels is midway between Bassure de Baas and the Carnot breakwater. Anchorage prohibited in the main approach channel.

Plans are being studied for considerably improving these facilities.

CRANES: Floating crane 150 ton capacity. Also one crane 25 ton capacity, 9 cranes 3–6 ton and 18 cranes 6–15 tons

In addition, a quayside installation equipped with a ramp is being planned in the dock for berthing Ro-Ro ships with both horizontal and vertical handling capability.

A 240-metre quay may also be available along the Western side of the quay when the increased traffic warrants its construction.

The port offers 58,800 sq. metres covered area, of which 4,500 sq metres (18,000 cubic metres) are cold stores, and 82,100 sq. metres of open area.

A clinker silo of a capacity of 42,500 tons is currently in course of construction; its rate of loading will be 1,000 tons/hour.

HONFLEUR; 49.25 N. 00.14 E.

DOCUMENTS: See "Rouen".

PILOTAGE: Served by "Pilotage de la Seine" (address 9 Chaussee Kennedy, 76 le Havre). Ships bound for Honfleur are received on the Carosse Roads (Rade de la Carosse) where the following signals should be made for summoning a Pilot. Complementary signals which can be used on arriving on the roads. By day – globe or ship's national flag hoisted at masthead. By night – red light at main masthead. At all times, sound signal of five long blasts.

Advice of ETA and draft in salt water is to be given to Rouen Port at least 5 hours prior arrival roads, as well as to Agent.

Similarly, vessels anticipating a delay of more than two hours after their reported ETA should notify Rouen Port or the pilot boat of this at least three hours before the time originally reported.

Advisable then to confirm directly either to pilot boat (call sign FNZH) or to Havreport between 24 and 12 hours before arrival (see Radio). Pilot boats have black hull with "Pilote Havre" in white letters on both sides, white funnel with black top stripe, green flag with white anchor on fore-mast. Located off Le Havre channel entrance East of the intermediate landfall buoy (LH 2) except at low tide when pilot boat comes back to harbour for revictualling.

Vessels may anchor near LH 2 South of entry alignment in good weather and further off in bad weather.

Light or sound signal to be made by vessels requiring a pilot, letter "G" in morse code.

ANCHORAGES: Anchoring forbidden in the channel between both parallels 100 metres South and North of channel and in a zone 1 nautical mile long and 500 metres wide in prolongation of channel.

RESTRICTIONS: Depth in main channel 51 ft. LW. Depth in tidal basin 49 ft. LW.

Main lock entrance to enclosed basins, length 1,312 ft. width 220 ft., depth 79 ft.

Vessels berthing in tidal docks (Bassin Theophile Ducrocq) dependent on tide if draft in excess of 30 ft.

Quinette de Rochemont Lock open from 2 hours 20 min. before high tide until 40 min. after. During this period vessels of max. length 210 metres and max. breadth 26 metres may pass through. Otherwise max. length authorised is reduced to 180 metres. In some circumstances some locks are completely closed around low tide.

CIM Berth No. 10 may receive tankers up to 300,000 tons dwt. with draft varying between 63 and 68 ft. depending upon tide. Such vessels enter only by daylight and must arrive at Lightvessel at least 3 hours before high water.

MAX. SIZE: Tankers: length 1,300 ft., draft (approx.) 65 ft. subject tide. Largest vessel recorded is a tanker, length 348·83 metres, beam 54·50 metres, draft 20·67 metres and deadweight 290,875 metric tons.

Bulk carriers: up to 90,000 tons.

HEALTH: Free pratique automatic for vessels coming direct from Continent or Italy and "Q" flag not to be flown. From other countries including Spain and Portugal usual procedure applies. Free pratique may be obtained by radio message to Sanipor Le Havre specifying name of vessel – where coming from – total number of crew members, number of crew members vaccinated (smallpox, yellow fever, cholera).

Tankers: For tankers it is advisable to ask free pratique by radio in order start operation as soon as vessel berths.

RADIO: Masters of ships are requested to send to Le Havre Harbour Master their expected time of arrival at Le Havre light-vessel.

The message will be sent through radio stations of: Boulogne-radio/FFB (working frequencies 1771 kHz and 2747 kHz) or Brest le-Conquet radio/FFU (1806/2726 kHz).

It will give the date and time GMT of ETA, and the maximum draft. It will be sent about 12 hours before arrival and corrected by another message if necessary. This service is free. Same stations of Boulogne and Brest to be used to contact Agent and in addition Saint Lys/FFL.

Port operation radio service: The Havreportradio station keeps a permanent watch on the following frequencies: 156.6 mHz (Channel 12); 156.8 mHz (Channel 16); 157.0–161.6 mHz (Channel 20 duplex). This station sends and receives all messages for the port operations control.

Ships call Havreportradio directly on Channels 12 or 20. Ships arriving, leaving or moored on roads must keep watch on Channel 16.

Ships with Pilot on board must keep watch on Channels 12 or 20 from pilot on board until arrival at berth, and from departure of berth until disembarking Pilot. Havreportradio/FFY keeps watch on 2.182 kc/s. This frequency will be used only in a radius of 22 miles from Havre light-ship and only when it is not possible to use VHF.

RADAR/VHF: Radar assistance may be obtained by calling Le-Havre-Radar on Channel 16 (156·80 mHz). Then working frequencies are Channels 14 and 22.

STEVEDORES: 2 normal shifts (0700–1500 and 1500–2300) every week-day including Saturday. Night shift in overtime 2300–0700. For fruits and reefer cargo and passengers ships possible working 2 hours overtime before morning shift to start at 0500 subject ordering gang the previous day at 0600, with 23 hours notice to stevedores. Night gang ordered the same day at 1400 with nine hours notice to stevedores (same consequently involves 36 and 12 hours notice to Agents for morning and night overtime respectively).

For vessel completing loading/discharging may order 2 hours overtime from 1500 to 1700 after morning shift or only 1 hour overtime from 2300 to 2400 after afternoon shift. No possibility of dividing the shift of 8 hours. Consequently time lost between completion of work and end of shift is charged to the vessel at the cost of about Frs. 560.00 per hour (depending upon type of cargo).

No work possible on Sunday and legal holidays nor during night between Sunday or holiday and next working day. Necessary to give Agent soonest possible accurate ETA and hatch partition in order to enable his arranging work at the best, keeping in mind that shift cannot be split.

Work done with shore crane. Ship's derricks used only exceptionaly. No hatch tents available from shore.

It is compulsory to put a net under the gangway before starting work, for lack of which stevedores refuse to go on board.

MEDICAL: It is not necessary for Agent to receive advance notice of required medical attention except when Master requests a doctor on board. The Master must after berthing inform Agent of number of patients and nature of disease, name of patient, rank, in order Agent may arrange corresponding appointment with doctors, dentists, specialists, etc. Hospital facilities available provided admission ordered by local doctor.

Inoculation. Yellow fever – effected only at the hospital once per week on Thursdays 1400 to 1500 hrs. Other inoculations may be effected by local doctors (with appointment) but smallpox may also be effected at the Town Hall sanitary office on Tuesday and Saturday from 0900 to 1200 hrs.

Tankers calling first time at Le Havre recommended to inform Agents of position of manifold connection. Slop reception facilities available up to 1,000 tons per hour.

DENSITY: In outer port and tidal docks: salt water. In inside docks brackish. Density depending upon season and amount of fresh water brought in by river Seine and Canal de Tancarville.

FRESH WATER: Most berths supply by shore hydrants. Otherwise by barge minimum quantity invoiced then being 50 cbm. Overtime charged in addition. Late cancellation of barge invoiced.

FUEL: All grades available, viscosities from 200 sec. to 3000 sec. Redwood. Minimum 48 hours advance notice required to prepare barges.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: Dangerous cargo must be declared on "Inbound Bill" and in order not to delay vessel's entry it is highly recommended to inform Agent of quantity and exact nature of dangerous cargo on board 48 hours prior to arrival, thus enabling agent to get in touch with Harbour Master and take necessary steps which may go from a single smoking prohibition up to a fire-picket on the quay during all the call.

Tankers: A "notice to masters of ships loading/unloading hydrocarbons" is handed to Master upon arrival. This notice specifies inter alia: repairs, ventilation/cleaning of tanks, handling of goods subject to Harbour Master's authorisation. All naked lights and fires prohibited, boiler furnaces and galley ranges excepted, such exception cancellable on simple order of Harbour Master or Depot Manager.

DEVELOPMENTS: By mid-1975 the new oil terminal of Havre-Antifer, built to the South of Cape Antifer will have two installations enabling vessels of 550,000 dwt to be received at all states of the tide. Shelter will be created by a protective mole 3,520 m. in length. At the foot of the cliff, there will be a service port and open-air work areas. An access channel 550 m. wide to a depth of 25 m. will be dredged.

A second stage will see the provision of two further installations after further deepening of the sea to 30 m. in order to take vessels of 1,000,000 dwt.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Not compulsory. Sworn watchmen in uniform and equipped with a VHF set may be obtained from the Port Authority per hour for day and night, working days and holidays. Some other companies may also supply watchmen (not sworn) at lower prices.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: May be done by stevedores at the same price as shifting of cargo depending upon the type of cargo and consequent number of men included in the gang.

It is highly recommended to carry out opening by the crew before beginning of shift to avoid both loss of time and expensive charges and also risk of accident to stevedores who are sometimes not well aware of vessel's closing system.

It is emphasised that for reefer cargo stevedores wait for cold exhaust half an hour after opening hatches before getting down in the holds. Consequently it is strongly advised to stop ventilation and start opening hatches with crew about one hour before beginning of shift keeping in mind that for reefer cargo, the morning shift may commence at 0500.

PILOTAGE: Vessels proceeding to the ports of Rouen and Honfleur are met by pilot boat on La Carosse Roads (Rade de La Carosse). Pilotage is compulsory between the mouth of the Seine and Rouen for all vessels of 55 metres length and over; each vessel taking a Pilot for the downriver stage between La Carosse Roads and Villequier, or vice-versa, and a Pilot for the upriver stage between Villequier and Rouen, or vice-versa.

The following signals should be made for summoning a pilot on La Carosse Roads: By Day: flag "G" of the international code of signals. By Night: in morse by signalling lamp. Failing this, the vessel should hoist her national ensign at the foremasthead.

The following additional signals can be made when arriving on La Carosse Roads: By Day: hoisting a ball or the national ensign at the foremasthead. By Night: a red light from the mainmasthead. At any Time: by the sound signals of 5 prolonged blasts (– – – – –).

Vessels leaving harbour or shifting berth should apply for a Pilot to the Pilotage office, 18 rue Duguay-Trouin, Rouen (tel. 71–68–50).

The Rouen pilot boat keeps a telegraphic and telephonic watch during the following period of all tides: from 1 hour after low water Le Havre until 4½ hours after high water (middle point stay tide). The watch is kept in the following manner: 1. Telegraphy: 50 kHz (600 m.) call sign FORI. 2. Telephony: 2·182 kHz (137·50) m. frequency modulation (VHF) 156·8 mHz, Channel 16 call sign Pilot Rouen.

Since the pilot boat's watch is not permanent, Masters wishing to enter into direct contact with her are recommended to signal their position during the high water prior to that by which the vessel expects to enter the roads.

RESTRICTIONS: The height of water above chart datum at Le Havre is broadcast on Channel 11 every 10 minutes by Honfleur VHF port radar station starting 2½ hours before, until 4 hours after the initial point of stay tide.

PORT RADAR: The radar station at the extreme end of the eastern jetty of Honfleur can, on request, inform vessels of their position in the estuary, aiding in particular those vessels unequipped with radar and running into fog. Working hours and R/T frequencies are the same as those indicated above for the transmission of water heights.

A radar post situated at kilometric point 334.400 on the right bank at Radicatel operates, experimentally, as an aid to navigation between the Risle and the Aizier from two hours before until two hours after high water Le Havre.

To obtain information put out a VHF call on Channel 16 (156·800 mHz) and then switch to channel 9 (156·450 mHz).

Information given by the port's Radicatel radar post and the Honfleur works radar, at ship's option, is extended as an aid only and implies no responsibility either to the Port Authority or its agents in any subsequent recourse to such information, which is given free of charge.

ANCHORAGE: In the outer roads at La Carosse.

MAX. SIZE: Vessels over 216 metres length have entered. Draft approximately 2·40 metres more than height of tide at Havre. Maximum about 33 ft. Port accessible to vessels of 25,000 dwt.

HEALTH: Pratique given by Customs Officers who board on arrival. If any case of suspected disease on board or any reason why vessel should not receive free pratique, Master should radio Agent before arrival, advising full details.

RADIO: Vessels are obliged to give their ETA and draft at least 5 hours before arrival to Rouen Information Centre via Brest – Le Conquet Radio or Boulogne Radio. Failure to do so may result in a fine. Port operations can be contacted by VHF as follows: below Tancarville, call Le Havre radio on Channels 26 or 23. Above Tancarville, call Rouen radio on Channels 25 or 21. Vessels should keep watch on Channel 16 for information from Havre or Rouen radios, and keep this channel free for incoming calls.

TUGS: Permanently available in the port of Rouen. Tug assistance in the River Seine is available on request.

BERTHING: The main Maritime Port of Rouen extends from the Guillaume le Conquerant bridge as far as La Bouille over a distance of 11 miles. Quays and wharves cover the length of both banks of the Seine. There are also five basins in direct connection with the river without the interposition of any locks;

On the Right Bank: St-Gervais docks; on the Left Bank: the Timber dock, the Rouen-Quevilly dock, the Floating Docks tidal basin, and the "Bassin aux hydrocarbures" at Petit-Couronne.

The extent of quayage in the Maritime Port is 32,900 ft., and in the river docks 5,900 ft.

Between the downstream limits of the port of Rouen and the sea are a number of maritime establishments serving local requirements. The most important of these, all of them managed by the Port Authority of Rouen, being the petroleum terminal at Port Jérome.

Only when authorisation is granted by "Sete Port Office" you may proceed to S.B.M. on compulsory route on course 326 degrees extending 500 metres each side of line joining approach buoy to SBM. When proceeding on compulsory route your vessel shall exhibit additional marks by day three black shapes in a vertical line the highest and lowest one ball the middle one diamond every one spaced by 1·5 metre stop by night three all-round lights in a vertical line the highest and lowest red the middle white every one spaced by 2 metres stop Pilot will board approximately 3 miles seawards from SBM on compulsory route".

Your agents will forward the following cable: "Advise ETA type size your manifold flanges whether suitable reducers available and Smit's Bracket fitted on forecastle stop Boom to lift 16 in. ID floating hose and two 16 in. 150 ANSI standard flanges ready on portside. On forecastle have two polypropylene 8 in. messengers 150 fathom ready. Accommodation ladder on starboard and boat ropes each side."

The "approach buoy" referred to in para 1, is located in 43° 14′ 55″ N. 3° 53′ 40″ E. having the following characteristics: 3 metre diameter – 7 metre height mast painted with vertical strip white and red with two crosswise shapes, with a white light 4 flashes every 12 seconds. Proceeding inshore of this buoy and inside the 12 mile line is not allowed without prior authorisation granted by "Sete Port Office" on VHF Channel 16.

An approach channel exists between the approach buoy and the SBM extending 500 metres each side of a line joining the approach buoy to SBM and must be used as a compulsory route on a course of 326°. Same compulsory route applies for outgoing tankers leaving the SBM.

When proceeding in the approach channel the vessel shall exhibit in addition to the normal navigational signals: by day: 3 black shapes in a vertical line the highest and lowest one ball, the middle one a diamond – every one spaced by 1·5 metre. By night: 3 all-round lights in a vertical line, the highest and lowest red, the middle one white, every one spaced by 2 metres.

The Pilot boards incoming tankers and leaves outgoing tankers approximately 3 miles seawards from SBM on the compulsory route. He will stay on board during the period the vessel remains secured to the SBM.

Vessels scheduled to discharge at the SBM or departing from it are only permitted to transit the channel between the SBM and approach buoy during certain hours as follows: From May 1 to October 31 (0800–2100). From November 1 to April 30 (0800–0300). Entrance is permitted from Saturday 0800 to Sunday 2100 all the year. It is stressed that the "Sete Port Office" shall grant the necessary authorisation to proceed inshore of the approach buoy irrespective of their time of arrival at the approach buoy.

Every vessel proceeding to or departing from the SBM which requires to anchor should use the following anchorage areas: Anchorage A – Vessels with less than 15 metres (49 ft.) draft should anchor in the area bounded in the North by the breakwater, and in the East and West by meridian passing through the extremities of the breakwater, and in the South by the 20 metre (65·7 ft.) contour. Anchorage B – Vessels having a draft of greater than 15 metres (49 ft.) draft should anchor in the Southern semicircle around the SBM extending between 400 metres (1,310 ft.) and 1,850 metres (6,000 ft.) from the SBM.

When a vessel is proceeding to the SBM a Marine Superintendent and a mooring team will board. Then anchors should be secured and cable pawls in the down position, deck scuppers must be plugged tight and VHF on standby on Channel 12.

Throughout the period the vessel remains at the SBM the engine should be ready and power available on deck winches and windlass.

Adequate deck lighting must be available at night, and a constant focsle watch kept on the SBM.

Propeller r.p.m. must be kept to a minimum. Intermediate ballasting may be required in order to prevent excessive strain on moorings.

While weather operational limits will depend on circumstances port regulations specify the following criteria: Vessel must cease discharge when wind is 30 knots, significant wave height 8 ft. (assumed current 2 knots) vessel must leave berth when wind is 45 knots and significant wave height is 18 feet.

Skaramanga Yard's three floating docks have been designed in such a way as to eliminate delays of any kind in the raising of large vessels and to ensure that the work is carried out in minimum time and with the least possible inconvenience to the crew living on board.

The basic equipment of the docks is the following: Two 5-ton cranes, two fire extinguishing pumps 120 $m^3/h$ at 90 m. WC, DC current supply to ships 1200 A 220 V, AC current supply to ships 600 A 440 V 60 cycles, multipoint welding rectifier 2500 A, two oil pumps for supply of fuel oil from the dock to the vessel 60 m³/h at 50 m., two compressors 17 m³/min. at 7 atü, emergency diesel generator set 200 KVA, foam fire extinguishing system, steam boiler and water distilling plants.

Graving Dock

The Graving Dock is 327 m. (1,100 ft.) long, 53.6 m. (176 ft.) wide and 9.25 m. (30ft.) deep at the entrance. It can take ships in the 240,000 ton range.

Ships are manoeuvred at the dock entrance with the assistance of two 5-ton capstans situated on each side of the entrance gate. They are then shifted inside the dock by two 15-ton auto-tensioning winches and hauling-in trolleys (mules) running on tracks on each side along the dock subway.

The dock floor is fitted with specially designed keel blocks for easy fitting and removal and with electricity operated side blocks.

The Graving Dock is served by two 100-ton cranes, one 50-ton crane and a small 5-ton crane.

A fleet of five powerful tugs is on hand at Skaramanga Yard to assist docking and undocking operations of all vessels calling at the yard.

Eleusis Shipyards S.A. is located 27 km. outside Athens. The site was chosen on account of the several advantages it presents. The bay is well protected from strong winds, sources of raw materials are available in the vicinity of the yard, and adequate transportation, power, and telecommunication facilities can service the needs of yard.

DOCUMENTS:
International Load Line Certificate.
Safety Raid Certificate.
PILOTAGE: Optional for coastal vessels entering Davis Strait. Agents are to make arrangements if Pilot required.
GENERAL DESCRIPTION: The berth is located at the North end of the West side of Agfardlikavsa Fjord.

Agfardlikavsa Fjord, West Greenland, (entrance approximately 51° 18′ W. and 71° 08′ N.) is located at the end of the larger Qaumarujuk Fjord.

Qaumarujuk Fjord, the North-eastern arm of Ingnerit, has its entrance between Qegertanguit and the Western extremity of Akuliarusikavsak, a mainland projection about 2½ nautical miles South-eastward. Ingnerit is one of the largest of the branch fjords and flows into Umanak Fjord. It is entered between Tuperssuatsiait, the South-eastern extremity of the Alfred Wegener Peninsula, and Akuliaruseq, a point about 4 miles South, South-eastward. The waters of the Umanak Fjord flow into the Nordost Bay.

The Agfardlikavsa Fjord is separated from the Qaumarujuk Fjord by a shallow, narrow bar. Depth at the centre of the sill is approximately 30 metres.

There is a considerable surface water run-off along the Fjord walls including occasional rock slides. The bottom of the Fjord is filled with 6 to 8 ft. of fine silty material.

Marmorilik (71° 08′ N., 51° 18′ W.) lies on the South-eastern side of the Qaumarujuk Fjord at the Western entrance point of the Agfardlikavsa Fjord.

The larger fjords and Nordost Bay are encumbered with islets and rocks requiring extreme care in navigation. In particular, a shoal is known to exist some 350 metres North-west of Marmorilik point and extra care is required in this vicinity.

MAX. SIZE. Max. dwt. 36,500. Minimum depth alongside ore terminal is 12·5 m. at LW.

RADIO: Ship-to-shore communications will be maintained using the following frequencies: 2182 kHz, 2210 kHz and 2738 kHz.

Information on ice conditions in the fjord can be obtained from shore personnel. During loading operations, Greenex will supply the vessel with two portable radio transceivers for communications between the carrier and the loading control station.

TUGS: One tug available, 720 h.p. The tug will assist with berthing and unberthing if required, and will break up any thin ice in the vicinity of the berth and entrance to the fjord.

BERTHING: The Marine Terminal is used for loading ore carriers up to 36,500 dwt. The berth consists of four breasting dolphins with bollards for springs and breast-lines. On the shore are seven bollards for head and stern lines spread over a distance of 366 metres. The minimum depth of water alongside is 12·5 m. at LW.

Vessels normally berth port-side alongside and use the starboard anchor to assist in berthing. No. 1 hatch is lined up under the loader as it is the first hatch to be loaded.

Initially the headlines go to the Northernmost dolphin and stern lines to the Southernmost bollard on the shore.

Loading: Zinc and lead are loaded with a luffing and slewing ship-loader. The ship-loader is fitted with a 20 ft. conveyor to distribute the cargo in the hold. Communication is maintained between the vessel and control room by portable radios. The average loading rate is 500 metric tons/hour.

Notice of readiness will not be accepted at time of arrival at the dock unless the vessel is in all respects ready to load.

General Cargo: Unloaded into barges with vessel's gear and towed ashore to a separate lightering dock located about 500 metres North-east of the ore terminal.

MEDICAL: Emergency medical and dental treatment can be arranged and should, when possible, be requested by the vessel's Master in his ETA message to the mine site office.

TANKERS: Diesel fuel oil and turbo-fuel are stored in a tank farm located on-shore about 500 metres West of the point at Marmorilik on Qaumarujuk Fjord, at an elevation of 50 metres.

The tanker hoses are connected to an 8-inch flange connection for diesel oil or a 4-inch hose adaptor with dust-cup for turbo-fuel. The static head on the lines is about 70 metres when the tanks are full. An anti-static cable is provided.

On the shore, there are two 50-ton bollards and one 20-ton stock. No breasting or mooring dolphins are provided.

FRESH WATER: Not available.

FUEL: Not available.

REPAIRS: No facilities.

TIME: Standard time is GMT minus 3 hours.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT (JULY 1974):

There are no shore or harbour lights in operation. The Tonnelier Buoy is off station together with all channel buoys other than No's 3, 6 and 9 all of which are unlit. There is no plan to replace or re-light these navigation marks.

Only one tug is available.

Fresh water can only be obtained by Fire Brigade Tanker truck of 4 tonnes capacity at a cost of £1·60 per tonne. This water if received needs chlorination and boiling before use.

Consuls – There is no British Consular Officer resident in this port. The nearest is located at Dakar in Senegal.

Repatriation of crew members by air is possible but difficult. Procedure is as follows:

Air ticket must be purchased outside Guinea. Airline then advises their office at Conakry that purchase has been made. Airline office at Conakry in turn advise ship's agents when ticket and flight are available. Only then can Immigration formalities be commenced. Entry and exit visas are required and the overall operation may take up to one week.

Time – GMT is kept.

In the rainy season vessels should be prepared for the African Tornado. This usually occurs at night and produces winds reaching 90/100 knots from calm in a matter of minutes. It is as quickly over. The best indication of approach of this weather is a steep rise in the barometer the highest winds usually Northerly being experienced during the rise.

Vessel's berthed at the banana berth should be well fendered as they are subject to considerable movement due to invisible ground swell. A slight starboard list when alongside is an advantage.

3 Passenger Lists.

Public Health

3 Crew Vaccination Lists (showing smallpox, yellow fever and cholera).
3 Passenger Vaccination Lists (same as above).
1 Quarantine Declaration (Guinean form).

Agent

1 Passenger List.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. The Pilot boards one mile South of No. 8 buoy (10° 29.5′ N. 14° 43.9′ W.). The pilot ladder should be 5ft. above the water. Pilots require seven day's notice of arrival.

Pilots will take vessels in and out at night, provided a good radar is at his disposal.

APPROACHES: Outer approaches: B.A. Chart No. 600; B.A. Pilot Book Vol. 1. Coming from the North, the best departure point is in position 10° 04′ N. 16° 38′ W., on the 100-fathom line (which is incorrectly charted two minutes farther East). From that point, 129 miles from the Rio Nunez sea buoy, steer 270° on the recommended track shown on the chart.

It should be borne in mind that the visibility in this region is always poor, except after a thundery squall when it is excellent for about 24 hours. The estimated positions should be as accurate as possible. Soundings should be continuous.

The 10-fathom line charted in position 10° 04′ N. 10° 01′ N. 15° 19′ W. 15° 17′ W. do not exist. We twice found depths of at least 12 to 13 fathoms at that place.

Great care should be exercised when approaching the shoals South of Conflict Reefs, keeping in mind that the red-painted buoys No. 1, 2 and 3 are very small and are reported unlit (April '74) by the authorities in Kamsar. We saw the No. 3 buoy at a distance of 4 miles on the radar, notwithstanding a smooth sea and no clutter. The numbers painted on the buoys are unreadable, even at a distance of half a cable! The No. 4 buoy was, in April '74, completely destroyed and the barrel alone remained, giving no echo on the radar.

Nothing is known by the local authorities about the dangerous wreck charted in position 10° 05′ N. 14° 56.5′ W. East of buoy No. 3, the hills of Cap Verga were seen on radar at a distance of 38 miles; but, when buoy No. 4 was passed, no more echo from the land can be seen, probably due to abnormal refraction and waves propagation.

Buoy No. 5 is also unlit. Caution should be exercised when approaching the 4¾ fathom shoal, N.E. of buoy 5, as we found 2 ft. less water than charted! When passing off No. 5 buoy, the wreck (P.A.) near Gonzalez Rock could be seen on the radar. The charted position is completely incorrect. True position: 10° 24.6 N. 14° 40·9 W.

According to the British Pilot at Kamsar, the tidal streams along this coast are strong and more or less parallel to the coast, except near the mouths of the rivers. The main current runs in a S.E. direction, but is mainly weak.

Estuary of Rio Nunez: B.A. Chart No. 1562 (LC Feb. 72). No definite bar but encumbered by sand and mud banks. Rochers Gonzalez: The light is not only extinguished, but its structure is half destroyed. No echo on the radar, even at a close range.

CAUTION: All the approach buoys are incorrectly charted. The true positions, given by local authorities are as follows:

Buoy No. 6: 10° 25.5′ N. 14° 47.5′ W. (Red)
,, No. 7: 10° 23.5′ N. 14° 44.5′ W. (Green conical)
,, No. 8: 10° 29.5′ M. 14° 43.9′ W. (Red cyl)

Seven small red cyl. seabuoys guarding Southern limits of Company shoals and Conflict reefs. One green con. buoy guarding Western approaches of Gonzalez flats. No light or radio beacon. Continuous soundings are the best guide when approaching the banks because the buoys are very small and most of them are unlit. A buoyed channel consisting of 21 light buoys to the berth. A number of them are also unlit.

Rio Nunez Fairway: From the sea buoy to buoys No. 1 and 2: dredged to a depth of 12 m. (39 ft. 4 in.).

From buoys 1 and 2 to buoys 8 and 9: dredged to a depth of 9 m. (29 ft. 6 in.).

From buoys 8 and 9 to buoys 16 and 17 (turning basin): dredged to a depth of 8·10 m. (26 ft. 3 in.).

In the turning basin and inner anchorage, the minimum depth reported is 7·75 m. (25 ft. 5 in.). Alongside the loading terminal, the minimum depth is 13 m. (42 ft. 8 in.) at LLW.

Remark: With a draft of 39 ft. 6 in. and a tidal range of 16 ft. we felt the bottom (soft mud) after leaving the pier, just before entering the channel. The minimum clearance required under the keel is 2 ft.

Tidal streams: 2 to 3 knots during neap tides, but occasionally 6 knots during spring tides and rainly season.

When leaving Kamsar with a deep draft, caution should be exercised to avoid the 5 fathoms shoal (position: 10° 27.8′ N. 14° 44.5′ W.) as we found only 28 ft. above B.A. chart datum at that place.

Tidal streams: N.N.E. on rising tide; S.S.W. on falling tide. Rate of 2 to 3 knots.

ANCHORAGE: Vessels anchor in the vicinity of No. 8 buoy. Depth at low water 7·75 m. The nature of the bottom is mud and sand.

MAX. SIZE: Max. LOA 735 ft. Max. beam 110 ft. The maximum draft depends on height of tide and may be calculated by using the following:

8·10 m. (26 ft. 7 in.) + Height of tide — 2ft.

| HW Springs | 17 ft. 0 in. |
| ,, Neaps | 13 ft. 2 in. |
| LW Springs | 2 ft. 5 in. |

HEALTH: Health Authorities board with the Pilot.

All crew-members must be in possession of valid certificates of vaccination against smallpox, yellow fever and cholera.

Watchkeeping hours: 0800–1200 and 1600–1800. When approaching Rio Nunez estuary, contact Pilot on VHF Channel 16.

Vessels are requested to inform Office d'Administration de Boké (Ofab Kamsar or Ofab Conakry if Kamsar radio not available) seven days prior to arrival and at noon ship's time every other day.

TUGS: One tug available, 825 h.p. Tug is required for berthing and recommended for unberthing.

BERTHING: Berthing and unberthing is permitted day and night. The latest time for unberthing is one hour before high water. Berthing takes place at slack water (20 mins. after HW).

Bauxite Loading Terminal: Max. permissible draft at LW is 42 ft. 8 in., max. permissible length 735 ft.

There are heavy duty fender dolphins about 2 m. off the quay with steel bitts for the springs. Head lines, stern lines and breast lines are secured to heavy steel swivel hooks on the quay.

Vessels always berth portside alongside.

Each vessel receives the following letter: "Due to the tidal conditions that prevail alongside the bauxite loading wharf, it is essential that vessels be moored with heavy duty lines which should be tended at all times to ensure that an even tension is maintained. If a vessel is allowed to fall off the dock, loading operations will immediately cease and the vessel will be placed off hire. On a recent occasion, a vessel broke all her moorings, endangering the shiploading tower".

The minimum mooring required is:

Fore: 2 single ropes at first;
2 double ropes on the winches;
2 heavy springs.
Aft: 1 single rope at first;
1 double rope on the bitts;
Minimum 2 double ropes on the winches (3 double lines are strongly recommended, each ready to heave!);
2 heavy springs.

During ebb tide, a strong current hit the portside quarter at an angle of about 25° with the pier.

At least two good watchmen are necessary to check continuously the moorings, due to the high tidal range and the fast loading rate.

Alignment of the pier: 197° (incorrectly charted!)

Alignment of the jetty: about 250°.

There are also two piers for smaller vessels. Max. length 100 m., max. draft 5·2 m. at HW. Vessels aground at LW.

SPECIAL CARGO-HANDLING FACILITIES: There is an ultra-modern tower which moves over a distance of 165 m. With a stretchable arm which works to a maximum angle of 15° above the horizontal.

Vessels must be suitable to load without trimming.

Headroom under loading arm 61 ft. (18·59 m.) at LW. 48 ft. (14·63 m.) at HW spring tides.

Loading Rates: Nominal 4,250 metric tons/hour. 2,000 metric tons/hour in April 1974, expected to be 3,300 metric tons/hour by November 1974.

MEDICAL: Services available at local hospital. Doctor will call on vessel but only in an emergency.

Haiti

CAP HAITIEN: 19.46 N. 72.12 W.

GENERAL: For all general information refer to "Port-au-Prince".

APPROACHES: The current is about 3 knots in the entrance to the port when the river is in flood.

ANCHORAGE: Vessels which are unable to moor alongside because of deeper draft are anchored off the wharf.

BERTHING: The wharf at Cap Haitien was constructed by the Compania Industrial Maritima. The construction is in reinforced concrete. It extends for a length of 900 ft. in an Easterly direction and comprises three sections. The most important section is 600 ft. long and has berths for deep sea vessels on the South side in depths of 20 ft. The Western section, nearest the shore, is 300 ft. long with variable depths of 7 to 9 ft. alongside, with berths for motor vessels of small tonnage and sailing ships. The central section accommodates the customs offices. Two metal warehouses border the East and West ends of the wharf. Between the warehouses is one fixed crane of 30 tons capacity.

FUEL: Not available.

MIRAGOANE: 18.25 N. 73.04 W.

GENERAL: For all general information refer to "Port-au-Prince".

BERTHING: The facilities at Miragoane are one small jetty for loading and discharging general cargo with a depth alongside of 18 ft. maximum.

There is a wharf for loading bauxite, belonging to the Reynolds Company, with a depth alongside of 34 ft. Total annual export about 350,000 tons.

PORT-AU-PRINCE: 18.33 N. 72.21 W.

APPROACHES: The port of Port-au-Prince is situated at the extreme South-east of the bay. It can be approached from the North and from the South by two channels.

One may approach from the North-east by the Saint-Marc channel or from the West by the Gonave channel, between Trou-Forban Point and the village of Ca-Ira. The bay extends between Trou-Forban Point in the North and the village of Ca-Ira about 20 miles to the South. The position of Ca-Ira is 18° 32′ N. 72° 39′ W. From Ca-Ira the South coast of the bay extends about 2 miles North-east and about 12 miles East to Pointe Lamentin.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage is compulsory for all movements of ships in the port. The Pilot boards to the West of the fairway buoy and is accompanied by port officials, i.e. Port Doctor and Representatives of Immigration, Police and Customs. These officials insist on using the accommodation ladder to board the vessel. Masters must arrange with their respective Agents the time which they will require a Pilot to leave the port. If they are ready to depart before the hour arranged they may call the Pilot by three blasts of the ship's whistle.

ANCHORAGE: Vessels must anchor to the West of the large red buoy number 29 or at the quarantine buoy, situated about ½-mile N.N.W. of buoy number 29. A bottom of sand over coral is to be found all over this region in depths of 10 to 18 fathoms.

Vessels may anchor or depart at any hour of the day or night.

In order to facilitate the rapid movement of vessels, these are normally anchored in order of arrival.

WEATHER: The bay of Port-au-Prince is nearly always calm except at certain times of the year; for example, during the months from May to November, occasional strong winds may interrupt normal loading and discharging movements.

A light breeze from the East or North-east blows after dawn, but in the afternoon a breeze three times stronger blows in the opposite direction.

The height of tide is only 1½ ft. Currents in the port are almost negligible, except that, when mooring or unmooring a vessel, one should pay attention to a Northerly current of about ¼ of a knot.

RADIO: All deep-sea vessels which enter the territorial waters of Haiti are obliged to advise the Port Radio Station.

The radio station is situated at the Bureau de Port. It is in operation 24 hours a day.

Visual light signalling may also be carried out as far as it is possible to do this.

The following apparatus is used at the radio station:

1. VHF Channels 11, 12, 13, 14 and 16, power 50 watts, range 40 miles.
2. Medium frequency "Pearce-Simpson" amplitude moderation, frequencies 2,182 kc/s., 2,738 kc s., power 85 watts, range about 200 miles.

In addition to the VHF Channels, the Pilots may use radio-telephone on the following frequencies:

2,182 kc/s., 2,638 kc s., 2,738 kc/s., 2,770 kc/s., and 2,806 kc/s.

All messages addressed to the Port Authorities and messages concerning pilotage must be handled at this radio station.

Masters are particularly required to give the radio station, as soon as they arrive, the following information:

Vessel's draft and net tonnage, amount of cargo for discharge, number of gangs required.

The telephone number of the radio station is 23235.

TUGS: The port has at present one small tug. At all times two wooden mooring launches, each 32 ft. long, are available for Pilot's use.

BERTHING: A finger pier is under construction for cruising liners.

The commercial quay is a construction of reinforced concrete supported by wooden piles, encased in concrete, with traverse wooden fendering.

The quay is orientated in an East–West direction and is constructed in three sections.

Quay No. 1 – South side – length 453 ft. with depth alongside of 12–17 ft.
Quay No. 2 – central sections – length 540 ft. with depth alongside 17–23 ft.
Quay No. 3 – Seaward section – length 640 ft. with depth alongside 23–28 ft.

There is an angular portion of 100 ft. between Quays No. 1 and 2 which may not be used for mooring, but which the bow of the ship may overhang. Vessels must be secured by at least two mooring cables at the bow and at the stern.

The Port Authorities require for vessels manoeuvring in the port a minimum of 2 ft. of water under the keel. This regulation may be modified by special authorisation of the Chef de Port.

In addition to the public pier, there are five jetties belonging to private companies used for handling products in bulk. These jetties belong to the following companies:

A. La Hasco, sugar refinery established at Port-au-Prince.
B. La Minoterie, flour mill situated at Laffiteau.
C. Le Ciment d'Haiti SA, cement factory situated at Fonds Mombin.
D. Jean Ackmed, fuel installation situated at Simonette.

The above jetties are established on the North side of the bay.

E. Installations of Shell Company and Tropigas on the South side of the bay, equipped with their own mooring buoys for tankers.

CARGO HANDLING: For vessels loading and discharging at the public pier, cargo is transported on railway trucks of 25 tons maximum capacity.

One quay is equipped for container ships. One quay is equipped to handle roll-on/roll-off traffic.

STEVEDORES: Loading and discharging of ships is carried out by gangs of private workers who are engaged by the ship's Agents under the supervision of a chief stevedore. The working gangs use the ship's own equipment for loading and discharge.

Handling rates are normally about 15 tons per hour for general cargo, or about 25 tons per hour for heavy articles, such as drums, planks, bundles of steel rods, etc.

Normal working hours in the port are 0700 to 1200 and 1300 to 1600. Overtime is payable for work required before 0700 and after 1600 hours, and also for work required during Saturday afternoon, Sundays and holidays.

FRESH WATER: Drinking water is available in the port; however, the ship must provide its own connections. Rate of loading varies from 4 to 10 tons per hour.

FUEL: There is no service for coal bunkers. Fuel oil may be supplied by barge.

REPAIRS: There are no proper facilities for ship's repairs although minor repairs may be effected by small private workshops ashore. There is a small dry dock at Bizoton about 1 mile from the port, with a capacity of about 1,000 tons and able to receive vessels up to 175 ft. in length. This yard is managed by the Haitian Army Coast Guard.

MEDICAL: There are adequate medical facilities, pharmacies and hospitals.

AIRPORT: An international airport for jet planes connects Haiti with New York via Kingston, Montego Bay or San Juan. A local air service connects Port-au-Prince with principal towns of the Republic.

FIRE-FIGHTING EQUIPMENT: The Port Authority does not own any equipment for fire-fighting or assisting vessels in need. However, there is a town fire service organised by the Army.

HOLIDAYS: Legal Holidays:

Independence Day (1st and 2nd January); Labour Day (1st May); Flag Day (18th May); Ascension Day; Assumption (15th August); All Saints (1st November); Commemoration Day (13th November); Discovery of Haiti (5th December).

SERVICES: Fresh provisions are obtainable locally.

There are no facilities for refuse collection, but nevertheless it is forbidden to throw refuse, cinders or any other polluting material overboard.

Launches used for the transport of tourists are available at Port-au-Prince and these are operated by private companies. The Port Authority does not take an active part in the traffic of tourist passengers. Those which disembark on the wharf from cargo vessels or cruising liners must make their way on foot to the taxi station to take part in excursion tours. However, the majority of tourists coming on passenger liners anchored in the roads disembark by launches belonging to the Department of Tourism. They disembark at the Quai Colomb, which is under the authority of the Department of Tourism.

APPROACHES: A. (Dry-cargo vessels): The approaches are reasonably free from hazards and are well marked by day or night. Vessels working at buoys with drafts up to 29 ft. are requested to enter port via the Western Entrance. Other vessels with drafts up to 36 ft. by Lei Yue Mun entrance.

B. (Tankers): The tankers which berth at the Esso Company installation at Tsing Yi, and at the Mobil installation, also at Tsing Yi enter the harbour, but with the exception of the approaches to the Esso Terminal which was specially dredged for the purposes of accommodating vessels at 42 ft. draft, there is no limitation on depth save that at the individual berth.

C. Buoyage. The system of buoyage used in Hong Kong harbour conforms to the uniform system of maritime buoyage adopted by the lighthouse authorities in Britain. The main stream of flood tide within the harbour limits is from East to West and buoyage is laid accordingly. Several terrestrial navigational beacons within the waters of Hong Kong are also painted to conform with the uniform system of maritime buoyage.

PILOTAGE: Although pilotage is not compulsory in the port, pilots licensed by the Pilotage Board are available to board ships at either entrance on request. The Hong Kong Pilotage Association, provide pilotage services. Pilots generally board in-bound ships using the Eastern entrance in the vicinity of the Lei Yue Mun turning buoy (latitude 22° 16.4′ North, longitude 114° 16.3′ East) and disembark at the same point from outward-bound ships. At the Western entrance, pilots embark and disembark to the West of Green Island. It is a contravention of regulation 3(1) of the Merchant Shipping (Control of Ports) Regulations, for any vessel to pick up or discharge a Pilot within a distance of 7·5 cables from the centre of either the Lei Yue Mun Pass or Sulphur Channel. Maximum speed inside harbour, 8 knots.

ANCHORAGES: Examination anchorages (quarantine and immigration) for clearance inwards are situated within the harbour limits to cover the entry of shipping from East and West. The principal dangerous goods anchorages are situated at the Western end of the harbour and at Pun Shan Sek (tankers), whilst there are others at Junk Bay, Tsuen Wan and Rocky Harbour.

An anchorage for the discharge of logs has been designated. This was necessary because logs, which were being discharged and stored within harbour limits were endangering small craft, waterside installations and navigation.

The Western examination anchorage works 24 hours a day whereas the Eastern examination anchorage works from 0700–1900 hours.

See also "Shipmaster's Report".

MAX. SIZE: Largest vessels calling regularly have been, dry-cargo: container vessels, length 965 ft., with drafts up to 40 ft.; tankers length 776 ft., draft 42 ft. Maximum size governed by draft of vessel. No limit as to length and beam. Draft in harbour: "A" class buoys 25 ft. to 44 ft. "B" Class buoys 18 ft. to 27 ft.

PRATIQUE: The following conditions must be fulfilled before radio pratique can be granted: The ship must not have called at an infected port within 14 days prior to arrival at Hong Kong. There must be not more than 24 passengers on board at the time of arrival, provided that a vessel carrying more than 24 passengers may, at the discretion of the Chief Port Health Officer, be granted radio pratique if there is a ship's doctor on board.

The Master must furnish the following information to the Port Health Office not more than 20 hours and not less than eight hours before his expected time of arrival at Hong Kong:

1. ports of call during the 14 days prior to arrival;
2. number of passengers on board;
3. a statement that all persons on board are healthy and in possession of valid international certificates of vaccination against smallpox;
4. a statement indicating whether any case of infectious disease has occurred on board during the voyage;
5. whether any person on board is sick;
6. the date of issue of the derating or derating exemption certificates.

Note 1: Shipping companies or agents must send their applications for radio pratique in writing and, if granted, will be responsible for notifying the master concerned.

Note 2: Maritime declarations of health and passenger and crew lists must be collected by the shipping companies or agents and forwarded to the Port Health Office within 24 hours of the ship's arrival.

Note 3: Ships granted radio pratique will be required to display the following signal on arrival in the quarantine anchorage: Day: International code flag "TO". Night: Three white lights in a vertical line six feet apart.

Note 4: The Master of the ship concerned will be held responsible for the accuracy of the statements contained in his cablegram requesting radio pratique.

Port Health. The hours of duty of port health officers in the examination anchorages are similar to those of the Immigration Department. The Port Health launch exhibits the international code flag "Q" by day and a red light over a white light at night. The appropriate quarantine signal should be flown by a vessel until the Port Health Officer has completed his inspection.

IMMIGRATION: Immigration formalities take place at the Eastern or Western examination anchorages after clearance by the Port Health authorities. Immigration launches are on duty 24 hours a day in the Western anchorage and from 0630 to 1800 in the Eastern anchorage throughout the year.

RADIO: Cable Agent via Radio Hong Kong call sign "VPS".

Signal Stations. Four signal stations operated by the Marine Department are situated in the Eastern and Western approaches to, or within, the harbour limits as follows:

Eastern approaches: Waglan Island, (latitude 22° 11′ North, longitude 114° 18.1′ East). Western approaches: Green Island (latitude 22° 17.1′ North, longitude 114° 06.5′ East).

Marine Department Port Communications Centre, Lat. 22° 17.4′ North, Long. 114° 11.8′ East. North Point Signal Station, Lat. 22° 17.7′ North, Long. 114° 11.8′ East.

These stations are manned 24 hours a day throughout the year and contact can be made by means of international code flags or by signal lamp. In addition, the Marine Department Headquarters Signal Station can be contacted by VHF radio-telephone on Hague Plan Channel 12. Communication between the stations is provided by radio, land-line telephone and a teleprinter circuit.

It is mandatory for the Master of every ship arriving within signalling distance of any of the above signal stations to hoist the national colours and (if one shall exist) the house flag and the signal letters of the ship, and to identify the vessel to the signal station by visual signals if requested. On recognition of a ship in the approaches to Hong Kong, the name is immediately relayed to the Port Control Office of the Marine Department, and the ship's owners or agents can be notified on request.

Wireless Telegraphy: Radio communication apparatus on board a merchant vessel is not permitted to be used while the vessel is within Hong Kong territorial waters except in the following circumstances:

When a vessel is proceeding through Hong Kong territorial waters such apparatus may be used to communicate on minimum power with the nearest coast station or, if communication with the nearest coast station is impracticable and the safe navigation of the vessel so requires, with a more distant coast station or another vessel;

For the purpose of summoning assistance on an occasion of danger to the life of any person or to the vessel;

For the purpose of carrying out experimental tests for which permission in writing must first be obtained.

Broadcasting arrangements—Typhoon Warnings: After the hoisting of local storm signal No. 8 or above, Radio Hong Kong and Commercial Radio will extend their hours of operation and simultaneously broadcast typhoon warnings in English and Chinese at two minutes to the hour and half past the hour precisely, throughout the day and night. Warnings in English will be broadcast by an announcer at each station; warnings in Chinese will be broadcast by a Chinese announcer from the Radio Hong Kong booth at the Royal Observatory. On certain occasions these arrangements will come into force should local storm signal No. 3 remain hoisted at the time when the radio stations normally close. The foregoing arrangements continue until the signal drops below No. 8 once again.

Frequencies: Radio Hong Kong (English Service) 545 kHz., 91 kHz.; (Chinese Service) 640 kHz., 94 kHz. Commercial Radio (English Service) 1530 kHz., 196 kHz.; (Chinese Service No. 1) 1050 kHz.; 1170 kHz.

VHF: Control Station, Hong Kong Port Radio call sign "Mardep" Channel 12. 24 hours listening watch. Range up to 35 miles.

Maritime VHF Radio-telephone Service (Hague Plan): This service operates in Hong Kong on two international channels, Nos. 16 and 26. Channel 16 (156.8 mc/s) is the simplex distress and calling frequency on which contact is made between shore and ship before changing over to the public correspondence channel, No. 26. The latter is a duplex channel and Hong Kong transmits on 161.9 mc/s and receives from ships on 157.3 mc/s.

Local connection to the service is via the Hong Kong Telephone Company and is made in the same way as for overseas radiotelephone calls by dialling "100". The local operator should then be informed that a telephone call is required on "the Maritime VHF Hague Plan Service". The operator will ask for details of the call, such as the name of the ship and the person required, and will then connect the call via Cable & Wireless. Calls can also be sent from ship to shore. The range is about 50 miles and the service is available at all times of the day and night.

Harbour phones: Cable & Wireless Ltd., on behalf of the Hong Kong Telephone Company, will install and maintain VHF radiotelephones on ships at buoys in the harbour for the duration of a ship's stay in port. Calls may be made between any two ships so equipped, and between a ship and any telephone number on the Hong Kong or Kowloon exchanges.

TUGS: Available for berthing and unberthing. Advance booking is required. See Table B on p. 273.

BERTHING: Berthing of dry-cargo vessels alongside wharf can be performed any time during day and night. Berthing at tanker wharf not permissible after sunset. Ships carrying explosives must obtain permission from the Marine Department before berthing is alloted.

When berthing at Kowloon Wharf signals will be exhibited on the signal station on top of the Kowloon Star Ferry pier. Code flag Y by day and one green light over red light at night indicates anchor and await instructions. Crossed bamboo poles on which are displaced code flags N and B, when sited at the end of a pier denotes that the vessel is required to berth stern to the praya wall.

Boatmen. Labour to handle ships' mooring lines when berthing and unberthing at any of the wharves in Hong Kong waters is supplied by the owners of the wharf concerned, the cost being included in the berthing fee. For berthing at a Marine Department mooring buoy it is usual for the ship's agent to arrange for boatmen to handle the ship's slip wire and anchor cable, unless the ship's crew undertake this task. The services of boatmen are generally obtained through the Hong Kong Pilotage Association. For night berthing two boats are normally required—one to handle the wire and cable and the other to provide a lighted marker for the mooring buoy.

Mooring Buoys. See "Max. size." All ships are required to secure to Marine Department mooring buoys by their chain cable. The maximum length of a ship permitted to berth at an "A" class mooring is 600 ft., the swing circle encompassing each buoy having a radius of 700 ft. The maximum length of a ship permitted to berth at a "B" class mooring is 450 ft., the radius of swing circle around such buoys being 550 ft. It is therefore within the limits of safety for a vessel, when secured to a Marine Department mooring, to slack out to "one shackle on the windlass" and still clear ships berthed at adjacent buoys, except in exceptional circumstances. As all Marine Department moorings are of the one-legged type, it is permissible, should circumstances make it necessary, for a ship, when attempting to secure to a mooring, to drop an anchor at not less than 50 feet from the buoy without fouling the mooring chain. It should be noted, however, that moorings sited within the man-of-war anchorage and the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company's private mooring H.W.D. No. 1 in Hung Hom Bay are either of the two or three-legged type, and it is therefore not permissible to use an anchor when berthing.

44 "A" class mooring buoys and 29 "B" class mooring buoys for ocean going vessels. Additionally two "B" class mooring buoys available at Yam O Bay, Lantan Island, for vessels with cargoes of logs.

| Cargo | Place | Load tons per gang hour | Discharge tons per gang hour |
|---|---|---|---|
| General | Wharf | 12 | 15 |
| General | Stream | 10 | 12 |
| Bale or bag | Wharf | 20 | 25 |
| Bale or bag | Stream | 15 | 20 |

Stevedores work 24 hours per day except Mid-Autumn Festival and Chinese New Year Holidays.

TANKERS: Any leaking of oil to water will be subjected to heavy fines. If not gas-freed, not allowed through harbour. Maximum draft for berthing 42 ft. See Table A on p. 273.

DENSITY: 1017.

FRESH WATER: Available but the supply is sometimes limited, depending on the storage levels in Hong Kong's reservoirs. The supply to ships is made at commercial wharves and from water boats. See Table C on p. 273.

FUEL: Excellent facilities exist for bunkering vessels with fuel oil and coal. Fuel oil can be obtained either at the wharves adjacent to the oil installation, or from harbour oilers owned and operated by the oil companies. Fuel oil from these vessels can be pumped on board without impeding cargo operations. Adequate stocks of good quality bunker coal suitable for coal-fired marine boilers are maintained in the port. Fuel oil available with viscosity up to 1,000 sec. Redwood. 24 hours notice for supply is required. Also gas oil and marine diesel available. See Table D on p. 274.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: The Fire Services Department operates fire floats. One of these, the "Alexander Grantham" is one of the largest and most powerful in the world, being equipped with machinery capable of pumping 10,500 gallons a minute at a pressure of 90 lb. per square inch through a battery of monitors. This vessel is equipped to deal with any type of fire on any size vessel, and is designed to operate both in the port and at sea.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: Not compulsory but recommended.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: Usually performed by ship's crew.

CERTIFICATES: Following certificates to be presented to the Marine Office before clearance could be granted:

Ship's Register and/or Tonnage Certificate.
Load Line Certificate.
Radio Certificate.
Safety Construction Certificate.
Safety Equipment Certificate.
Derating Certificate or Derat Exempt Certificate.
Last Port Clearance.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: In-Port Duty-Free Consumption: The issue of stores will be based on the scheduled stay in port or seven days, whichever is the shorter period, and calculated as follows: Tobacco: 30 cigarettes or five cigars or two ounces of pipe tobacco per person per day. Liquor: Quarter pint of Spirit or one pint of table wine or three quarts of beer or stout per person per day. In addition, for officers and saloon passengers, a quarter pint in all of port, sherry, liqueur.

Duty-free allowances for disembarking passengers: Passengers from ports other than Macao disembarking in Hong Kong may be exempted duty on one quart of wine or spirit, and one half pound of tobacco, or 200 cigarettes, or 50 cigars. For members of any vessel and passengers in direct transit through the Colony the duty-free allowance is 20 cigarettes or two ounces of pipe tobacco per person on disembarkation.

Dutiable goods allowed in possession of passengers and crews: No passenger in or crew member of any ship or aircraft, while such ship or aircraft is in Hong Kong, without the permission of the Director of Commerce and Industry, shall have in his possession, custody or control on board such ship or aircraft any dutiable liquor or tobacco in excess of the quantities stated hereunder:

A Seaman's Certificate of Nationality and Identity is issued at the Immigration Department only to seamen of British nationality, whereas the Seaman's Discharge Book and the Seaman's Identity Book may also be issued to alien seamen. It is the equivalent of a British passport and no visa is required for return to Hong Kong.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT: Information concerning approach to and mooring at the port of Hong Kong:

Vessels approaching Hong Kong should keep in mind that they are in Red Chinese Territory if they are farther South than 22° 09′ N. Approaching Hong Kong through Lema Channel, it is hardly possible to avoid penetrating this border, because the coast is heavily infested with fishing vessels.

Red China has a signal station on Tan Kan Shan Island. This signal station complains about every penetration of their territory by signal lamp, therefore, most of the ships calling at Hong Kong regularly prefer to enter through Eastern entrance even though there is no clearance available between 1900 and 0600 (at Eastern quarantine anchorage) and the additional disadvantage of crossing the congested Hong Kong inner harbour to anchor at Western quarantine station. The requirement of the Hong Kong Harbour Board, to approach through Lama Channel, is just a recommendation to cut down on the traffic in the inner harbour.

When approaching, vessels might be called by VHF or light from Wang Lan Island. Replies can be made on VHF Channel 12. Pilots maintain a 24-hour service at both entrances. They can be called on VHF Channel 11.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage should be arranged in advance through ship's local Agent who may be contacted via the port radio, call-sign VUJ-9. An ETA should be sent at least 48 hours in advance in order to arrange Pilot. Pilotage is compulsory. Pilot boat does not have VHF, but may be contacted by light or flag signals. Pilot station is 4·5 miles N.N.E. of Piram Island Lighthouse and pilot boat will only be on station when the vessel is scheduled to arrive. If, however, at future date it becomes necessary to find suitable anchorages for vessels more than 32 ft., this area is likely to be farther Eastward (about 3 to 4 miles) from present anchorage area and this is likely to raise fresh problem of operation of lighters due to increase in distance involved. At present the issue has not arisen as the maximum limit of draft of 32 ft. is fixed for vessels at anchorage. All vessels at anchorage are loaded and discharged by means of lighters.

Pilot boards vessel Sandheads from pilot vessel fitted with W/T, DF, radar, echo sounder and other navigational equipment, maintains continuous watch on 500 kc/s. (600 metres) and receives ETA messages of incoming vessels.

As an aid to navigation, navigable channel in river is marked with lights and channel buoys. There is a lighthouse at Saugor and downstream from this point, 3 attended Light Vessels are stationed at the Western Channel and 2 unattended Light Vessels at Gabtola and Lower Long Sand at Sandheads. Navigable channel leading to port from sea is about 126 miles long. 14 bars are in different reaches of river, 11 of these are upstream of Diamond Harbour and remaining 3 in estuary below Diamond Harbour. Since these bars are subject to fluctuations and there are sharp bends in river, the navigation of ships between port and Sea requires services of trained Pilots employed by Port Commissioners. River Pilots take charge of vessels at Sandheads, navigate to Garden Reach and then make over to harbour Pilots who manoeuvre vessels to riverside jetties, moorings or dock berths. Movement of ships inside docks guided by Berthing Masters.

ANCHORAGES: Anchorage in River Hooghly at Saugor Roads, Haldia, Kalpi, Diamond Harbour, Royapur, Ulubaria and Garden Reach of which Royapur, Ulubaria and Garden Reach utilised only by ships on passage to and from the port in emergency. Depths of anchorages vary on day to day basis according to River Draft Forecast but on average 30 ft. deep.

Deepest draft alongside dock berths in Nataji Subhas and Kidderpore Docks 30 ft. At Budge Budge deepest draft at any berth also 30 ft. Berthing of vessels, depends on prevailing draft of day published in Draft Forecast for month.

PRATIQUE: Procedure for obtaining pratique: To obtain Radio Pratique incoming vessels communicate by wireless to Port Health Officer, Calcutta, Cable address: "Quarantine Calcutta":

(d) No abnormal mortality of rats or mice on board.
(e) No monkey on board.

(Item (a) to be sent in code under usual standard quarantine messages required by ships; rest in plain language through local wireless station.)

Vessels berthed at riverside jetties or river moorings required to have starboard anchor unshackled in order that stbd chain could be tied to buoy. Vessels at river jetties and river moorings if left during Bore Tide are to comply with following:

Half an hour before low water:

(a) Gangway to be hoisted up.
(b) Pipelines disconnected and triced up (for vessels at Budge Budge Jetty).
(c) Heave tight on forward chains to keep vessel about 6 ft. off pontoon. Make sure weight is on bore springs and not on chains aft.
(d) Tighten all buoy ropes.
(e) When bores expected, all vessels in stream shall have steam on main engines, windlasses and winches and a sufficient number of officers and crew on board to tend vessel in case of emergency.

After bore made, and vessel stopped ranging, slack forward chains to old mark. Bore springs could be had through Agents from local suppliers.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. tobacco and 200 cigarettes. Wine and/or Spirit: One bottle of wine or spirit per head for consumption on board.

CONTRABAND: Regulations provide that a vessel shall be liable to confiscation which is or has been in Indian Customs' waters where constructed, adapted, altered or fitted in any manner for the purpose of concealing goods.

The act also provides for a fine in lieu of confiscation which could in theory be up to the value of the vessel.

Indian Customs Authorities regard vessels as subject to the regulations if they have any alterations to the normal structure of the vessel or its fittings which is not of operational value, e.g. holes cut in panelling (over bulkheads) which are frequently found concealed from view behind cabin furniture such as settees, bunks, desks, wardrobes, etc. Customs invariably impose fines for such cavities even though empty of about Rs. 5,000/- for one or two cavities and increasing if more cavities are found. Fines would be substantially higher if cavities in fact contained contraband.

To minimise fines it is essential that Shipowners should instruct their Masters to organise periodic anti-smuggling searches of all accommodation and other places in the vessel by ship's officers with a view to locating any cavities or contraband and such searches, and results thereof, should be logged. Furthermore, the Customs Authorities invariably obtain a statement from the occupant of the cabin whether instructions had been issued by the Owners or Master for each officer crew member to search his own cabin for cavities or hiding places or other unusual or irregular tampering with the normal structure of the cabin and to report to the Master any such cavities, hiding-places or such other unusual tampering found at any time whilst serving on the vessel.

If no such instructions have been issued, the Customs generally regard the Owners/Master as failing to take proper anti-smuggling precautions and the risk of increased Customs fines arises.

It is suggested that appropriate instructions should accordingly be issued without delay by all Masters to their officers and crews and that each officer or crew member should acknowledge receipt in writing of such instructions. It is also emphasised that such instructions should also be notified to any officer or crew members who joins the vessel after first issue of the instructions to the existing officers and crew.

CARGO GEAR: Proof of cargo gear tested by a competent authority required.

For oil tankers max. permissible overall length is 620 ft.

Draft according to water on the bar varies between 28 and 31 ft.

Shipmaster's Report: Max. draft, chart datum (= 13 ft.) + rise of tide.

PRATIQUE: The Masters of all ships arriving at Kandla are required to send the Port Health Officer, Kandla (cable address "Sandgrodh") a wireless message embodying all applicable terms of information set out in the Standard Quarantine message of the International Code of Signals. In addition to the International Code message, Masters are also required to give the following information in plain language:

(a) Whether there is any abnormal mortality of rats or mice.
(b) Whether there is any monkey on board.
(c) Whether touched or embarked at Aden or Djibouti any person.
(d) Names of all ports touched en-route within preceeding thirty days, with dates of departure.
(e) Request for radio pratique.

Upon anchoring Pilot Station, cable again Sandgrodh stating time anchored and requesting radio pratique.

In cases where the vessels have touched any yellow fever area within preceeding 30 days it is necessary for Master, for good order sake, to certify that all officers and crew/passengers on board possess valid yellow-fever certificates.

The Pilot Officer boarding is authorised to grant free pratique on completion of the Maritime Declaration of Health signed by the Master in cases where vessels have failed to obtain radio pratique for any reason. If the Maritime Declaration is not in order, the Pilot refers the Master to the Port Health Officer who then boards the vessel and grants free pratique after his inspection of the vessel.

RADIO: Within a range of 35 hours off Kandla, vessels can contact Kandla Radio on call sign VWK. Before 35 hours off, Kandla can be contacted through Bombay Radio only.

TUGS: Port tugs join ships inside harbour off berth. Ship's wires used.

BERTHING: The cargo jetty provides five alongside-berths with total quayage of 3,825 ft. which can accommodate ships drawing up to 30 ft. loaded draft. The cargo jetty is served with 21 electric level luffing cranes, 16 of 3 tonnes, 4 of 6 tonnes and 1 of 10 tonnes capacity for handling cargo from ships.

Three mooring berths are available near the cargo jetty. In addition, there are separate moorings for (a) ships loading salt, (b) special mooring, (c) deep draft mooring for ships up to 37 ft. draft.

The Bunder basin has two wharves, each with transit shed. The South wharf is served with four quay electric level-luffing cranes of 3 to 10 tons capacity for handling cargo from lighters. The West wharf is provided with a 60 tons capacity electric gantry crane.

STEVEDORES: Minimum 24 hours notice required for arranging stevedoring labour and gangs. Bulk fertiliser and grain average 1,000 tons and 1,500 tons respectively. Mooring to this buoy is effected by use of the vessel's starboard anchor chain, so that the anchor has to be disconnected from the chain before entering.

In securing alongside the oil-pier, tankers are required to utilise one insurance wire fore and aft as supplied from shore. In addition vessel is required to use all her available ropes and wires owing to strong currents – 4 head-ropes, 2 breast-ropes, 2 springs.

No necessity for any vessel to obtain free pratique when she arrives directly from any Indian port.
RADIO: Radio station call sign VWV. Working round clock. Range about 600 miles during daytime and 1,000 miles during night. Better to use Madras Radio station for all communications in respect of vessels arriving from Madras side. Vessels coming from Calcutta side, use Calcutta Radio. Generally Visakhapatnam Radio station used for vessels anchored at roadstead. VHF Channel 16.
TUGS: For ships entering the port, the tugs wait in the lee of the breakwater. Ship's lines and/or tug's lines are used, depending upon the mode of making fast.

SPECIALISED CARGO HANDLING FACILITIES: WOB–1 and WOB–2 Berths – for the export of iron ore through a mechanical ore-handling plant capable of loading at the rate of 3,200 tph.

Fertiliser Berth – for the import of fertiliser, raw materials, viz. sulphur and rock phosphate, by grab unloading.

OR–1 and OR–2 Berths – for the import and export of P.O.L.

Q–1 and Q–2 Berths – for the export of manganese ore and other ores by semi-mechanical means.

BERTHING: No specific requirements of arrival times for berthing.

STEVEDORES: Agents must give proper notice of vessel's arrival to the stevedores not less than 48 hours to make necessary arrangements for working vessel and also to order sufficient gangs, etc.

MEDICAL: All crew and officers must possess individual international vaccination certificates against smallpox and cholera before leaving this port for any foreign port. Smallpox vaccination and cholera inoculation facilities available within 24 hours notice. Well-equipped hospital facilities available round the clock.

TANKERS: Two berths OR I and OR II for discharging and loading oil A/c Caltex Oil Refining (India) Ltd., maximum permissible draft at these berths 33 ft.

DENSITY: Fluctuates from day to day between 1020 and 1023.

FRESH WATER: Normal quantities available and delivery made by Port Trust both from shore and barges.

FUEL: Esso, Indian Oil Corporation and Caltex, Bombay, to be contacted for particulars of stocks, etc., as local offices controlled by them.

DEVELOPMENTS:

Outer Harbour Project:

1 The Outer Harbour will have a set of breakwaters to form a protected basin. The Southern part of the basin will permit entry and berthing of 100,000 dwt ships fully loaded, initially. This would ultimately be developed to take 200,000 dwt vessels or even more. The Northern part of the basin will be suitable for use as a large fishing harbour.

2 It will have a finger-type berth for iron-ore loading, designed to handle 200,000 dwt vessels ultimately, providing facility for berthing of two vessels on either side of the jetty at the same time. There will also be room for three additional general cargo/container berths for 60,000 dwt ships which could be brought into commission in future by reclaiming the area between the fishing harbour basin and outer harbour basins.

3 The ore loaded at the outer harbour berth will be conveyed through a conveyor system and necessary steps will be taken to eliminate the dust nuisance to the utmost extent.

4 The outer harbour project has been designed to load 100,000 dwt vessels at 8,000 tonnes per hour initially. This can be increased to 12,000 tonnes per hour and 16,000 tonnes per hour to load 150,000 and 200,000 dwt vessels respectively when such a demand builds up. A stockpile capacity of 30 days supply on the basis of the levels of shipment will be provided. The receiving system including the two existing dumpers and additional railways and shunting locos can handle about 10 million tonnes of iron ore per year from the mines. With a third dumper, the capacity could be increased to 15 million tonnes.

5 Provision will be made to the installation of a screening and/or calibrating plant and pallet plant, in future.

6 The project includes navigation aids, harbour craft, as well as other ancillary facilities required for operation of the outer harbour.

The Outer Harbour Project is likely to be completed by May, 1974.

The Outer Harbour will be the deepest harbour in the country with a draft of 62 ft. (18·6 m.).

ARDJUNA: 05.54 S. 107.57 E. (See Plan)

LOCATION: Ardjuna Marine Terminal is about 18½ miles offshore from the nearest point on the coast of Java.

The Export SBM is North 72 degrees East 59 nautical miles from Djakarta.

The exact position of the Export Single Buoy Mooring system is latitude 5° 53′ 19″ South and longitude 107° 45′ 18″ East.

DOCUMENTS: The Harbour Master submits a Harbour Report Form for the Master to complete. The Agent prepares the ship's documents check list form to check the validity of each document. These documents are: Certificate of Registry, Ship's Construction Certificate, Load Line Certificate, Life Safety Equipment Certificate, Safety Radio/Telephone/Telegraph Certificate, Exemption Certificate, Cargo Gears Certificate and Derating Certificate. This list is then delivered to the Harbour Master with the following documents attached: Last Port Clearance, Crew List approved by the Immigration Officer and light dues receipt if arriving from another Indonesian port. The Harbour Master issues a port clearance at departure provided clearance is also granted by the other governmental authorities. A Panamanian port clearance for Panamanian flag vessels is not required at Ardjuna.

The Immigration Officer requires 2 copies of the Crew List and will check the Ship's Article and the passports of the crew. When these documents are found to be in order, and arrival clearance will be marked on the Crew List.

If arriving from another Indonesian port the agent will sign a guarantee if the vessel cannot prove that light dues have been paid.

Prior to the vessel's departure the Immigration Official requires 2 copies of the Crew List to be marked for departure immigration clearance. The Master is given a signed copy by the Immigration Official of the Crew List for departure.

Crude Oil loading documents such as Bills of Lading, Quality Certificate, Quantity Certificate, Dry Certificate/Ullage Report, Time Loading Report, Certificate of Origin, Cargo Manifest and Master's Receipt for Documents/Samples are prepared at Ardjuna Marine Terminal. When the tanker has been loaded, the documents shall be completed and final clearance formalities will be carried out aboard the vessel, either at the Export SBM or in the anchorage area, as circumstances dictate.

Customs will issue the 5-B form which is for departure clearance of the vessel.

The Master should be prepared to issue 6 copies of the Crew List which will be distributed as follows:

| | Immigration | Harbour Master | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| On Arrival | 2 | 1 | 3 |
| On departure | 2 | 1 | 3 |

PILOTAGE: Tankers to be moored, anchored or manoeuvred at Ardjuna Terminal will be boarded by the mooring master in the close vicinity of the recommended anchorage area.

The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Master on approaches to the berth, mooring, unmooring, and all operations within the anchorage or mooring area. All such manoeuvring of ships shall be done only in accordance with the advice of the Mooring Master, subject to the understanding that in all cases and circumstances the Master of the ship being manoeuvred shall remain solely responsible on behalf of his vessel's owners for the safety and proper manoeuvring of his vessel. The ship's Master, or one of his designated and qualified deck officers, must be on the navigating bridge at all times while the vessel is being manoeuvred. Ships are requested to have a pilot ladder safely and securely rigged for immediate use, and long enough to reach the mooring launch. A combination of pilot ladder and ship's accommodation ladder, so arranged that personnel can first use pilot ladder until part way up the vessel's side, and then transfer to the accommodation ladder is recommended, especially on very large ships. A light line should be ready to take aboard the Mooring Master's equipment. There should be adequate lighting at night. Vessels will provide a lee for the Mooring Master both when boarding and leaving. During the vessel's stay at the Export SBM, emergency towing wires shall at all times be hung over the ship's stern. These wires shall be secured on the bollards inboard to enable the vessel to be towed away should the need arise. They must be tended throughout to keep the eye of the wire not more than two feet above the water.

ANCHORAGE: If requested to anchor, the recommended anchorage area is 2 miles North of the Export SBM in position latitude 5° 53′ 17″ South and longitude 107° 45′ 18″ East.

Under no circumstances should the export tanker enter the restricted area around the structures without a Mooring Master aboard.

The attention of Masters is drawn to the existence of underwater pipelines in the restricted area.

NAVIGATION AIDS: Navigational aids are located on the following facilities and structures:

The Export Single Buoy Mooring system: A white light flashing every second is mounted on the rotating deck of the SBM. Approach information can be obtained by radio. See the section on communications.

Storage barge: The storage barge is equipped with anchor lights and automatic fog signal apparatus. The SBM to which it is secured is fitted with a light flashing every 10 seconds, which is visible for 5 miles.

Flow station: A crude oil production flow station, which is situated one mile South of Arco Ardjuna, is recognised by two flares which are visible for a distance of 20 miles or more. Adverse weather conditions will affect the visibility of the flares accordingly.

In addition to the above specified navigational aids, the flow station and storage barge will brightly illuminate the area about them at night through the use of lights for normal working purposes.

MAX. SIZE: Depth of water, approximately 132 ft. below mean sea level.

RADIO: It is most important that incoming tankers advise Ardjuna Terminal 72 hours before estimated time of arrival using Golf Time Zone via: Cable "Ardjak Jakarta". Telex 011–4379, Jakarta.

The following information should be included in the message:

(1) Name of tanker and radio call sign.
(2) Cargo requirements.
(3) De-ballast time.
(4) Maximum loading rate.
(5) If there is any sickness aboard.
(6) Tanker draft, ETA.
(7) Last port of call.
(8) Confirm vessel has clean bill of health.
(9) If cholera inoculation or smallpox vaccination required.
(10) Distance in feet from the bow to tanker's loading manifold.

Confirm ETA 24 hours and 48 hours before arrival. (Note: Jakarta, Indonesia, is in the Golf Time Zone which is GMT plus 7 hours throughout the year.)

Radio: VHF/FM radio telephone (1st choice).

Masters are recommended to use this system when they come within radio range of Ardjuna Marine Terminal, particularly when approaching the port. If poor visibility should exist and the tanker's approach may not be observed from the storage barge, VHF communications may be the means of avoiding delay in berthing. During berthing the ship's radio will be under the sole control of the Master, and the storage barge radio will be under the sole control of the Marine Superintendent or his assistant.

If requested to anchor, Masters are reminded that it is their responsibility to maintain a continuous listening watch on VHF Channel 16 and frequency 157.700 mHz if their ship is provided with this equipment.

Ardjuna Marine Terminal is equipped with two VHF/FM radio telephone sets with output power of 25 watts and continuous watch is maintained on Channel number 16 (156.800 mHz) and frequency 157.700 mHz radio call sign 6 ZLA. Tankers approaching the Ardjuna Marine Terminal should make initial contact on Channel number 16 and will switch to frequency 157.725 mHz upon request by Terminal. Frequency 157.725 mHz, radio call sign 8GJ212, will be reserved by the oil tanker and Terminal for inter-ship communications in mooring and while loading. This frequency will not be used for general purposes unless clearance is obtained from the Terminal. This is required because of safety.

High frequency single sideband radio telephone (2nd choice).

A voice message from incoming tankers may be relayed by HF/SSB. Atlantic Richfield Indonesia Inc., located in Djakarta, Indonesia is inter-connected to the Ardjuna Marine Terminal via local communications system and maintains a continuous watch on HF frequency 7320 kHz (upper sideband, A3J mode, 100 watts, vertical whip antenna, call sign: 8GJ9).

Pertamina Coastal Radio Station – HF/SSB

In the event incoming tankers are not able to contact Ardjuna on the foregoing VHF/FM frequencies, or by HF/SSB, Pertamina maintains a coastal radio station located in Djakarta which may be contacted on HF/SSB, frequencies 6515.4 kHz, 6518.6 kHz, 4434.9 kHz and 4361.6 kHz. The radio call sign is PKI 2. Masters should request the Pertamina Coastal Radio Station to relay the necessary information to Atlantic Richfield Indonesia Inc., Djakarta by telephone numbers 74635, 73204, 73207, 75697 and 75069.

Procedure for appointing agent:

Owner should cable "Pertaminaship Djakarta".

The cable should appoint Pertamina as Agent to attend the tanker at Ardjuna and should be sent 2–4 weeks prior to vessel's arrival.

PRATIQUE: In accordance with practice in Indonesian ports, quarantine, immigration, pilot and call sign flags must be displayed by all vessels approaching Ardjuna. These signals shall be displayed continuously until clearance is granted. The signals are as follows: Sunrise to sunset: quarantine flag "Q". Sunset to sunrise: signal lights (red over white).

The "N" flag should be flown until the Immigration Officer boards the ship. The "G" flag (request for Pilot) should be flown until the Mooring Master boards. The vessel should also fly its call sign. As soon as the Mooring Master boards, the "G" flag should be replaced by the "H" flag which signifies that the Pilot is aboard. The tanker may fly the "P" flag if it is going to sail within 24 hours.

Indonesian Immigration, Customs and Harbour Master officials will board the vessel after it is all secured to grant clearance.

Each tanker entering the port of Ardjuna must have requested and been granted Flag Dispensation prior to its arrival. At the same time, application is made for Provisional Pratique through the Directorate of Quarantine and, if granted, a cable advice is sent to the harbour authorities. Port Health Clearance is issued prior to the tanker's arrival and is also valid for departure clearance. If Provisional Pratique is not granted a Port Health Officer will be provided. All of the foregoing is arranged through and by the Agent.

Each crew member should be in possession of an International Vaccination Card.

After the tanker is all secured, the Customs Officer will board the tanker to seal the stores. If arriving from a foreign port, the Agent will prepare the General Cargo Declaration form stating the cargo onboard the tanker and attaching appropriate shipping documents. If the tanker is arriving from an Indonesian port, the 5-8 form issued at the last Indonesian port will be retained by Customs and the arrival clearance at Ardjuna is granted.

MOORING: The following mooring Launches will be available for running lines as required, also for transporting Government Officials, Agents and other authorised personnel to and from the export tanker.

| Name and description | Length | Rated HP |
|---|---|---|
| (1) Arco Ardjuna III | 40ft | 260 |
| (2) Arco Ardjuna IV | 40ft | 260 |

LOADING: Ardjuna crude oil of approximately 37·0 degrees API at 60°F. is available at the storage barge.

After a vessel has berthed and pratique has been granted, a Terminal official will board to discuss loading arrangements. Before any crude is loaded all ship's scuppers on main decks must be plugged and cemented oil tight. Approved mechanical means of closing scuppers may be accepted. The vessel's cargo tanks are inspected by Ardjuna officials and, if suitable for loading crude oil a signed notation to this effect will be made on the ullage certificate.

A loading rate of approximately 35,000 barrels per hour can be accomplished.

It is absolutely essential that extremely careful supervision be exercised by officers of vessels while loading operations are in progress.

A responsible ship's officer is required to be on duty continuously at a point near to the tanks being loaded. He will be assisted by an adequate number of ship's personnel in these operations.

It is the responsibility of the vessel to ensure that all mooring lines are properly tended. Ardjuna personnel will constantly check a vessel's moorings and at any time may direct the lines to be heaved tighter or slackened off under the supervision of a responsible ship's officer, as circumstances warrant.

Raising, lowering, connecting, tending and disconnecting of oil loading hoses as well as other labours and duties on shipboard connected with loading of cargo or maintaining mooring lines in a correct manner will be performed by the ship's crew directed by a responsible officer as required by the Mooring Master. Loading of export tankers is through two 12 in. I.D. hoses with no. 150 ASA. flange rating. The weight of each hose is approximately 5 tons. All ships using Ardjuna Marine Terminal must be able to connect their manifold to the 12 in. hoses. Masters are reminded it is the ship's responsibility to provide such reducers as may be required to make the connection.

The Mooring Master will report unsatisfactory conditions to the Company Marine Superintendent who may, in turn, reject the ship until corrections are fully made. All costs accruing therefore will be for the ship's account.

The service of the Mooring Master are provided upon the express understanding and conditions that when any Mooring Master provided goes on board a vessel for the purpose of assisting such vessel, he becomes for such purpose the servant of the owners of the vessel and the Company shall not be liable for any danger, or injury, resulting from any advice, or assistance, or actions given, or made, by such mooring master while on, or in the vicinity, of the assisted vessel.

The Company Marine Superintendent, or his designated alternate, shall be the sole authority to decide when the port is closed due to unsuitable weather conditions preventing normal working operations.

Various combinations of wind, sea, and tidal conditions, also the size, length, ballasted trim, and handling qualities of a vessel can affect the decision to berth a vessel at Ardjuna. All of these factors have to be evaluated before a final berthing decision is made.

Delays to vessels using Ardjuna Marine Terminal due to the port being closed because of bad weather conditions shall not be computed as used laytime when compiling vessel's turn around time.

Request for the Terminal to stop the flow of oil cargo at a predetermined tonnage must be in writing. The request must include the statement by the ship's Master that the Company will not be held responsible for any error and that in case of vessel being overloaded the excess cargo cannot be pumped back to the storage barge. Ship's Master will also be held responsible for any oil spills caused by this request.

Typical Ardjuna crude specifications:

TUGS: One tug to assist berthing and unberthing. A mooring launch will be available to pass line to the storage tanker on berthing.

BERTH DESCRIPTION: The Ardjuna Marine Terminal offices are located on board a 137,673 dwt. storage barge of Liberian registry designated Arco Ardjuna. Overall length of the storage barge is 467 ft. 10¼ inches.

The exact location of Arco Ardjuna SBM is in latitude 5° 54′ 15 South and longitude 107° 44′ 22″ East.

Total crude oil cargo capacity of the storage barge is 1,022,00 gross barrels. Loading of crude oil will be through four A.O. Smith positive displacement meters, each having maximum capacity of 12,500 barrels per hour. A loading rate of approximately 35,000 barrels per hour can be accomplished.

Two strings of floating hose 755 ft. in length and 16 in. inside diameter extend from the export SBM for the purpose of loading the export tanker, however, for the convenience of handling, these hose strings terminate into tanker rail hoses of 12 in. inside diameter. All vessels not having 12 in. hose connections must provide their own reducers.

EQUIPMENT: A ship may be rejected if, upon inspection, it is not properly equipped, or if it is not suitably manned, or if it has dirty ballast, or tanks unsuitable for the cargo.

A vessel is suitably manned if it has a full complement of qualified officers and a crew all of whom are in a sober condition, competent and willing to carry out their duties and orders.

A ship must be equipped with a good working propulsion unit as passed by the appropriate survey society. Inoperative ships, or partially inoperative ships, will be rejected. Should it become inoperative while at the Export SBM it will be removed at the vessel's expense.

No repairs are to be made while mooring or unmooring, or at the Export SBM without the express permission of the Marine Superintendent or his alternate.

The export tanker must lift the export hoses from the water by means of its own derricks and using its own crew.

A vessel must have both bower anchors in good working condition and in such sizes and amounts as to meet either "Lloyd's" or "A.B.S." standards although they may be, in fact, classified by other societies. It is strongly recommended that anchors have proper anchor buoys attached to each anchor.

All vessels must carry suitable stoppers for all Manila or synthetic lines for mooring use.

Vessels to have suitable winches or capstans in good working order and able to heave on the 12 in. braid lines from the Export SBM. Such winches must have sufficient power to heave the ship to the position required by the Terminal Mooring Master. Power supply to deck machinery must be maintained throughout the period ship is secured to the SBM. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in cessation of loading and delay so caused will be for ship's account.

To assist in vessel's turn around, tankers should have all necessary booms and cargo gear rigged and ready before ship is boarded by Mooring Master.

Vessels which may consider the lifting capacity of their gear to be marginal should strengthen their gear accordingly. A common way to do so is to rig a second topping lift on the boom.

BALLAST: No facilities are available for disposal of dirty ballast. It is the responsibility of the Ship's Master to see that no oil of any kind is pumped or spilled overboard from his ship.

As soon as practical after arrival, all tankers will be inspected by an Ardjuna Marine Terminal official for dirty ballast. During discharge of ballast similar inspections will continue.

If evidence of oil appears at any of these inspections, the ship will be rejected and will not be accepted again until satisfactory evidence is produced that such ballast was disposed of in a proper manner. If, during inspection, or during progress of loading, it is revealed that ship's tanks are not tight, or that oil is leaking from the ship, the ship may be rejected or refused further loading.

A tanker must have sufficient ballast for safe handling having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. Through a careful watch of the weather and sea conditions, frequent exchange of information between ship and Terminal, and by a knowledge of the behaviour of his own ship, a ship's Master may come to the Terminal with a minimum ballast and thus lessen any possibility of infringement of sea pollution regulations.

In addition to the lights usually displayed, vessels in the moorings discharging ballast or loading cargo during darkness will brilliantly illuminate the sea around the ship, so that any pollution will be noticeable.

Tankers equipped with a separate system of ballast tanks will be allowed to discharge ballast, and load oil simultaneously, providing approval is first obtained from the company Marine Superintendent.

Most responsible ship owners have adopted a system of tank cleaning using circulatory methods of transfer of tank washings on shipboard and treating these washings with chemicals. The result is that no oil is discharged into the sea and the oil separated is collected in a slop tank. With the written permission of lifting companies, the Terminal will load on top of such slops. This system is highly recommended to avoid pollution of the Java Sea.

Masters are warned that inspection of ballast is strict.

If, at any time an overflow of crude oil occurs, loading will be suspended immediately, and not be resumed until the oil is cleaned up and removed from the decks of the vessel, and/or from the surface of the sea, and any damage is repaired and no further danger exists. It is stressed that during loading operations, the Ardjuna Cargo Supervisor will immediately slow down the loading rate on receipt of a request for same from the ship's deck officer – in charge of loading.

All spillages of oil must be reported immediately to the Ardjuna Marine Superintendent, or his alternate, and, subsequently, a detailed report, in writing, submitted by the master of the vessel concerned giving all relevant details.

If the ship's tanks are found to be leaking, it will not be accepted for loading unless satisfactory evidence of repair certified by Lloyd's or A.B.S. surveyors, or other recognised surveyors is submitted.

Any tanker rejected because of dirty ballast or sea pollution will automatically nullify his notice of readiness and will lose any priority of position for loading. Tankers with dirty ballast will be rejected and will have to tender a new notice of readiness upon second arrival.

Owners and Masters are responsible to observe international convention laws and Indonesian Government regulations concerning pollution of the sea, having particular regard for this area of the Java Sea.

In the normal course of events, Cinta Terminal acts as tanker agent and prepares all crude oil documents. No charges are made for these services. A tanker will be considered clear to depart Cinta Terminal when the crude oil loading documents and his outward clearance certificate have been delivered to the Master of the vessel.

EQUIPMENT: A vessel must have both bower anchors and ground tackle in good working condition and in such sizes and amounts as to meet either "Lloyds" or "A.B.S." standards, although they may be in fact classified by other societies. It is strongly recommended that anchors have proper anchor buoys attached to each anchor.

All vessels must carry suitable stoppers for all Manila or synthetic lines for mooring use.

Vessels to have suitable winches or capstans in good operating condition on the forecastle deck. Constant tension-type winches may not be used except when they can be solidly locked and the constant tension feature not used.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage is compulsory within the Terminal limits. Vessels to be moored at Cinta Terminal will be boarded by Cinta Terminal Mooring Master in the anchorage area. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Master on approaches to the SBM, mooring, unmooring, connection and disconnecting hoses, and all other operations within the Terminal area. Vessels are requested to have a pilot's ladder, safely and securely rigged, ready for immediate use and long enough to meet the Mooring Master's launch. Vessels will provide a lee for the Mooring Master, both when boarding and leaving. Also a light line should be ready to take aboard the Mooring Master's portable radio.

ANCHORAGE: Position centre is 5° 29′ 10″ S., 106° 15′ 30″ E. which represents the centre of a circle with a radius of approximately one mile which must be used by vessels required to wait at anchor. Anchoring within the Terminal Area is prohibited. Mooring Masters will board arriving tankers in the anchorage area.

The hold area is South of the SBM with water depth of 18 to 20 fathoms. Holding ground is fairly good. Area is large enough for sufficient manoeuvring and swinging room for several vessels.

If a tanker is not scheduled to berth on arrival (e.g. another vessel is already in the berth, or the Terminal is closed on account of adverse weather, etc.), Master will be advised by radio and requested to anchor.

RESTRICTIONS: Weather permitting, Cinta Terminal will operate on 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Tankers will be berthed during daylight hours only and unmoored on 24 hours basis provided the berth is not occupied and/or storage is not critical.

MAX. SIZE: Minimum size tanker acceptable: The minimum sized tanker acceptable at the Terminal will be not less than 20,000 dwt.

Maximum size tanker acceptable: The maximum sized tanker acceptable at the Terminal calling for a full cargo will be 55,000 dwt. Larger tankers may be accepted subject to weather conditions at the time of loading without recourse to IIAPCO for any delays.

NAVIGATION AIDS: The SBM is fitted with a five nautical mile white flashing light; flashing at a rate of 60 flashes per minute. The SBM is located approximately latitude 5° 27′ 39″ S. and longitude 106° 14′ 44″ E. and bears 318° True, approximately 51 nautical miles from the Port of Jakarta.

The SBM is also equipped with a foghorn having a 2 second on and 18 second off sequence.

A large 602 ft. long barge Cinta Natomas is used for storage of crude oil and for accommodation and headquarters of Cinta Terminal personnel. It lies permanently anchored to an SBM 5° 26′ 40″ S. and 106° 14′ 42″ E. on a line bearing approximately N. 88° W. and 5,800 ft. from the location of the SBM. The barge shows lights and shapes as prescribed in the International Regulations for preventing collisions at sea for vessels engaged in underwater operation, see Rules 4 (c) and 11 (b) (c) (d). The barge is also equipped with a foghorn with 5 seconds on and 55 seconds off sequences forward and 5 seconds on and 55 seconds off abaft, 10 seconds apart.

Four permanently fixed oil producing structures are located in the Terminal area:

Cinta platform "A" rises approximately 65 ft. above water and is located approximately 7,100 ft. from the barge at 5° 26′ 23″ S. by 106° 15′ 50″ E.

Cinta platform "B" is an identical structure to platform "A" and is located at 5° 27′ 01″ S. and 106° 15′ 22″ E. and 4,500 ft. from the barge.

Cinta platform "A" and "B" have heliports.

Cinta platform "C" rises approximately 54 ft. from mimimum low water and is connected by a 110 ft. long bridge to Cinta platform "B" on the East side.

Notes: 6ZFT keeps continuous watch on 2182, 4456 and 8281·2 kHz. 6ZFT keeps continuous watch on VHF Channel 16.

All communications between ships and Cinta Terminal (6ZFT) will be way of this station except should a vessel be unable to contact 6ZFT, she should send messages through: Singapore Radio/9VG or Pertamina Radio/PKI-2

Initial Communications: It is most important that ships establish communications with the Cinta Terminal (6ZFT) not less than 72 hours prior to arrival at the Terminal, giving estimated time of arrival. Further ETA information should be sent when the vessel is 48 hours, 24 hours, 12 hours and 4 hours distance or any time a change of one hour in original ETA occurs. These messages should specifically state whether ETA is given in GMT (Z) or local time (K).

Cinta Terminal time is GMT plus 7 hours throughout the year.

The 72 hours signal should include the following:

1. Name of vessel and radio call sign.
2. ETA and date.
3. Cargo requirements.
4. Deballast time.
5. Maximum loading rate.
6. Vessels draft on arrival.
7. If there is any sickness aboard or clean bill of health.
8. Last port of call.
9. Any hull, bulkhead, valve or pipeline leaks on vessel which could affect loading or cause pollution.
10. Distance in feet from bow to vessel's loading manifold.

On receipt of the first signal from a vessel Cinta Terminal (6ZFT) will transmit a message to her giving preliminary requirements and details as to Terminal. Masters are urged to comply with this in all details in order to facilitate vessel turn-around and Government formalities.

Communications within 4 hours of terminal: Once ships are within the 4 hours distance of Cinta Terminal (6ZFT) communication, valid radio-telephone communications on International Marine VHF may be established on Channel 16 (156·80 mHz). This channel is monitored continuously.

Once contact has been made on Channel 16 further conversation will be conducted on a mutually compatible channel.

The 4 hours signal should confirm information on the time she will require to discharge ballast after arrival. Precise time of arrival should be given when the ship is 4 hours distance from the Terminal.

Communication in Terminal: The Mooring Master will be in direct control of all ship communications while in the Terminal Area. Any unauthorised communications will be cause for cessation of all operations excepting clearing the berth, and the vessel's Notice of Readiness will be nullified immediately.

PRATIQUE: In accordance with international practice, quarantine signals must be displayed by all vessels approaching Cinta Terminal area. These signals shall be displayed continuously until pratique is granted. By day the flag of Indonesia should be flown throughout the vessel's stay in port. The boarding officials will attend the incoming vessel from the Cinta Terminal launch.

NOTICE OF READINESS: After arrival in the anchorage area and when the tanker is in every respect ready to load, the Master may tender his Notice of Readiness. Notice of Readiness will not be accepted during periods when the Terminal is closed. The Terminal is "closed" when the weather is such that it is too rough for incoming tankers to berth. The decision regarding the opening and closing of the Terminal will rest with the Terminal Superintendent. Tenders by vessels to load crude oil cargo will be normally accepted and berth assigned to vessels in chronological order of arrival provided such vessels have current nomination for cargo valid at the time of tender, carry clean ballast (if any), and have cargo tanks in fit condition to receive cargo. Also they must be in all respects properly equipped and ready to moor. Should berthing be delayed on account of bad weather, vessels will keep their position in line.

TUGS: Tugs and/or launches may assist in berthing vessels. These are under the direct supervision and control of the Mooring Master.

BERTH DESCRIPTION: The Terminal and Production Administrative Offices are located on board the 143,000 dwt crude storage barge Cinta Natomas permanently moored approximately 5,800 ft. on a line bearing North 88° W. from the SBM. The nearest port with facilities is Jakarta approximately 51 nautical miles South-east.

The single point mooring buoy berth (SBM) is 11 metres in diameter, and designed to handle tankers in the 55,000 dwt. class, or larger, during reasonable weather. The buoy is equipped with dual 12-inch floating hose with ASA 150 pound flanged connections. Both strings must be taken aboard. Loading rates will be from 13,000 to 40,000 barrel per hour range. The SBM is also provided with two permanently attached 12-inch circumference synthetic fibre floating mooring lines. These lines should be held under tension by the vessel at all times.

MOORING: Tankers are requested to have ready on the forecastle head the following:

(a) Messenger lines on the forecastle head for bringing 2 mooring lines aboard from the SBM (minimum 6-in. circumference).

(b) Mooring winches on forecastle head for handling two 12-in. circumference synthetic fibre floating mooring lines from the SBM.

(c) Adequate chafing gear to prevent damage to mooring lines

(d) Derrick rigged and ready to pick up from launch, mooring shackles, nylon stops and hose connection gear on the port side midships.

On the near approach to the buoy a launch will attach a ship's line to one of the Terminal's floating mooring lines. This will be hove aboard and secured to the towing brackets, if the ship is so fitted, or otherwise secured by a ship's mooring wire and nylon stop previously passed aboard. The same operation will be repeated with the second mooring line.

The Mooring Master may require the vessel to unmoor at any time he deems it necessary for the safety of the vessel or mooring buoy or both, or infringement of the Terminal regulations.

HOSES: The Mooring Master along with a ship's officer will direct the ship's crew in the raising, lowering, connecting and disconnecting the oil loading hoses as well as all other labour pertaining to the loading of crude. The Terminal will not provide any labour for work done aboard the vessel.

Vessels must be adequately equipped with boom, blocks, tackle, wire runners and sundry equipment on the port side to hoist the floating hoses from the sea to the loading position. (5 tons minimum hoist size required.) Vessel's loading manifolds should be prepared for two 12-in. ASA 150-lb. flanged hose connections prior to vessel's arrival at Terminal. Where no crossover valves exist on loading manifolds it is recommended that loops between loading lines on the starboard side of these manifolds be fitted. 8-in. hose connections to be removed; also, if necessary, "Y" pieces removed so that maximum flow through the 12-in. cargo hoses will not be reduced. To assist in vessel's turnaround, tankers should have all necessary booms and cargo gear rigged and ready before ship is boarded by Mooring Master.

Vessels which may consider the lifting capacity of their gear to be marginal should strengthen their gear accordingly. A common way to do so is to rig a second topping lift on the boom.

LOADING: Before the loading begins, the Master wll ensure that all Terminal and Port Regulations pertaining to the readiness of the vessel have been complied with; that the vessel is manned and in all respects ready to receive crude, and that all precautions required by the circumstances have been taken.

All communications relative to the loading of the vessel shall be routed through the Mooring Master who will remain in contact with storage barge Cinta Natomas constantly via portable VHF Units. In case of temporary breakdown of the portable VHF circuit, contact may be continued on International Marine Channels if the vessel is so fitted.

Should communications with the Cinta Natomas fail, loading ceases. An emergency cessation of loading may be effected by a continuous sounding of the ship's whistle.

The maximum loading rate will be 40,000 barrels per hour. (5,300 long tons per hour). Loading will commence with one pump; when the vessel advises that the cargo is flowing into the tanks, the loading rate will be increased until the desired rate has been reached.

Vessels shall not close down against the incoming oil flow. Vessels will be held liable for damages resulting from failure to observe this precaution.

The vessel must give 30 minutes notice to the Cinta Natomas before starting to "top-off", and shall advise if a decrease in loading rate is desired.

The vessel must give 15 minutes' notice to the Cinta Natomas prior to the completion of loading, at which time the Cinta Natomas may reduce to one pump.

On completion of loading, all pumps will be stopped loading hoses disconnected, and blind flanges with gaskets installed on the loading hose before lowering over the side. There should be no leakage

All cargo tank openings and pressure vacuum relief valves must be closed immediately after ullages and samples have been taken.

All documentation will be completed as soon as possible after loading is completed.

If during loading it is revealed that oil is leaking from the tanker, so as to constitute a safety or pollution hazard, loading shall cease and the tanker may have to leave the Terminal limits at the sole discretion of the Mooring Master. Completion of loading will only be undertaken if repairs have been carried out to the tanker to the satisfaction of the Mooring Master. A tanker so rejected shall not later be accepted on a subsequent visit for loading until satisfactory evidence of repair is submitted duly certified by ABS, Lloyds or other recognised surveyors.

Notice must be given by the vessel to the Mooring Master 30 minutes before vessel completes deballasting. The Mooring Master will advise the Cinta Terminal.

BALLAST: It is the responsibility of the ship's Master to see that no oil (crude, bunkers, diesel or bilge) or dirty ballast is pumped or spilled overboard from his ship while in the area. Drip pans should be used, especially when disconnecting hoses, in order to prevent spillage overboard.

Before loading commences all overside scuppers shall be made oiltight. At Cinta Terminal there are no slop tanks or facilities for receiving dirty ballast. Tankers must arrive with clean ballast. In the event a tanker does have dirty ballast it will not be allowed to be pumped overboard.

A vessel must have sufficient ballast for safe handling, having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. Through careful watch of the weather and sea conditions, frequent exchange of information between ship and Terminal, and by a knowledge of the behaviour of his own vessel, the ship's Master may come to the Terminal with a minimum of ballast and thus lessen any possibility of infringement of sea pollution regulations.

Vessels equipped with a separate system of ballast tanks will be allowed to discharge ballast and load oil simultaneously, provided approval is first obtained from the Company Mooring Master and provided Government Petroleum Inspector agrees to do so.

Discharging ballast at night: When any vessel is discharging ballast in darkness, the sea around the area of discharge will be adequately lighted, so that any pollution will be readily noticeable.

FRESH WATER: Not available.

FUEL: Not available.

REPAIRS: No repairs are to be made while berthing or unberthing, or in the berth. All engines to be on 30 minutes standby and steam on deck at all times.

MEDICAL: At Cinta Terminal, medical and dental services are not available. In emergencies requiring hospitalisation, the patient will have to be flown by helicopter to Djakarta. All expenses will be charged to the ship owner.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: Cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, matches, spirits, wines, beer, perfume, arms, ammunition and possibly other items will be locked up under customs' seal from time of arrival of ship at the Terminal until the time of leaving territorial waters.

Each person is allowed 20 cigarettes per day of stay or 3 grams of tobacco or cigars in lieu thereof. Each man is allowed one litre of beer or half litre of wine per day. Special allowances are made for the Master under special circumstances.

Indonesian Customs and Immigration Officials will board the vessel as soon as possible after arrival to give inward clearance and pratique service. Indonesian Government Regulations are strictly enforced.

Contraband: The attention of Masters is called to the strict enforcement of Indonesian Regulations against smuggling. Illegal possession or landing of such items as narcotics, liquor, cigarettes, ammunition, sheath knives and similar weapons or other articles of contraband is subject to severe penalty and may result in prolonged delay of the vessel concerned.

All precautions must be taken to prevent the violation of contraband laws.

Masters are requested to inform the ship's officers and crew of the foregoing regulations pertaining to contraband, shore liberty, etc., and to be assured that all personnel completely understand.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: Visitors must obtain a Special Pass from Indonesian Government Officials located in the Terminal and from the Company's Mooring Masters. It is recommended that visitors be restricted to a minimum due to hazards involved.

TIME: Indonesian local time is GMT plus 7 hours.

SHORE LEAVE: Shore liberty will not be granted except in cases of extreme emergency. Crew members cannot pay off or leave vessel at Terminal.

GENERAL: Safety rules and regulations are strictly enforced. The safety requirements are based upon the provisions of the Code of Safe Practices currently accepted by the Oil and Tanker Industries.

Provisions, spare parts or stores of any sort shall not be loaded from or discharged into any craft while the tanker is in or near the berth.

When a Mooring Master and his launch crew are assigned to a ship on business, it is expected that the ship will supply them with meals at the same time and in the same manner as comparable with personnel of the ship. No special meals or special foods will be required. The Terminal will keep this item to a basic minimum. The ship should also provide shelter and smoking facilities in the same manner as meals. All communications between Terminal personnel assigned to a ship and ship's personnel should be through the Mooring Master.

Ship's Certificate: The Ship's Certificate should be delivered to the Harbour Master through the Agent. This certificate will be returned to the Ship's Master prior to the ship's departure.

Ship's Manifest and Bill of Lading: The copy of the ship's manifest should be delivered to the Port Administrator through the Agent.

IMMIGRATION: Vessels arriving from abroad with passengers must hoist the N Flag. Masters have to supply the boarding Immigration Officer with Passenger's List of: (a) disembarking. (b) transhipping. (c) through passengers.

No persons are allowed on board until the vessel has been examined and the N Flag taken down. Passengers must be in possession of a valid visa: visitor's, entry or a transit visa. Those not having a visa may at the discretion of the Immigration Officer, obtain a landing permit. Members of the crew including the Master must appear in the Articles, in order to get shore permits.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Pilots will board the vessel at the Outer Anchorage, from 0800–1800.

The ship's owner/agent has to inform the Port Administration (the Pilotage Division) of the ship's arrival 24 hours in advance.

HEALTH:

Quarantine: A vessel is in quarantine and must hoist the quarantine flag (Q, QL, QQ), when it is a vessel:

1. that comes directly from abroad (Q flag),
2. that comes from an infected Indonesian Port (Q flag),
3. that takes passengers or cargo over from vessels mentioned in items (1) and (2) (Q flag),
4. whose captain has declared that a quarantinable disease exists or is suspected on board (QL/QQ),
5. which the Port Medical Officer has declared infected or suspected with a quarantinable disease (QL/QQ).

The concerned vessel is free from quarantine measures when free pratique has been obtained. The free pratique becomes invalid when a vessel is in quarantine as stated above or a quarantinable disease occurs during the validity of free pratique.

The Port of Tanjung Priok is a 1st class Quarantine Port.

At the request of the ship's owner/agent, the Department of Health will provide "provisional pratique", for vessels calling directly from abroad to any Indonesian port which is not classified as a quarantine port, provided that health conditions on board comply with the required health conditions. This "provisional pratique" however does not relieve the vessel from quarantine measures, and it is not to be construed as "free pratique".

Accordingly vessels enjoying "provisional pratique" are still required to hoist the quarantine flag.

Vaccination/Immunization: Vaccination and Immunization against smallpox and cholera can be carried out by the Port Health Service.

BOARDING AREA: Harbour Pilots, Quarantine Officer and Immigration will board the vessel at the Outer roads.

APPROACHES: The Dumai Port installations can be reached by deep draft vessels by proceeding from Malacca Strait into Bengkalis and following a buoyed channel on a Southerly course for a distance of 22 miles to the junction of the Rupat Strait. Vessels must make a turn of approximately 180 degrees to enter the Rupat Strait and thence Westerly for a distance of 33 miles to Dumai. The Bengkalis and Rupat Strait fairways have been wire-dragged clear to a depth of 24 metres and 18·3 m. LWS respectively.

PILOTAGE: Harbour pilotage is performed by Government Pilots. The Harbour Pilot will board a vessel at anchorage for berthing or immediately on arrival at Buoy No. 18 when berth is available.

Sea piloting for the Rupat and Bengkalis Straits is a future project of the Department of Sea Communication.

According to the Dumai Port Authority's memo dated May, 1972 effective on 1st June, 1972, all vessels proceeding to Dumai should hoist the International code flag H or PT when passing buoy No. 1 as "requesting for Pilot" and call CPI's Radio Telephone (VHF) on Channel 12. You will be informed whether or not Pilots are available, if not you may then proceed directly to Dumai Harbour anchorage area.

The practice of berthing and unberthing vessels utilising CPI mooring masters has been discontinued.

ANCHORAGE: The Dumai general anchorage area is North and West of oil wharves. Minimum depth of water in this area 43 ft. 35 ft. shoal spot to East of general anchorage should be noticed. Holding ground in anchorages considered good, bottom clay. Area large with sufficient manoeuvring and swinging room for several vessels of size to be accommodated at oil wharves.

If vessels are not met by the Pilot's launch on arrival, or not instructed by the Dumai Port Control Radio to berth on arrival, it is suggested that they proceed to the recommended anchorage area.

MAX. SIZE: Length 1,263 ft., draft 57 ft.

ETA ADVICES:

1. Proceeding direct from ports other than Palembang and not stopping at Singapore en route:
   (a) Radio 96 hour ETA to "Calpaking Dumai" (include operational data).
   (b) If any time this estimated arrival time changes by 2 hours, send an amended ETA message immediately.
   (c) 24 hours before arrival, confirm or amend the ETA message regardless of any change from the last advice.
2. Proceeding from Singapore:
   (a) Prior to arrival at Singapore, radio 96 hour ETA Dumai include words "From Singapore" to "Calpaking Dumai" predicted on estimated time of stay at Singapore.
   (b) At Singapore, when departure time from Singapore is known confirm or amend the ETA to "Calpaking Dumai" through your Singapore ship's Agent.
   (c) Immediately upon departure from Singapore, and when able to use the vessel's radio legally, again confirm or amend the ETA to "Calpaking Dumai".
3. Proceeding from Palembang:
   (a) When departing Dumai on voyages to Palembang and return, give the Dumai Agent a verbal estimate of arrival back at Dumai in each instance.
   (b) Whether or not (a) is applicable, when time of departure from Palembang is known, cable an ETA message to "Calpaking Dumai" through your Palembang Agent.
   (c) Immediately on departing Palembang, and when able to use the vessel's radio legally, confirm or amend this ETA to "Calpaking Dumai".

RESTRICTIONS: All vessels inbound to Dumai from the time abreast Raleigh Bank light buoy until anchoraged off Dumai Terminal must display the following recognition signals.

By day: The International Code Flag hoist "CAL" flown from a single hoist from the signal yard.

By night: A red light 6 ft. above a white light both visible all around the horizon at a distance of not less than 2 miles.

Vessels should be prepared to answer identification queries from Indonesian naval patrol crafts. The foregoing is subject to change.

For some years, the Rupat-Bengkalis Strait area has been designated a restricted Maritime Zone by decree of the Government of Indonesia. A partial exemption from the requirement to secure spacial Indonesian Consular Clearance before entering this zone has been granted by the Indonesian Navy to tank-vessels proceeding to Dumai from any port in the world except Singapore. Vessels require only normal clearances from their last port to obtain entry at Dumai. Vessels diverted at sea need only normal clearance from last port and the diversion cable.

RADIO: There is a Government coastal station at Dumai. Any message for Dumai Terminal should be sent through this radio station which operates as follows:

Name: Dumai Radio.
Call Letters: "PKP".

A C.P.I.-operated VHF station is maintained 24 hours a day, and is available for information concerning vessel's port activities. Channel 12 is utilised, Frequencies: 156·6.

Channel 16 is also utilised. Frequencies: 156·8.

HEALTH: In accordance with international practice, quarantine signals must be displayed by all vessels approaching Dumai. These signals shall be displayed continuously until pratique is granted. These signals are: Sunrise to Sunset, Quarantine flag "Q". Sunset to Sunrise, Signal lights (red over white).

At Dumai there are 6 wharves. One wharf is a Government-owned and operated cargo Wharf which can also handle discharge of petroleum products. Another wharf is Pertamina, owned and operated for the sole use of its refinery. The other 4 wharves are C.P.I. owned and operated and referred to at as Oil Wharf No. 1, Oil Wharf No. 2, Oil Wharf No. 3, and Oil Wharf No. 4 (present T-2 Wharf). These C.P.I. wharves are utilised for loading of crude oil only.

(a) Oil Wharf No. 1, located in approx. position 01° 41′ 14″ N. 101° 28′ 07″ E. Design capacity 150,000 dwt. Length between outer dolphins 1,210 ft. Least depth at face of wharf 57 ft. (MLWS). In terms of vessel's size and design this would be an LOA of approx. 1,008 ft., and a draft of 57 ft. Orientation of the wharf parallels the current flow.

(b) Oil Wharf No. 2, located in approx. position 01° 41′ 14″ N. 101° 27′ 52″ E. Design capacity 150,000 dwt. Length between outer dolphins 1,465 ft. 8 in. Least depth at face of wharf 58 ft. (MLWS). In terms of vessel's size and design this would be an LOA of approx. 1,263 ft., and a draft of 55 ft. Orientation of the wharf parallels the current flow.

Under favourable weather conditions capable of receiving vessels of 100,000 dwt. Least depth at wharf face 57 ft. (MLWS). In terms of vessel's size and design this would be an LOA of approx. 940 ft. and a draft of 54 ft. Orientation of the wharf parallels the current flow at 095–275 true.

(d) Oil Wharf No. 4, the present T-2 wharf, located between the Cargo Wharf and Oil Wharf No. 3. Wharf used mostly for handling domestic tankers. Basic design is for 16,500 dwt. but capable of receiving 28,000 dwt. In terms of vessel's size and design this would be an LOA of approx. 625 ft. and a draft of approx. 34 ft. Least depth of water at face is 36 ft. (MLWS). Overall length between mooring dolphins is 680 ft. Orientation of the wharf parallels the current flow. Being re-constructed.

(e) Government Cargo Wharf located in approx. position 01° 41′ 14″ N. 101° 27′ 04″ E. Design capacity 16,500 dwt. but able to handle 23,000 dwt. Length between outer dolphins 750 ft. Least depth at wharf face 34 ft. (MLWS). Orientation of the wharf parallels the current flow. Only mobile cranes with a maximum lifting capacity of five (5) tons are available. As no heavy lift floating crane or stationery crane is available, heavy lifts must be handled by ship's gear.

BALLAST: There are no shore facilities at Dumai for disposal of dirty ballast water. Vessels should arrive with sufficient clean ballast water to enable safe manoeuvring under prevailing weather conditions. All ballast water must be pumped overboard after arrival at berth, and prior to loading, unless "load on top" procedures apply. If, after arriving alongside, a vessel is found to have oily ballast water on board, such vessel will be sent to sea to accomplish the necessary tank cleaning. A new Notice of Readiness to load must then be tendered.

| | Dwt (deadweight tons) | Minimum draft foreward – aft |
| (a) | 12,000–22,000 | 12 ft. – 20 ft. |

2. Duri Crude with API Gravity = 22·0° approximate Pour Point ±40°F Solid Point ±35°F.

LOADING: The Master or his representative is required to hand to C.P.I. within normal business hours a written Notice of Readiness to load.

| Wharf | Size of arms | Number of arms | Size of flanges | Capacity b.p.h. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Oil Wharf No. 1 | 12″ | 4 | 12″ | 60,000 |

| Oil Wharf No. 3 | 12″ | 4 | 12″ | 60,000 |
| Oil Wharf No. 4 | 10″ | 2 hoses | 10″ | 18,000 |

Oil Wharves 1, 2 and 3 use U.S. standard flanges, faced and drilled. These wharves have chicksan loading arms while Oil Wharf No. 4 operates with hoses swung on board by the wharves' derricks.

Wharf crews and launch crews are on duty to handle loading arms and/or oil hoses and mooring lines on the wharf. Mooring lines on the vessel will not be handled by C.P.I. personnel. Rat-guards must be fitted on all mooring lines.

The required reducers to fit vessel's manifold must be connected and disconnected by ship's personnel.

Upon completion of loading, the vessel will be required to leave the berth immediately after disconnecting hoses and await clearance at the anchorage.

Notice must be given by the vessel to the Piermaster one half hour before the vessel completes deballasting.

Loading will commence under gravity or with one pump. When the vessel advises that the cargo is flowing into tanks, the loading rate will gradually be increased until the desired rate has been reached.

The vessel must give thirty minutes notice to the wharf before starting to "top-off", and shall advise if a decrease in loading rate is desired.

The vessel must give fifteen minutes' notice to the wharf prior to completion of loading at which time the Piermaster may reduce to one pump.

Ship's valves shall not be closed against loading pump pressure.

On completion of loading, loading arms and/or cargo hoses must be drained and disconnected immediately.

All cargo tank openings and pressure vacuum relief valves must be closed immediately after ullages and samples have been taken.

There are two comparatively dry seasons, February to March and June to August. The most intense rainfalls are in the afternoon but these heavy downpours are often short in duration. The duration of the rain is more evenly spread over 24 hours during the North East monsoon than during the rest of the year when rain most likely occurs in the evening and night.

Temperature: The average temperature is a little below 80 degrees. The range in an average year is only 30 deg., between 65 deg. and 95 deg. The daily range is from 15 deg. to 20 deg. The humidity is high (70 to 90 per cent).

GENERAL: Khor Musa is deep tidal inlet at head of Gulf. Consists of triangular-shaped entrance 35 miles wide and 22 miles long followed by a channel, approximately 14 miles long with average width about 1,000 ft., ending at Port of Bandar Mahshahr. Khor Musa is entered by deep water approach channel 25 miles long and 0·8 miles wide, commencing at Khor Musa light float, located in position 29° 36′ 32″ N. 49° 34′ 47″ E. At end of approaches channel, near buoy no. 12, restricted depths and channel widths extend for distance of 8 miles, in vicinity of Khor Musa Bar. A deep water channel then exists up to commercial port of Bandar Shahpour, and to oil port of Bandar Mahshahr, a total distance of 37 miles from end of Bar Channel. Refined products delivered to Bandar Mahshahr Terminal from National Iranian Oil Company's Refinery at Abadan.

TERRITORIAL WATERS: The 12 mile limit of Iranian territorial waters crosses approaches channel in vicinity of Khor Musa Approaches Buoy no. 8, which is approximately 20 miles from Khor Musa light float.

KHOR MUSA APPROACHES:

Navigational Dangers. Numerous shoals and sand banks in Khor Musa with low-lying shore lines and few conspicuous marks. However, shipping channels well marked with light beacons and buoys and present no navigational difficulties in clear weather. A small unlit tide gauge platform located on edge of shoal West of shipping channel in 29° 42′ 30″ N., 49° 03′ 48″ E., approximately 1·75 miles West of Khor Musa Approaches Buoy no. 4, and shown on Admiralty Chart.

Outer Khor Musa Channel. Approaching vessels should steer for Khor Musa light float, in position 29° 36′ 32″ N., 49° 34′ 47″ E., and from there a course should be set along marked channel for buoy no. 12 in position 29° 56′ 03″ N., 49° 06′ 47″ E., bearing 308° 45′ from Khor Musa light float.

Note: Buoys South of and including buoy no. 12 above are referred to as Khor Musa Approaches Buoys. Buoys North of no. 12 above are referred to as Inner Khor Musa Buoys.

PILOTAGE: Compulsory. Service operated by Bandar Shahpour Port Authorities up to Bandar Shahpour, and by Oil Company between Bandar Shahpour and Bandar Mahshahr. Pilot vessel maintains station approximately 1 mile, 135° from Khor Musa Approaches buoy no. 12. Vessels requiring Pilot should approach within 2·5 cables of pilot vessel. During adverse weather conditions Pilot may proceed above bar for shelter; in such cases vessels should not attempt to proceed inward without Pilot. Essential that ETA Bandar Shahpour is transmitted to Coastal Radio Station EQZ as soon as possible after Pilot has embarked at pilot station. If for any reason a vessel is required to wait at any time at Bandar Shahpour, it will be advised through EQZ. Marine Operation Section, Bandar Mahshahr Terminal, on receipt of ETA Bandar Shahpour, will arrange for Berthing Master to board vessel at Bandar Shahpour anchorage and allocate jetty berth at Bandar Mahshahr.

BANDAR MAHSHAHR APPROACHES:

Navigational Dangers. Khor Musa Channel well marked with buoys and beacons, but attention is drawn to following:

(a) Outer Khor Musa Bar. 29° 59′ N., 49° 04′ E. and inner Khor Musa bar 30° 02′ N., 49° 01′ E., where restricted channel widths and depths exist and minimum depth 30 ft. Buoyed channel over bar is 600 ft. wide, but declared minimum depth of 30 ft. only applicable to central half of channel. Towards edges of channel, shallower depths exist.

(b) Qassar bin Siswan. A rocky shoal, in 30° 12′ N., 48° 58′ E. approximately 10 miles North of inner Khor Musa bar, marked by buoy no. 9 with minimum depth 6 ft.

(c) Khor Wastah to Beacon 18. Near sharp bend to East in channel, where tidal streams reach rate of over 4 knots at ebb.

Khor Musa Bar. Reached approximately 5 miles North-west from pilot vessel, and normally does not restrict passage of inward vessels.

Khor Musa Channel. After leaving bar, channel is followed up Khor Musa for about 32 miles to anchorage at Government Bandar Shahpour.

Bandar Shahpour. All inward bound ships required to anchor on arrival off Bandar Shahpour, where Pilot disembarks and a Government Medical Officer comes on board to grant pratique. For this purpose an accommodation ladder should be rigged and ready before arrival.

Bandar Mahshahr Roadstead. Shortly after leaving Bandar Shahpour, channel to Bandar Mahshahr entered between two beacons: port hand, no. 2, flashing red and starboard hand, no. 1, flashing white. Channel well marked by light beacons to entrance of Bandar Mahshahr, at beacon no. 4. All port hand lights flash red and all starboard hand lights flash white. Distance from Bandar Shahpour Anchorage to Bandar Mahshahr about 7 miles. Before arriving at Bandar Mahshahr, the accommodation ladder must be taken in and the ship's side cleared for tugs and berthing.

ANCHORAGE: No anchorages in Bandar Mahshahr or Bandar Mahshahr roadstead. Inward bound vessels must anchor on Northern side of Khor Musa channel, West of Bandar Shahpour, and await arrival of Oil Company Berthing Master.

WIND AND TIDE:

Khor Musa Bar. Classified as Standard Port in Admiralty Tide Tables, Volume II. Tidal predictions considerably affected by strong winds. Variations up to 3 hours in time, and 3·5 ft. in height have been recorded. North-westerly winds tend to lower level and retard predicted times of high and low waters; South-easterly winds have opposite effect. At Khor Musa bar, Mean Higher High Water has rise of 11·6 ft. and Mean Lower High Water has rise of 9·6 ft. above chart datum. Rise of tide at bar is also given by automatic tide indicator established near inner Khor Musa buoy no. 8. Masters may obtain expected depth of water on Khor Musa bar at any time by telephone to Marine Operations Office, Mahshahr, 4264.

Khor Musa. Tidal range increases between bar and Mahshahr. Maximum tidal velocities in Khor Musa about 3·5 knots on flood and 4·5 knots on ebb, at bend near inner Khor Musa beacon no. 18.

At Ports of Shahpur and Mahshahr. Average time high water is 1 hour 35 minutes later, and low water 16 minutes later than on Bar. Mean High High water has rise of 17·0 ft., and Mean Lower High Water rise of 14·6 ft. above Mahshahr chart datum.

Mahshahr Terminal. North-west prevailing winds blow across jetties, from shore. On average, 60% of prevailing winds from North-west, 30% from South-east, and 10% variable. North-west and South-east winds frequently reach Force 8, but winds from other directions normally do not exceed Force 4. Maximum tidal range 18·9 ft. At springs, flood tide has velocity of 2 knots and ebb tide velocity 3 knots.

MAX. SIZE: Maximum LOA 780 ft. Maximum permissible draft at Khor Musa Bar is 40 ft. Depths in tanker berths vary from 37 ft. at berth no. 4 up to 43·5 ft. at berth no. 6.

Safest and most desirable direction of approach to Cyrus Terminal is from South-east. Due to numerous obstructions noted above any approach should be made with extreme caution.

Navigation Aids. All structures located within Cyrus Terminal area display interrupted quick flashing white lights and sound a fog horn. The storage tanker "Pazargad" displays, as required, those day and night signals as prescribed by articles 4 (b) and 11 (c) of International Rules. The six mooring buoys for the Cyrus Terminal are not lighted.

DOCUMENTS:
Bill of Health.
Health Declaration (International Health Form to be filled out by Master on arrival).
Manifest (if with cargo certified by Iranian Consulate. If vessel is in ballast, no legalisation dues).
Clearance (from last port).
Register.
5 Crew Lists.
Passenger Manifest (if any passengers are on board).
5 Store Lists.
Bonded Store List.

PILOTAGE: Vessels will be boarded by Mooring Master of IPAC within 2 miles, approximately 180 degrees true from Pazargad. Mooring Master will advise Master on approaches to berth, mooring and unmooring, connecting and disconnecting submarine hose and all other operations within berthing area. All manoeuvring within loading berth area shall be done only in accordance with advice of an IPAC Mooring Master, subject to understanding that Master shall remain solely responsible for safety and proper manoeuvring. Master or qualified deck officer must be on bridge at all times while ship manoeuvring.

Vessels requested to have pilot ladder safely and securely rigged, ready for immediate use, and long enough to reach Mooring Master's launch. If at night, adequate lighting must be rigged overside for Mooring Master to approach side of ship and climb ladder safely. Adequate searchlights should also be rigged on both wings of bridge when mooring at night, to assist in running lines to buoys.

ANCHORAGE: Area bound by: 28° 59′ 00″ N. to 29° 01′ 00″ N. between meridians 49° 28′ 00″ E. to 49° 31′ 00″ E. Depth of water 24 fathoms.

Masters cautioned not to anchor North of Lat. 29° 01′ 00″ and East of Long. 49° 31′ 00″ as there are numerous flow lines on sea bed connecting various structures, storage tanker and submarine terminal. During winter months, November through March, severe South-easterly storms often encountered with little or no indication of impending storm. Vessels at anchor, and loading in submarine terminal, must have engines ready with full power for immediate use. Masters cautioned to use adequate scope of chain while anchored awaiting berth.

RESTRICTIONS: None. Terminal operates 24 hours per day, 7 days a week. Ships moored, loaded and unmoored at any hour, weather and other circumstances permitting. Terminal will never be closed due to religious holidays.
MAX. SIZE: Ship loaded by means of submarine pipe-line and one hose at one loading berth, located in approximately 140 ft. of water. Mooring buoys numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. Starting with no. 1 East of mooring and numbered consecutively in clockwise direction. Max. capacity 70,000 dwt., max. length 950 ft.
HEALTH: The rules governing quarantine are the same as found in other ports of the world. Owners should check with Agent respecting any recent imposition of anti-epidemic regulations and requirements for additional injections for crew members.
RADIO: Advice of Arrival: Incoming tankers must send incoming ETA at least 3 days before arrival. The IOE and PC main radio station at Abadan will handle IPAC's radio traffic, pre-arrival messages, etc., for vessels calling Cyrus Terminal. The station call sign is EQZ. Messages for IPAC should be prefixed "Cyrusiran IPAC" with copy to Agent. Further ETA messages should be sent when vessels 24 and 12 hours distant from Cyrus Terminal and at any other time any appreciable change occurs in original ETA or those subsequent thereto. The 12 hours ETA should include a positive statement regarding "ship's readiness to load" on arrival and the number of hours that will be required to discharge clean ballast after ship is berthed in mooring.

Radio Watches: While at the anchorage off Cyrus Terminal, vessels should maintain normal listening watches on both HF and WT.

VHF: Cyrus Terminal base (Pazargad) is not equipped with VHF radio telephone and does not maintain a radio watch. Vessels arriving at Cyrus Terminal may communicate with the Pazargad via blinker light.

TUGS: A charge for each tug movement will be made in accordance with rates established by IPAC. When tug/tugs are standing-by vessel mooring/unmooring, for use if required, the full fee will be charged. IPAC maintains launches to assist in mooring and unmooring.

BERTHING: (Also see "Max. Size".) Tankers to have ready: (a) Windlass and deck winches fore and aft. (b) Ten good manila or synthetic mooring lines, each not less than 120 fathoms in length, with efficient stoppers for each line. (c) On port or starboard side as directed, opposite ship's manifold, equipment capable of lifting submarine hose safely and expeditiously. Weight of lift 5·5 tons. (d) One bower anchor ready for immediate use, with minimum of 120 fathoms of chain. Anchors, chains and anchor windlass must be in good condition. (e) Equipped to fit flanges on submarine hoses, which are of ASA standards.

Permanent moorings in the berth consist of six steel cylindrical buoys each fitted with a quick release hook to which ship's mooring lines attached by mooring launches. The berth is laid out on a two heading basis, using ten mooring ropes (two bow, four beam, and two quarter and doubled on windward bow and quarter).

LOADING: Maximum crude oil loading rates for a tanker using one 12-in. deck hose and 20 p.s.i. at ship's rail is approximately 12,000 b.p.h. Requested that ships receive oil as fast as it can be delivered, with due regard for safety, also that any fittings on manifold such as "Y's", strainers, or mud boxes, which tend to restrict flow of crude oil into the ships, be removed before arrival at terminal. Preferable that connections be provided so that a 12-in. deck hose can be used.

MEDICAL: Neither medical nor hospital facilities provided by IPAC. Private doctors and hospital facilities available at Tehran or Abadan. Emergency hospital cases only can be handled on Kharg Island, approximately 53 miles from Cyrus Terminal.

DENSITY: Salinity approximately 20% more than normal sea water.

TIDE/CURRENT: Tidal range between 6 and 8 ft. Currents generally on axis of ship berthed in mooring; however, rotary currents can be expected.

FRESH WATER: No fresh water available.

FUEL: No bunkers or lubricants available.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: A continuous and efficient fire watch must be kept on deck and in engine room. In event of fire breaking out in any part of a vessel, however minor it may be, fire alarm must be given immediately. This will consist of a succession of long blasts on ship's whistle, together with a rapid continuous ringing of ship's bell.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: Present regulations allow each seaman to retain a maximum of 50 cigarettes or 1 oz. of tobacco or 5 cigars. The balance of all smoking items must be collected and carefully listed prior to arrival. This list will be checked by Customs before sealing locker. If any discrepancies, vessel is subject to a fine.

CONSULS: No consulates at Cyrus Terminal; consular or diplomatic representatives for most nations maintain offices in Tehran.

REPAIRS/STORES: Port is considered an "open roadstead", and under no circumstances may engines be shut down for repairs while ships are moored in submarine berth. No facilities for making vessel repairs. No spare parts, stores or supplies should be sent to Cyrus Terminal for delivery to a ship.

REPATRIATION: No facilities.

TIME: GMT plus 3½ hours.

SHORE LEAVE: There is no shore leave permitted due to lack of facilities. No visitors permitted on tankers loading.

INSPECTION SERVICE AND MARINE SURVEYS:

Petroleum inspection services available at Cyrus Terminal from Saybolt. IPAC also inspects cargoes on specific request of off-taker companies.

offshore from Kharg Island has been proclaimed a port area. Po area used by vessels manoeuvring to and from oil-loading termina The whole of area within port limits declared a Prohibited Ancho age, and, a Restricted Manoeuvring Area. Vessels must not ent within port limits unless Berthing Master is on Board.

PILOTAGE: Vessels should proceed to Eastern Anchorage, ou side port limits (Prohibited Anchorage and Manoeuvring Area) approximately 1½ miles East of Terminals, and await arrival of Berthing/Mooring Master.

ANCHORAGE: The approved Anchorage Area is to East of Eastern boundary of Port Limits, where holding ground is good. All vessels on arrival at Kharg must proceed to anchorage area and await instructions.

Prohibited Anchorages. Three Prohibited Anchorages in the Kharg Area:

(a) Submarine Pipe-lines. Anchorage prohibited in vicinity of submarine oil pipe-lines laid between North coast of Kharg Island and mainland near Ganaveh.

(b) Offshore Oil Platforms. Anchorage prohibited to South-west of Kharg Island in vicinity of numerous oil wells and drilling platforms extending 5 miles or more out to sea.

(c) Port Area. Area within 1½ to 1¾ miles offshore from East coast of Kharg Island generally, has been proclaimed a Port Area. Anchorage within Port Area prohibited.

Cautions. (a) Unlit mooring buoys at south east of Kharg Island (see Darius Terminal). (b) Oil Platforms to South-west of Kharg Island. (c) Aircraft approach lane South-east of a point mid-way between Naval Boat Harbour and Kharg North Buoy, in North-west corner of Port Area.

RADIO: IOE and PC main radio station at Abadan will handle radio traffic. Call sign EQZ. Vessels bound for Kharg Terminal should prefix messages with "Khargiran", and vessels bound Darius terminal should prefix with "Khargiran IPAC", in both cases with copy to Agents.

Radio Watches: While at anchor off Kharg Island, vessels should maintain normal listening watches on station EQZ on WT, and Kharg Terminal on VHF. Use of the ship's radio station and/or battery-charging equipment prohibited during cargo transfer operations.

VHF: Kharg Terminal equipped with VHF radio telephone, using international frequencies. Continuous watch kept on international calling and emergency Channel 16, frequency 156·80 mc/s. Other channels, available after contact has been established are: No. 12, 11 and 10. Masters recommended use this facility when within range, particularly when approaching port. In poor visibility, when vessel's approach may not be observed from shore, VHF communicatton may be the means of avoiding delay in mooring/berthing.

HEALTH: Tankers calling at Kharg Island and requiring radio pratique should cable Agents 48 hrs. prior to arrival advising the following details:

(a) Number of persons on board, including Master and passengers.
(b) last port of call.
(c) Ports of call during the voyage.
(d) Duration of voyage.
(e) If any person on board requires vaccination against smallpox or cholera.
(f) If there has been any case of illness of contagious nature.

If approved, the Master will be notified and the vessel will be allowed to enter port without yellow flag or night quarantine signal.

MEDICAL: Small hospital with clinic on Kharg operated by National Iranian Oil Company for minor medical treatment. More serious cases may have to be sent by air to Abadan Hospital. Any medical services required should be brought to attention of Medical Officer when he boards vessel to grant pratique.

DENSITY/TIDE/WINDS: Salinity of sea approximately 20% more than normal sea water. Surface temperature of sea ranges from 63° to 97° F depending on season. The extreme tidal range between 7 and 8 feet with maximum rate of about 1½ knots. Wind directions and velocity subject rapid change without warning and precautions necessary to avoid difficulties. FRESH WATER: Not available.

STORES: Commissary supplies, as well as steward's stores, in limited quantities, can be arranged through Agent with at least 5 days advance notice.

Not allowed to be placed on board while vessel is berthed, can be taken at anchor or boat comes alongside immediately after leaving jetty. Transfer of bonded stores is permitted, with Customs in attendance, while alongside.

LAUNDRY: No laundry services available.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: Each seaman will be issued with a pass which will be punched when crossing the jetty limits going out and in, and may be used once only. In addition to this pass, seamen should carry an Identification Card or Vaccination Certificate, bearing the owner's photograph.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: Present regulations allow each seaman to retain maximum 50 cigarettes or 1 ounce of tobacco or 5 cigars. The balance of all smoking items must be collected and carefully listed prior to arrival. This list will be checked by Customs before sealing locker. If any discrepancies, vessel subject to fine.

CONSULS: No consulates at Kharg Island; however, consular or diplomatic representatives for most nations maintain offices in Tehran, and some in Khorramshahr.

REPAIRS: Masters of vessels loading or discharging at Darius Terminal are advised that this port is considered an "open roadstead" and, under no circumstances may engines be shut down for repairs while ships are moored in submarine berth. No facilities at Darius Terminal for making vessels repairs, and it is emphasised that all vessels in submarine moorings must be in condition to clear immediately on instructions to do so. No repairs allowed alongside the Oil Loading Jetty at Kharg Terminal. Ship's main engines must be available at all times while alongside jetty.

REPATRIATION: The following is part of a letter from Oil Services Company of Iran to all shipping agencies Kharg Island.

"You are well acquainted with the fact that under normal operating circumstances only a very limited amount of sleeping accommodation is available at the Kharg United Seamen's Services Centre, which is the only, repeat, only available premises at Kharg for overnight lodgings. At present the United Seamen's Services Centre is undergoing modification, and when this is completed there will be only eighteen beds available. It is not O.S.C.O. policy to permit building of any additional sleeping accommodation.

"Due to the above limitation it will now be our policy to limit the number of people sleeping overnight in the United Seamen's Services Centre to eighteen and no other crew members will be accepted for overnight accommodation.

"It will be the responsibility of agencies to co-ordinate crew changes so that no overload is imposed on U.S.S. Centre.

"In order to ensure this, all crews arriving from abroad will have to travel via Abadan where ample overnight accommodation is available and where they can be retained until required at Kharg. Ship's crew leaving their ships should be retained aboard until a suitable commercial or charter flight is arranged.

"Any crew members arriving on Kharg direct from Teheran will not be allowed to land at Kharg unless

1. The vessel they are joining is at Kharg, or will be at Kharg before 0100 hrs next day
2. The agent has a written agreement from the manager of the U.S.S. that sleeping accommodation is available.

"If neither provisos 1 or 2 are complied with the crew members will be oncarried and accommodated in Abadan at the Agent's expense.

"To summarise: no sleeping accommodation is available at U.S.S. Centre unless the Agent obtains written agreement to that effect from U.S.S. Centre manager. Agents not having written agreement for sleeping accommodation will either have to return crew members to their respective ships or arrange commercial or charter flights for them to stay in Abadan.

"These measures will be put into effect on 15th July 1974; this will allow all agencies to inform their principals so that they can make alternative arrangements for crew changes."

AIRPORT: Small airport used by Oil Company aircraft and Iranair flights to and from Abadan. Due security arrangements movement of crew must be programmed through Agent.

TIME: GMT plus 3½ hours.

A. DARIUS TERMINAL (Additional requirements and details).

Terminal operates 24 hours per day, seven days a week. Ships moored, loaded and unmoored at any hour, weather and other circumstances permitting. Terminal will never be closed due to religious holidays.

LOCATION: A submarine terminal at South-east corner off Kharg Island 29° 12′ 40″ N. 50° 20′ 40″ E.

MOORING: Vessel requested to have pilot ladder safely and securely rigged, ready for immediate use, and long enough to reach Mooring Master's launch. Adequate searchlights should be rigged on both wings of bridge, when mooring at night, to assist in running lines to buoys.

Raising, connecting, disconnecting and lowering of submarine hoses will be performed by IPAC line handling crew as advised by Mooring Master, who will remain on board while ship in moorings. A capable winchman to be provided by ship.

Mooring buoys for Darius Terminal not lighted. Permanent moorings in berth consist of 5 steel cylindrical buoys each fitted with quick release hook, to which ship's mooring lines are attached by IPAC's mooring launches. The berth is laid out on the one heading basis, using both ship's bower anchors with seven mooring ropes (four beam, two quarter, and one stern). Mooring buoys numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. Starting with no. 1 East of the mooring and numbers running consecutively in a clockwise direction.

Tankers to have ready: (a) Windlass and both bower anchors, each with not less than 120 fathoms of chain. (b) Seven good manila or synthetic mooring lines, each not less than 120 fathoms in length, with efficient stoppers for each line. (c) On port side opposite ship's manifold, equipment capable of lifting submarine hose safely and expeditiously. Weight of lift 5 tons.

LOADING: Ship loaded by means of submarine pipe-line and two hoses at 1 loading berth, located approximately one mile offshore in over 65 ft. of water. Crude oil loading hoses lifted on port side. Maximum crude oil loading rate for tanker using two 12-in. deck hoses and 20 p.s.i. at ship's rail is approximately 5,000 tons per hour.

Order save ship time as well as to make berth available for others, requested that ships receive oil as fast as it can be delivered, with due regard for safety. Also requested that any fittings on ship's manifold such as "Y's", strainers, or mud boxes, which tend to restrict flow of crude oil into ship, be removed before arrival at terminal. It is preferable that connections be provided so that a 12-in. deck hose can be used. Vessels must be equipped to fit flanges on submarine hoses, which are of ASA standards.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS AND SAFETY: Full instructions will be given by Mooring Master but, vessel's personnel responsible for safety of vessel and must take all necessary precautions, whether or not so advised by Mooring Master.

During time vessel moored in Darius Terminal, a continuous and efficient fire watch must be kept on deck and in the engine room. In the event of fire breaking out in any part of vessel, however minor it may be, fire alarm must be given immediately. This will consist of a succession of long blasts on ship's whistle, together with a rapid and continuous ringing of ship's bell.

COMMUNICATION: Ship-to-shore communications, while ships in moorings, will be by portable VHF radiotelephone units. Mooring Master will advise Masters and Officers regarding emergency whistle signals set up for use in event VHF radiotelephone units become inoperative.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL ASSISTANCE: Vessels requiring emergency medical assistance should hoist international code flag "W" in daylight, and at night send "W" (·−−) on blinker light. To attract immediate attention, the same signal "W" (·−−) should be given on ship's whistle in either day or night hours. The signal should be repeated until acknowledged visually by either another ship in the moorings, or from IPAC launch. As soon as signal is received, Terminal officials will advise Agent as soon as possible of the emergency medical aid required.

FUEL: No bunkers available at submarine mooring. Bunkers may be loaded at I.O.E. and P.C. main jetty having obtained nomination through Iranian Oil participants in London. Tankers loading crude oil at I.O.E. and P.C. jetties have at all times priority for berth, over the vessels lifting bunkers only. Marine lubricants not available, except through marketing representatives by arrangement through Agent.

CURRENTS: Generally on the axis of the ship berthed in the mooring; however, rotary currents can be expected.

SHORE LEAVE: For personnel of vessels loading or unloading at the Terminal is arranged between Agent and Iranian Security Officer aboard vessel. Ship's personnel (other than medical or emergency cases) not allowed to disembark or embark at Terminal. All personnel going ashore must land at I.P.A.C. Small Boat Harbour. Sufficient personnel must be aboard at all times for letting go lines and clearing moorings immediately.

B. KHARG TERMINAL (Additional requirements and details)

OIL LOADING JETTY: "Tee" head with overall length of 6,038 ft. between fender faces. The fender to fender width is 138 ft., for the section South of trestle approach, and 124 ft. for North section. Jetty face is aligned in direction 172° 35′–352° 35′. Deck level 22·0 ft. above chart datum. The jetty, being on eastern side of Island, is sheltered from prevailing North-west winds, but exposed to South-east, when during winter storms, waves of 8 to 10 ft. often occur. A maximum wave height of 15 ft. has been recorded at Southern end of jetty, under such conditions.

SEA ISLAND TERMINAL: A two berth Sea Island Loading Terminal is in operation on the West side of Kharg Island.

The structure, 1,800 ft. long, is centred in 29° 13′ 29″ N., 50° 17′ 10″ E., and is aligned in a direction 154°/334°. It is designed to accommodate vessels of approximately 150,000/500,000 tons at No. 11 Berth on the West side, and vessels of approximately 150,000/300,000 tons at No. 12 Berth on the East side.

Unless advised to the contrary, all vessels should proceed to the anchorage East of the Main Jetty.

Vessels instructed to load at the Sea Island are required to rig an accommodation ladder to facilitate the boarding of Customs, Health, and Port Authorities. Agency work and crew changes must also be effected at the anchorage. There is no shore leave from the Sea Island.

The comparatively exposed position of the Sea Island makes additional moorings advisable and vessels should be prepared to use their maximum number of mooring lines. Quick-release hooks are provided for all mooring lines.

Minimum size vessel, about 150,000 dwt.

Loading rates of up to 30,000 t.p.h. to one berth can be achieved at the Sea Island.

Only fuel-oil bunkers are available.

Vessels may, if considered necessary, be required to retain on board sufficient ballast while loading cargo to ensure that the loading arms do not exceed their maximum designed elevation.

TUGS: Vessel normally berthed with assistance of two tugs which together with Berthing Master, meet vessel at port limits. The tugs will come alongside, normally one to the bow and one to the stern, as far forward and aft as is safe and practical. Tugs' towing equipment will be used on all occasions.

BERTHING: Approaching berth, two fibre-rope headlines should be lowered to mooring launch, for transfer to jetty. Two stern lines are then handled, preferably one at a time, to avoid possible fouling of vessel's propeller. Positioning of vessel's loading manifold in relation to Chiksan loading arms on jetty has to be carried out to a close tolerance, as directed by Berthing Master, to requirements of jetty operator. On inner berths, particularly nos. 2, 4 and 8, vessels are berthed head outwards, i.e. stern to trestle. In these cases vessels are towed stern first by after tug's hook wire, with forward tug either alongside or on towing hook, depending on tidal and weather conditions.

Mooring System. Under normal conditions, 12 lines are used to moor a vessel as follows: Forward: 3 headlines, 2 breast lines and 1 spring. Aft.: 3 stern lines, 2 breast lines and 1 spring.

During winter South-easterly storm period, it is usual to use one each additional headline and breast line, at each end making a total of 16 mooring lines. Breast lines and springs of wire rope are acceptable.

Berthing Limitations. Various combinations of wind, sea and tidal conditions, also size, length, ballasted trim and handling qualities of a vessel and available berth space, can effect decision to berth a vessel at Kharg. All these factors have to be evaluated before a final berthing decision is made.

Manifold Position. No berthing where manifold of vessel cannot be positioned, within horizontal limits of Chiksan loading unit arms due to adjacent occupied berths.

Note: On outside berths, very large vessels of light free board in excess of 70 ft., may be required to retain sufficient ballast, to ensure that their manifolds remain within the vertical range of the "Chiksan" loading arms, until sufficient cargo is loaded.

LOADING: Both Iranian light and heavy crude oils available at all jetty berths. Crude oil is delivered to jetty from Tank Farm, situated on central plateau of Island, by gravity flow through four 48-in. diameter pipe-lines. Loading rates of up to 11,500 tons per hour to one berth can be achieved at Kharg Terminal. Up to 45,000 tons per hour can be delivered to all 10 berths simultaneously.

FUEL: Bunkering facilities at each berth. Two grades available marine fuel oil and marine diesel oil. Bunkers may be loaded up to a maximum rate of 1,000 tons per hour, and bunkering will normally commence before loading cargo. Only fuel oil available at Sea Island berths.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: A copy of the "Fire and Safety Regulations" notice is given to Master of every vessel by Berthing Master at Anchorage. Five additional copies are passed aboard vessel when it arrives alongside jetty. These extra copies must be posted in conspicuous places throughout the vessel. While a vessel is within Port Area a continuous and efficient Fire Watch shall be maintained on deck and in the engine room. In event of fire, however minor it may be, the Fire Alarm shall be given immediately as follows:

On Board Vessel: Rapid and continuous ringing of ship's bell, together with a succession of long blasts on the ship's whistle or siren.

On Jetty or elsewhere in Port Area: Rapid and continuous ringing of the gongs on the jetty. A push-button alarm system is provided at each berth.

SHORE LEAVE: Fully air-conditioned Recreation Centre operated by United Seamen's Services, situated close to shore end of the trestle to the Oil Loading Jetty. Facilities include: cinema, film exchange, restaurant, dining-room and bar, library and waiting-room, PX gift shop, 2 billiards and snooker tables, 2 table tennis tables, darts, chess, etc., official money exchange.

Note: Shore leave restricted to grounds and buildings of Recreation Centre only.

C. KHEMCO TERMINAL: (Additional requirements and details)
OPERATOR: Kharg Chemical Company, Ltd. (Khemco), The Pahlavi Foundation Building 178 Pahlavi Avenue, Tehran, Iran. Cable Address: "Chemkharg" Tehran. Telex: 2402 Khemco Tn.
LOCATION: Khemco Terminal dolphin jetty is located at the South-east corner of Kharg Island 29° 12′ 45″ N. 50° 20′ 05″ E.
APPROACHES: Vessels entering Kharg Island road must not approach or anchor West of long. 50° 21′ 30″ East (being approximately one mile East of Khemco Terminal), unless a company's Berthing Master is on board.
PILOTAGE: Company has own Berthing Masters, who will board vessels outside the port area and will pilot and berth the vessel alongside Khemco jetty. Berthing Masters will also carry out the duties of safety officer.

Vessels with the Berthing Master on board shall display the international flag "H" in a prominent position while manoeuvring under his advice. This flag will be in addition to the "Q" flag, being already hoisted for quarantine purposes.

Vessels are requested to have a clean pilot ladder safely secured at the leeside of the ship for the Berthing Master. The pilot ladder should be long enough to reach the pilot tug or launch. At night adequate lighting for the pilot ladder shall be installed.

Pilotage, berthing, mooring and sailing of vessels will be carried out in accordance with instructions of the Mooring Masters, subject to the understanding that in all circumstances the Master of the vessel being manoeuvred shall remain solely responsible for the safety, proper navigation and manoeuvring of his vessel. The Master or a qualified ship's deck officer must be on the bridge at all times while the vessel is underway or unmoored.

NOTICE OF READINESS: Notice of readiness will not be accepted at the time of arrival unless the vessel is in all respects ready to load. Arrival time will be considered as the time the berthing Master boards the vessel or the time that the vessel anchors, whichever occurs first.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels can be berthed day or night in two directions using ship's moorings. Occasionally bow anchor will be used during berthing operation.

MAX. SIZE: Length of pier is 1180 ft. with maximum of 42 ft. water alongside at MLLW.

RADIO: The IOE and PC main radio station at Abadan will handle Khemco's radio traffic. The station call sign is EQZ. Messages for Khemco should be prefixed with "Khargiran Khemco", with copy to Agent.

Advice of Arrival. It is important that ships establish radio contact with Khemco, when three days distance from Kharg Island, and maintain this contact until just prior to arrival at the terminal. All ships should send a 72 hours ETA message to Khemco, giving the best estimate of the ship's arrival time at Kharg anchorage. The first ETA message should also include a definite statement of the details of manifold dimensions, cargo requirement, agent and any other necessary information. Further ETA messages should be sent to Khemco when the vessel is 24 hours and 12 hours distant from Kharg Island and at any other time if any appreciable change occurs in the original ETA or those subsequent thereto. The 12 hour ETA should include a positive statement regarding ship's readiness to load on arrival, and the number of hours required to discharge clean ballast after ship has berthed.

TUGS: Two 2,000 h.p. and one 1,000 h.p. diesel tugs are provided by the Company. Normally two tugs are used for berthing and one for unberthing, depending on the Berthing Master's discretion. Tugs moorings are provided by the company and vessels are requested to have good heaving lines handy on the deck for picking up the tug lines. All tugs are equipped with fire-fighting equipment, including a foam system, which can be used when required.

MOORING: If, in the opinion of the Berthing Master, the vessel is not equipped with adequate mooring facilities, lines or gear, he will so inform vessel's Master, and in such event shall not be brought into berth until such facilities, lines or gear are deemed satisfactory.

Mooring Launches. Four powerful mooring launches are provided by the Company and normally one is used during berthing and unberthing operations.

Mooring Lines. Under normal weather conditions the following mooring lines are required: forward: 3 head lines, 2 breast lines, 1 spring; aft.: 3 stern lines, 2 breast lines, 1 spring.

All lines to be of 120 fathoms, with the exception of the breast lines, being of shorter length. No wire lines are to be used at Khemco jetty.

During abnormal conditions, especially during winter periods, some additional four lines are required for extra moorings.

In most cases it might be necessary to pass all forward lines from the bow and all stern lines from the poop.

Dolphins. The jetty consists of one main and eight smaller dolphins. Four on either side of the main dolphin are for ships mooring. The main dolphin is connected to the shore via a trestle and causeway. Head and stern lines are passed to the dolphins by means of line handling launches and others by heaving lines. All mooring dolphins are fitted with quick-release hooks.

BERTHING: A. Berthing Masters. Vessels to be berthed at Khemco jetty will be boarded by a company's Berthing Master at Kharg anchorage and after advising the ship's Master of all port formalities, will normally take two tugs (one to the bow and one to the stern) alongside while proceeding to the jetty.

B. Berth Turn. Vessels to load at Khemco jetty will normally be accepted and the berth will be assigned to the vessel in order of arrival and nomination. In the event the berthing is delayed by weather or other reasons, vessels will keep their positions in line. Vessels leaving the port area on account of weather or other reasons should keep in contact with the terminal in order that they will be available when weather moderates. Khemco reserves the right to load vessels out of turn following the return of good weather, to the extent that such loading out of turn does not materially delay the loading of other vessels in line. For example, in the event that weather or other reasons make it necessary for vessels awaiting berth to leave the terminal and put to sea, Khemco may load another vessel after the port opens, but before the return of the vessels waiting in line ahead of it. And further, Khemco reserves the right to decline to berth a specific vessel if its condition or facilities are unsafe for berthing or loading, but berths other vessels "out of turn".

C. Gangway. When alongside the jetty, vessels shall provide an efficient gangway with a net rigged underneath. During the hours of darkness, they shall install adequate safe lighting for the gangway. These lights are in additions to those used for the deck illumination.

D. Sailing. All lines are dropped by means of quick-release hooks, fitted on all dolphins and under normal conditions one tug is used on the hook at the bow of the vessel in order to clear her off the berth. Usually the documents are signed before departure, unless the berth is needed for another ship.

BALLAST: A. Rules and Regulations. Vessels arriving at Kharg should maintain a reasonable draft fore and aft for safe manoeuvring and berthing. When conditions permit, the Berthing Master will advise the Master to commence discharging ballast. It is the Master's responsibility to see that dirty ballast, whatsoever, is not pumped or spilled over board. Only clean ballast or bilge water may be discharged within 50 miles of the coast-line. In the event of contaminated ballast or bilge water, the vessel will be required to divert this material to a ship's slop tank. Otherwise, the vessel may be unberthed and returned to a point not less than 50 miles from the coast line to discharge contaminated ballast.

There are no ballast disposal facilities at Kharg Island.

Masters are requested to arrive at Kharg with clean tanks, pipelines, sea suctions, strainers and pumps. Ships will not be accepted for loading if evidence of any dirty ballast is observed.

Any vessel returned to a position at least 50 miles off-shore to discharge dirty ballast, or for any similar reason, automatically nullifies any "Notice of Readiness" already tendered and loses any priority held for loading. The vessel will be entered for loading at the time of second arrival when a new "Notice of Readiness" will be tendered.

B. Loading and Deballasting Simultaneously. Vessels are permitted to load cargo and discharge clean ballast at the same time provided all safety and other aspects are observed.

C. Tank Cleaning. Ship-tank cleaning will not be allowed at the pier. Ships will be allowed to draw sea water ballast while alongside.

LOADING: A. Ship's Gear. Although the jetty is equipped with a boom to handle loading hoses, ships are requested to rig jetty side boom in a proper and safe manner for possible use. Masters will be responsible for ensuring that the ships gear or fittings are in good working order and will not in any way interfere with or hamper the working of the facilities.

B. Inspection. After the vessel has been berthed and all formalities carried out the vessel will be boarded by the loading Master. A joint inspection will be made by an authorised ship's officer and the loading Master after the exchange of information and documents. If the ship's tanks, piping or equipment are in such condition that a potential hazard exists, the ship will be refused permission to load until such hazards are corrected. In any case, the owners or charterers of the ship will be notified of any delay or refusal to load because of hazardous conditions and any expense due to such delay or refusal to load will be borne by owners.

If the ship does not arrive with tanks and/or piping sufficiently cooled to permit loading, the time required to cool down shall not be counted as lay time. Any expenses, including LPG furnished by company, demurrage, etc., involved with the cool-down period and operation shall be borne by the owners or charterers of the vessel.

Should the vessel arrive at the loading terminal with inert gas in its tanks, after purging from a previous cargo of ammonia or other gas to prevent contamination of shore lines and facilities, the inert gas should be vented if possible before ship is moored. If the ship's tanks to be loaded previously contained a product different from what is to be loaded, the Master shall verify that the tanks are clean and ready to receive Kharg Chemical cargo.

C. Loading Propane and/or Butane. 1. General Information. No loading will begin until the ship is safely moored with fibre mooring lines, gangway lowered and secured, the ship grounded and ground tested, ship's and shore emergency fire hose pressurised and ready for use, fire wire in place, and ship/shore communications tested and in good working order.

All loading personnel will wear fibreglass hard hats, leather-palmed gloves, cotton long-sleeved shirts, long cotton trousers, cotton socks, and sandals or shoes that do not have spark-generating material, such as steel nails, cleats, toe or heel plates. Non-sparking tools will be used in making hose and ground connections. Silk clothing or headgear will not be permitted due to its affinity for collecting static electricity. Ship's grounds will be tested for continuity to shore before product or vapours pass through hoses.

Since the LPG may not contain an odorant, particular care shall be taken that the atmosphere does not become explosive. If there is no air movement, explosimeter readings will be taken hourly, and if an explosive atmosphere exists, loading shall stop until conditions change. Prior to loading the main cargo a small quantity of propane and/or butane will be loaded or circulated initially for cooling down purposes. The amount set aside for cooling down will depend on whether the cool down is for the ship's lines or ship's tanks. Generally, the ship's lines will be cooled down before loading each parcel.

Although a small amount of refrigerated LPG is normally retained in the bottoms of the ship's cargo tank during the trip to Kharg Island, the tank vapour space and tank walls are warmer. For a period of about an hour while low temperature circulation of the shore lines continues, a small amount of propane may be taken by the ship from cargo holds and sprayed into ship's tanks. This method cools the upper parts of the ship's tanks and vapour spaces. If propane is taken from shore lines, this is replaced from shore tankage as the circulating pump suction is "floating" on the shore tank outlet line.

The enclosed spaces around ship cargo tanks and double bulkheads should be frequently monitored by ship's personnel for cargo leakage.

The measures for dealing with any leakage to prevent the temperature of the hull structure from falling below a safe level depends upon the ship's design. The Master shall have standing orders for dealing with any leakage observed on the ship and shall so inform the Loading Master.

2. Loading Master and Jetty Operator. Once the vessel has been berthed, berth will be manned at all times by an operator, who will be stationed in the immediate vicinity of the berth loading bay. All information and forms will be passed by the Loading Master prior to commencement of loading.

3. Alarms. All alarm systems on vessel and communications between the jetty and control room shall be checked before loading is begun. Masters are requested to make the Loading Master fully familiar with the vessel's alarm systems. Otherwise, confusion may occur between loading alarms and fire alarms.

4. Connecting Loading Hoses. The loading and vapour-return hoses will be well supported and laid along the pier. Each hose and hose valve will be supported by jacks on ship's deck. Hoses will be protected by rope mesh. Once the loading hoses are connected they will be adjusted during loading operations. The shore and ship personnel shall be careful not to kink, stretch or damage hoses. Hoses not used will be blanked. Hose flanges will be completely bolted and shrouded.

Size of Hoses: propane 8 in. (with 8 in. ASA 150 flanges); butane 8 in. (with 8 in. ASA 150 flanges); vapour 6 in. (6 in. ASA flanges).

5. Air. It is most important that no air is allowed to enter either the ship or shore loading lines. All hoses and spools must be purged free of air after being connected.

Provision is made on shore for purging air from LPG and vent hoses on completion of hose connection to ship and for purging LPG vapour from hoses before disconnecting when loading is finished. Provision is made to supply inert gas for this purpose. Provision is also made for disposal of remaining liquid in hoses safely and effectively from shore connection of hoses before disconnecting and gas purging of hoses when loading is finished. Valves and connections are provided for this purpose on the shore end. All ice must be removed from around hose insulating gasket prior to hose disconnection. Cargo hoses shall be blanked and be removed from ship. Ground wires will remain connected until ship's gangway is removed and ship is ready to depart.

6. Loading Pressure. Loading pressure should not exceed 50 psi at any time.

7. Ship's Compressor. During loading, the ship may pump vapours ashore via the ship's compressor. The Loading Master should be advised before the compressor is started or stopped.

8. Loading Rates. Maximum loading rates for LPG products are as follows:

|---|---|
| Propane (two lines) | 10,900 barrels per hour |
| Butane (two lines) | 7,800 ,, ,, ,, |
| Propane (one line, pumping) | 7,000 ,, ,, ,, |
| Butane (one line gravitating) | 3,900 ,, ,, ,, |

It is more important that the Loading Master be informed before any changes are made by the ship in the vapour compression operation. He then will inform the shore loading area. Starting and stopping compressors on the ship affect the shore tank pressures and can result in damage to tanks and pumps. Ship's valves should under no circumstances be partially or completely closed against LPG flow without first informing the Loading Master. Pumping rates will normally be adjusted from the shore loading area.

The ship's Master is responsible for his ship at all times. The company Loading Master will advise the Master in respect to loading pressures and hazards, but will not direct the loading except as may be necessary to protect their terminal's facilities or to prevent any hazards. Manipulation of ship's valves is the direct responsibility of ship's personnel.

LPG loading will be done on a 24-hours basis; hence the Master of the vessel, while alongside the LPG loading pier, will be responsible for the provision of adequate explosion proof lights, fittings and switches in all parts of the vessel where work is being carried out in any way connected with loading of LPG.

The ship's pipelines/vent system and/or liquification system shall be manifolded so that only those pipelines connected to the ship's tank being loaded will be open. All other pipelines' lines shall be closed and outlets blinded.

All doorways, vents, ports, air-conditioner intakes and other openings into which gaseous vapours could enter shall be closed.

During loading, there shall be no smoking, no open lights and no galley fire on the ship or in the vicinity of the pier.

Package goods, bunkers, water, freight and ship stores shall not be loaded or discharged during loading. Visitors will not be permitted on the ship during loading.

Loading of LPG shall be stopped whenever weather or sea conditions are hazardous to the ship, dolphins, LPG hose and manifold, adjacent vessels or personnel. The Senior Terminal Representative and authorised Ship's Officer shall jointly judge if such conditions exist. In case of dispute, the Senior Terminal Representative's judgment shall be followed.

During severe thunder storms, sand storms and electrical storm in the vicinity of the ship, loading shall cease until the storm subsides.

9. Strainer Boxes. It is important that no ice, pipe scale, etc., b allowed into the vessels' tanks. The ship should have straine placed immediately upstream of the manifold valves. A careful watc must be kept on the pressure to prevent the strainers being blocke and periodically the strainers should be cleaned by using the built- wiper, which should be turned clockwise only. In case of an absolu blockage loading will have to be suspended and the strainer cleane if necessary by removal. If one of the vessel's strainers is blocked, i may be possible to continue on the other hose.

10. Completion of Loading. A reduction in loading rate befo topping of the final tank or tanks may be arranged through the Loading Master by the ship's officer in charge. When the vessel asks for slow rate, the loading pump will be shut-down and valves re-aligne for circulation. The vessel should then complete loading at its ow controlled rate off the circulation flow. The terminal might ask for suspension of loading while realigning the circulation pump. Whe required to stop completely, the Loading Master should be advised

11. Hose Disconnection. When disconnecting hoses in order t change or clean a strainer at the time of completion of loading, th following points must be remembered:

(a) All ice must be removed from around the hose insulating gaske prior to disconnecting.

(b) The hoses and hose valves must be secured to the vessel t avoid slipping or twisting. This is best done with rope and/o pulleys.

(c) The hose valves and ship's manifold valves must be shut.

(d) The vessel's vent valves must be open either to the atmosphe or to the vapour return hoses.

(e) The ship's strainer and all pipes and flanges between the hos and manifold valves must be de-iced.

(f) The hose can then be disconnected, but the ship's manifol valves, vapour return valves and hose valves must be shut.

D. Loading of Bulk Sulphur. All rules and regulations concernin LPG loading also apply to sulphur.

1. Inspection. The joint inspection of the ship and the ship's hold to be loaded with sulphur will be made by the Loading Master an authorised ship's officer. If the condition of the ship's holds presen a potential hazard to personnel, sea or shore facilities, the ship wi be refused permission to load until conditions are corrected. Th Master shall bear the responsibility for notifying the owners o charterers of the ship of any delay or refusal to load because o hazardous conditions and any expenses due to such delay or refusa to load shall be borne by them. The company reserves the right t refuse loading and their decision is final.

If the ship's cargo holds are not clean or are so hot and/or contai residue (such as excessive rust, sand-scrap iron, minerals, or miner dust) that alone or in combination with sulphur or sulphur du would contaminate sulphur being loaded, oxidise with sulphur, o cause a fire or explosion of the sulphur cargo, permission to loa sulphur will be withheld until this condition is corrected.

2. General Information. Bulk Sulphur is loaded at 500 tons pe hour via a conveyor. The conveyor extends from the shore stora area along the causeway, trestle and finally to the main dolphi close to the ship's holds.

No loading will begin until the ship is safely grounded, moore with fibre lines, fire hoses pressurised, ship-to-shore communications operable and the chute grounded.

In order to minimise movement of fine sulphur dust, cowl ventilators serving hold into which sulphur is being loaded shall be blanke off to prevent circulation of air. Package goods, bunkers, wate freight, ship stores shall not be loaded or discharged during or afte sulphur loading.

When sulphur is loaded in a deep hold with general cargo in th tween deck hold above the sulphur, the ship's Master will be responsible for installing a dust proof wooden bulk head enclosure in th hatchways from the over deck of the lower hold to the weather dec forming a tight enclosure to prevent sulphur dust from entering th tween decks during loading. Ceilings shall be tight to prevent sulphur dust from entering bilges. Any chinking at tank tops or bilg will be of non-combustible material.

Masters to maintain sufficient personnel to adjust and maintai chute position, gangways and keep mooring lines taut as ship i loaded.

If sulphur is loaded into a hatch already containing sulphu representative samples may be requested by the terminal to determine quality.

Since the sulphur loading facility at the pier is fixed the ship wi be warped and moored so that various ships holds that will recei sulphur can be loaded.

After each warping the ship will be moored and grounded an chute grounded. The hold to be loaded will be checked with an explosimeter to be certain that the hold is not in the explosive rang Personnel entering cargo holds for inspection must be equippe with life-lines and belts with non-sparking hardware, goggles wi green tinted lenses, and self-contained breathing apparatus with mask covering eyes and nose. The life-lines shall be of sufficie length and strength that one line could be used to pull a man out of hatch. For each man working in the hold one man on deck mus attend his life-lines. Personnel in the hold must wear gauntlet glove high-top shoes, long cotton socks, a fibre glass hard hat with cotton cap ear flaps covering the head and ears, pants fastened the cuff and long-sleeve shirts buttoned at the neck and wrists. S clothing or headgear will not be permitted due to its affinity for collecting static. Cotton clothing material is preferred.

Only the hatch being loaded with sulphur will be open. All other ship hold hatches must be closed. All doorways, vents, ports, air scoops, air conditioner intakes and other openings into which sulphur dust could enter should be closed during loading. After loading and trimming a hold, the hold hatch cover shall be closed and the next hatch to receive sulphur will be opened. The pier sulphur loading tower can be raised and lowered as well as rotated in order that the cargo hold being loaded can be evenly trimmed with little or no manual trimming. Each time the tower is moved the chute shall be grounded. No hand cargo load trimming will be allowed while the pier loading sulphur tower is in operation. The tower downspout drop distance will be adjusted to minimise sulphur dusting.

The loading-tower operator will be advised by authorised ship's personnel on the deck by use of agreed hand signals of any hazards such as deck cargo, life boats, aerial guy wires, etc., that can do damage to loading tower. Personnel will work upwind as much as possible to minimise sulphur dust inhalation or sulphur on skin. Eye baths and showers are located at the dock and will be ready for use if needed.

No loading will be done until all personnel are out of ship's cargo holds. The ship's authorised officer shall assign personnel to sweep sulphur dust into cargo holds to minimise pollution of the adjacent sea water. If shovels or scoops are used the shovels must be of a non-sparking material such as monel. Personnel working cargo holds or on deck shall not be permitted to wear shoes with steel nails, or metal heels or toe plates that could cause sparking.

Loading of sulphur will be stopped whenever weather or sea conditions are hazardous to the ship, pier, dolphins, sulphur loading tower, pier equipment, adjacent vessels or personnel.

Sulphur dust, like most poor electrical conductors rapidly acquires a static charge under dry atmospheric conditions. To minimise this hazard the loading tower is equipped with water spray nozzles to humidify the sulphur and reduce dusting. Conveyor hoppers are also equipped with sprays.

During severe weather conditions loading will cease and cargo hold hatches shall be closed until the storm or seas subside.

Sulphur loading will be done on a 24-hour basis. The Master of the vessel while alongside the sulphur loading pier will be responsible for the provision of adequate explosion proof lights, fittings and switches in all parts of the vessel where work is being carried out in any way connected with loading. The Master of the vessel will assign authorised ship's officers and men as deemed necessary for the safe loading of the ship and to adjust mooring lines and keep sulphur dusting to a minimum.

FUEL: Presently no bunker facilities are available at Khemco jetty. However, two grades (marine fuel oil and marine diesel oil) are available at IOE & PC main jetty. This is supplied to vessels having made previous arrangements and obtained nomination.

WEATHER: A. Climate. The climate along the coast of Kharg Island is generally mild. The days in mid-summer are extremely warm and humid with the temperature reaching 117° F. (47° C.) and a relative humidity ranging from 10% to 98%. The winter months, from November to March, are pleasant with a minimum temperature of about 39° F. (4° C.). Freezing weather is uncommon.

C. Winds. Wind directions and velocity are subject to rapid change without warning and precautions are necessary to avoid difficulties. The heaviest seas and swells are from the North-east through South-east. The prevailing wind for most of the year is from the North-west, but during the winter period strong South-easterly storms occur with very little warning. The Khemco jetty is sheltered from the North-west winds.

D. Tides. The tidal range is between 7 and 8 ft., with a maximum rate of about one and a half knots. The tidal streams run approximately parallel to the line of the jetty, with occasional cross currents.

E. Sea Temperatures. The surface temperature of the sea ranges from 63° F. to 97° F., depending on the season.

SAFETY: Masters of vessels are responsible for the safety of their vessels including, but not limited to compliance with official precautions, and must take all necessary precautions while the vessels are alongside the Khemco jetty. While the vessels are alongside the jetty, all personnel must comply with all ports' safety rules and regulations.

GENERAL: (a) Shore Leave. Shore leave at the terminal must be arranged between Master and ship's agent. Sufficient personnel must be on board at all times for emergencies.

(b) Visitors. Due to hazards involved, no visitors are allowed while the vessel is alongside the Khemco jetty.

(c) Light Dues. A charge of half a rial per gross registered ton is levied on each vessel for light dues by the Iranian Government. This is in addition to light dues for Middle East navigation. The company shall have no responsibility in respect of any taxes, dues, or other charges levied by the Iranian Government or any of its departments or agencies.

(d) Painting and Scaling. Painting, chipping, scaling and any repairs on deck or overside is strictly prohibited while vessel is alongside the Khemco jetty.

(e) Garbage. Dumping of garbage and refuse strictly prohibited in port area.

(f) Repairs. No workshops or other facilities for repairs at Kharg Island.

(g) Customs. There are customs and other official offices on the Island. Vessel will normally be boarded by a custom director, immigration officer and director of Ports and Shipping.

(h) Consulates. No consulates on Kharg Island. Nearest consulates or diplomatic representatives are at Khorramshahr.

(i) Marine Surveyor. No marine surveyor on the Island, but can be available in 48 hours notice through ship's agent.

(j) Recreation Centre. Use of Seamen's Club will be cleared through NIOC and Consortium. If used, transportation to and from Club will be provided by the Agent.

(k) Supplies. No provision of any kind is available at Kharg Island. No fresh water is available for delivery to the ships. No laundry services are available at Kharg Island.

(l) Mail. Regular plane services between Kharg Island and the mainland and mail receiving and dispatching can be arranged through ship's Agent.

KHORRAMSHAHR: 30.26 N. 48.10 E.

Khorramshahr is in Province of Khuzistan. Town is the seat of a Governor and a base for Imperial Iranian Navy with an admiral permanently stationed in command.

Khorramshahr lies at confluence of Karoon and Shatt-el-Arab Rivers and is principal commercial port of Iran. Khorramshahr is terminus for Imperial Iranian Railway system and regular train service to rest of country is available. Good asphalt road connecting Khorramshahr to other major cities in country.

DOCUMENTS:

(a) Iraqi Quarantine Officer. Vessels arriving Outer Bar (Shatt-el-Arab pilot station) will be boarded by Iraqi Quarantine Officer who will check all crew vaccination cards. Masters requested notify Fao Quarantine Office at least 18 hours prior vessel's arrival Outer Bar giving exact arrival time Outer Bar enabling Quarantine personnel board vessel immediately. Upon arrival Outer Bar, Master should have ready a copy of crew List and crew vaccination certificates for presentation to Quarantine Officer.

(b) Iranian Quarantine Officer. Upon arrival Khorramshahr anchorage and prior berthing, the Iranian Quarantine Officer will board vessel. He requires one copy Crew List, and all vaccination cards should be available for inspection.

(c) Customs Officer. Customs officer boards ship at anchorage or alongside Khorramshahr jetty (in case of immediate berthing) and requires following documents:

Crew List (2 copies).

Crew List plus (1 copy).

Arrival information form of the port Administration will be supplied to the Master in duplicate upon arrival, by a port representative. This form should be filled and returned to the port Berthing Master.

(e) Agents.

Crew List (2 copies, for arranging shore passes).

Order avoid any delay in entering and discharging, the following documents must be sent by all loading port Agents to Khorramshahr Agents as far in advance of vessel's arrival as possible:

Cargo Manifest (6 copies).

Freight Manifest (2 copies).

B/L Copies (2 copies each).

All cargo shown on manifest must be landed at the port, and it is therefore essential that short-shipments, cancellations, diversions etc. (if any) be reported earliest possible and manifest should be corrected before submission to Port Authorities to avoid payment of fines. Stowage plans and Hatch Lists should also be sent ahead, giving ample time to be studied by Cargo Supervisor for unloading arrangements.

PILOTAGE: With exception of ships of Government of Iran or Iraq and sailing craft, pilotage compulsory for all vessels entering, leaving or navigating in the Shatt-el-Arab. Pilotage in river outside harbour limits of Khorramshahr conducted by river pilot; within limits of Port by Harbour Master.

Vessels entering Shatt-el-Arab boarded by river pilot from pilot vessel situated in proximity of Rooka Buoy (29° 49′ N. and 48° 47′ E.), showing a white flash every six seconds and equipped with Radar Reflector.

Vessels bound for Khorramshahr are conducted by river pilot as far as Khorramshahr Anchorage, from where a Harbour Master (Iranian) will board vessel and berth her as necessary.

Pilotage, dredging and other navigational dues are collected by Basrah Port Authorities and must be settled directly with Iraqi Maritime Transport Co. Ltd., Basrah, Iraq.

N.B. Owners having vessels bound for Khorramshahr or Abadan should contact Iraqi Maritime Transport Co. Ltd., Basrah, cables "Bawakhir", Basrah, about arranging of Shatt-el-Arab pilotage. Owners should also put Messrs. Iraqi Maritime Transport Co. Ltd. in funds by remittance well in time before vessel reaches the Outer Bar of Shatt-el-Arab in order to cover port tonnage dues, pilotage and dredging dues for sailing from Outer Bar to Abadan or Khorramshahr and return.

ANCHORAGES: On arrival off the pilot boat vessel can anchor with no depth restriction. On entering the Shatt-el-Arab River the following are the recognised anchorages:

Kasba Anchorage, position about 2 miles above Fao with a maximum depth of 35 ft. in fresh water.

Bawarda Anchorage, position about 2 miles above Abadan with a maximum depth of 31 ft. in fresh water.

Hartha Point, position about 20 miles above Abadan and 15 miles below Khorramshahr with a maximum depth of 35 ft. in fresh water. Hartha Point is the anchorage to enable vessel's to lighten to 29 ft. in fresh water to enable them to cross the Karun Bar.

Abu Flus, position about 16 miles above Hartha Point and about 14 miles below Basrah (Khora Anchorage) with a maximum depth of 29 ft. in fresh water.

MAX. SIZE: Maximum permissible length for vessels calling Khorramshahr is 525 ft. Maximum draft for crossing Karun Bar and also at Khorramshahr (Failieth) anchorage is 29 ft. fresh water. The depth alongside Berth Nos. 1 to 3 is 27 ft., Berth Nos. 4 to 7 is 26 ft., and Berth Nos 8 and 9 is 29 ft.

SPEED RESTRICTIONS: Engine speed must be reduced well in advance so that the vessel's speed when passing jetties at Khorramshahr and Abadan will not exceed 3½ knots for vessels with more than 20 ft. draft, and 5 knots for all other vessels of over 100 gross registered tons.

The same speed restrictions will apply in the Arband Rud when passing ships at anchor with barges or other vessels moored alongside, tugs with barges or other vessels in tow, and vessels engaged in dredging or other salvage work.

SHIPS' REGISTRATION:

(1) Conditions of Registration

(a) This registration scheme to apply at all times whether jetties or anchorages are conjested or not.

(b) Registration for berthing turn at Khorramshahr can only be effected provided all Khorramshahr cargo is available and vessel in all respects ready to discharge. Availability of cargo must be proven by submission of the respective stowage plan if a vessel is required to discharge at Abadan and/or Basrah whilst awaiting berthing turn.

(Note: A vessel arriving in the river with a draft exceeding 27 ft. may register and reduce her draft to 27 ft. while awaiting turn. Should the turn be lost the vessel may re-register turn as at the date and time her allotted berth became vacant.)

(2) Times of Registration

(a) All Masters of vessels calling at the port of Khorramshahr to send ETA messages via Khorramshahr port radio station E.Q.K. and to telegraph Port Director Khorramshahr and Agents exact time arrived/anchored outer bar pilot station, also via Khorramshahr port radio immediately upon arrival, in GMT, for registration of ships, berthing turn. Messages sent in any other way than Khorramshahr port wireless will be null and void.

Failing prompt telegraphic advice of arrival/anchored time as aforesaid, the time of the telegraphic message from Master giving anchoring time will be considered as arrival, which means that, if the arrival telegram is received several hours after actual arrival, the registration time will be considered as from the time the Khorramshahr port radio has been contacted by the vessel, which will be to the disadvantage of the vessel concerned. The principals are therefore requested to alert all Masters of the above regulation and ensure that the arrival telegram is sent soonest possible after arrival at outer bar and via Khorramshahr port radio station E.Q.K.

(b) Vessels proceeding from Abadan to Khorramshar will register at the time of unberthing at Abadan (or if at anchorage at the time of weighing anchor) plus two hours.

(c) Vessels having to anchor at Abu Flus when proceeding from Basrah to Khorramshahr can register from time of arrival there plus one hour. Time of arrival as per log book should be confirmed by telegram as per (2*a*). Vessels proceeding direct from Basrah to Khorramshahr without anchoring at Abu Flus will register on arrival at Khorramshahr. If such vessel should proceed to Abadan she will register when passing Khorramshahr.

(3) Method of Registration

(a) On receipt of each vessel's registration time the Port Officer Khorramshahr will determine the date on which her turn is due at Khorramshahr.

(b) To enable the Port Officer to assess the berthing delay Agents will indicate in their arrival lists (which are to be submitted to the Port Administration daily before 0900) the estimated number of days their vessel(s) will occupy the jetty. It is thereby understood that the number of days thus declared is not binding upon the Agents concerned but merely used as a basis of calculation to assess berthing turns. To avoid possible abuse of the registration scheme no alteration may be made in the number of days declared during the last 48 hours preceding each vessel's arrival.

(c) Once the berthing turn has been established the vessel concerned will not lose her turn provided she arrives at Khorramshahr or Abu Flus (depending space available at the anchorage) not later than 12 noon on the preceding day. Vessels have the option to arrive later if their Agents have been able to ascertain that their berthing turn has been delayed but they do so entirely at their own risk. In this case any subsequent delay in arrival – even in case of force majeure – will automatically result in the loss of turn, if the vessel is not in all respects available to occupy her berth immediately it is vacant.

(d) If the ship reported back in time the following three contingencies may arise:

(a) If the estimate proved to be accurate the vessel will berth straight away.

(b) If the berthing delay is greater than the estimate made on registration the vessel will retain its original turn in the queue and berth accordingly.

(c) If the estimate proved pessimistic and the ship's berth became vacant before its return date the berth will immediately be given to the next available vessel in turn of registration. If in such cases the ship indeed returns at 12 noon on the date preceding the day on which its turn was originally due as fixed by the Port Authorities, it will take the first place in the queue and obtain the first berth becoming vacant thereafter.

(4) Loss of Turn

Any vessel having lost her turn will be required to re-register as indicated above unless her delay was due to one or more of the following cases of force majeure:

Bad weather.

Unavailability of Pilots at the Outer Bar.

Delay in supply of pilot at Abadan, Basrah or Abu Flus, for which a satisfactory written explanation must be given to the Co-ordinator.

Note: For the purpose of calculating whether a vessel could have arrived in time to occupy her berth at Khorramshahr, had the Pilot boarded her as scheduled, it is hereby established that counted from time Pilot boards it takes a vessel two hours from Abadan, three hours from Basrah, and one hour from Abu Flus to arrive at Khorramshahr.

Delay due to awaiting the next high water during daylight at Karun Bar.

Quarantine regulations: Any vessel placed under quarantine will be permitted to register and be allowed to retain her berthing turn if the quarantine has not been lifted when its allocated berth becomes vacant. The vessel will then take the first available berth after the quarantine has been lifted. The date and time quarantine expires must be mentioned in the daily port position list for publication by the Port Authorities.

(5) In case of dispute arising over the interpretation of the above rules or of situations not properly covered by them the Secretary of KSAA will appoint three arbitrators, preferably not involved in the issue, to work out a solution. Any decision thus arrived at to be accepted by all parties and to be communicated to the Ship's Movement Controller by the Secretary in writing or in case of extreme urgency verbally, written confirmation to follow. A decision once taken cannot be reversed.

(6) In taking advantage of this permissive system it is clearly understood that the estimated berthing delay originally established by the Port Administration will on no account be binding on them.

HEALTH: See "Documents". Inward clearance is effected on board after receiving free pratique.

RADIO: Khorramshahr Port Radio, call sign EQK, 500 kHz, 1282 mHz.

Khorramshahr Harbour Master can be contacted on VHF Channels 13 and 16, 18, and 25.

Vessels destined for Khorramshahr should send a radio message to the Port Director Khorramshahr and to the ship's Agent 24 hours prior arrival at the Arvandrud Pilot Station (Outer Bar). Times should be quoted in GMT. Also see "Ship's Registration".

TUGS: The Port Organisation of Khorramshahr owns two tug-boats which are used for assisting berthing and unberthing whenever necessary. No tug boats which could be used for long-distance towage. Employment of tug-boats is not compulsory.

BERTHING: See "Ship's Registration". Berthing and unberthing performed by Iranian Harbour Masters supplied by Iranian Port Administration, Khorramshahr. Berthing turn, allocation of berth and anchorage space is under the control of Iranian Port Administration, Khorramshahr.

The Port consists of 3,199 ft. long jetty constructed with wooden piles (Berths 1 to 7) plus the new extension covering 1,000 ft., built by steel/concrete piles (Berths 8 and 9) running parallel with river bank. Jetty can receive nine ocean going vessels at a time.

CARGO HANDLING: (a) Jetty. All cargo handling/operations on shore, under control of Khorramshahr Port Administration. General cargo discharged from ships alongside jetty is received on domestic railway wagons and trailers controlled by Port Administration, and transported to Port Warehouses or open yards. Port Warehouse Store keepers will later deliver cargo to consignees against clearance papers issued by Customs. There are no shore cranes and no floating cranes available for the purpose of discharging cargo. All cargo must be discharged by ship's own gear, and vessels calling at Khorramshahr should not accept cargo beyond their gear capacity to discharge.

(b) Barges. (i) General Cargo: Vessels carrying less than 500 tons cargo are permitted to discharge their cargo into barges, in which case all extra expenses and costs of barging, discharging ex barges etc., are to be borne by the carriers and such operation is entirely at the risk and responsibility of the respective carrier.

(ii) Structural Iron/Steel: Structural iron/steel is always to be discharged in barges for unloading at Failieh Creek. Barges must be arranged by vessel's Agents, who also have to arrange labour for discharging the cargo ex barge at Failieh, sorting of the iron, and delivery to consignees. Agents should also employ watchmen for protecting the cargo while awaiting delivery to consignees, also tally clerk for supervising sorting and delivery of iron to the respective consignees. Against these services Agents are presently collecting Rials 110 per ton of 1,000 kilos as a landing charge from the consignees. This rate has been agreed upon between the Agents and the Chamber of Commerce of Khorramshahr.

(c) Cranes. For use in loading/unloading cargo in the storage areas, cranes are all used in the port yard for unloading cargo ex rail wagons and loading on to merchants' trucks.

There is one electric crane permanently installed at Failieh Creek with lifting capacity said to be 100/120 tons. This crane can be used for discharging cargo from barges at Failieh barge jetty.

(d) Storage. 19 warehouses (goods sheds), plus an open yard between the warehouses used for storing iron goods, as well as cargoes which can be stored in the open.

(e) Wagons/Trailers. For receiving cargo ex-vessels alongside jetty the Authorities have 160 rail wagons and 77 trailers with average capacity of 10 tons, but number of wagons/trailers provided to each vessel not sufficient to last 24 hours work at jetty. Although 24-hours working alongside jetty is compulsory, due to shortage of wagons hardly 12/18 hours work can be accomplished efficiently. A stand-by of 6/7 hours in summer and of 9/11 hours in winter is unavoidable.

(f) Delivery of cargo discharged at jetty. Port Authorities considered as direct receivers of the cargo discharged, who in turn deliver same to ultimate consignees against presentation of the carrier's agents' Delivery Order.

Carrier's responsibility for cargoes discharged in good condition cease under tackle; slings are opened by labourers provided on wagons alongside each vessel. Broken packages are not permitted (by Customs) to be discharged on the wagons, and are therefore collected on board. Once daily under full control of ship's officer, port supervisor and carrier's supervisor, the broken packages are delivered to Port Authorities and an official Process-verbal will be drawn by respective warehouse-keeper corresponding to remarks noted at the time. This arrangement is to prevent any delay to operations of the vessel.

(g) Overtime Costs. Wages of port staff on board for official hours are borne by port Authorities but overtime and food allowance are paid by carriers.

(h) Port Working Hours (Ordinary). Summer 0600 to 1400; 1700 to 0100. Winter 0700 to 1500; 1700 to 0100. (Overtime) 0100 to 0500.

24 hour discharging at jetty is compulsory. The only stoppages are for lunch and dinner, one hour each. In summer season, however, due to heat, discharging at jetty is stopped from 1400 to 1700.

(i) Liquid Cargo. Due to non availability of tank barges as well as storage area at Bandar Shahpour, vessels carrying liquid cargo are bound to call at Khorramshahr, where consignees have their own tank-barges and storage tanks. This being the case, the Port Authorities do not divert vessels carrying liquid cargo, to Bandar Shahpour.

In the port of Khorramshahr, importers of vegetable oil and other liquid commodities, have arranged their own storage area outside Customs yard, and liquid consignments will be received directly ex-vessel into consignees' barges without any expenses to carrier. (Discharging performed at anchorage.)

Vessels carrying part-liquid cargo can discharge their cargo while awaiting a berth or alongside jetty, whilst unloading other cargo on the pier.

Further to above, whenever Port Authorities divert any vessel to Bandar Shaphour, in the diversion order they indicate "Subject no liquid cargo on board", as vessels with liquid cargo will have to be accepted in the port of Khorramshahr.

Notice of Readiness for vessels carrying liquid cargo, has to be tendered after vessel has anchored at Khorramshahr anchorage (within Khorramshahr port limits). If, due to congestion, there is no space at Khorramshahr anchorage, vessels may have to remain at Arvandrud pilot station for one or two days before entering the river.

(j) Dangerous Cargo. Dangerous cargoes are divided in two categories:

1. Acid and flammable cargoes.
2. Explosives such as dynamite, etc.

Vessels carrying acid and flammable cargoes are accepted alongside Khorramshahr berths to unload their general cargo plus dangerous cargo, and Port Authorities unload the dangerous cargo in a yard at Failieh, which yard is mainly used for storing iron joists, but a part is allocated for dangerous cargo.

Vessels carrying explosives are not allowed to berth at Khorramshahr. Recently the Port Authorities have stopped accepting any vessel with explosive cargo on board into the port of Khorramshahr, and those vessels have to proceed directly to Bandar Shahpour before calling Khorramshahr for discharging general cargo, if any. The main port for discharging explosive and special cargoes consigned to Iranian Army is Bandar Shahpour, where the Army have an agreement with the Port Authorities for one berth out of the six berths. Berth No. 3 is allocated for vessels carrying cargo consigned to Iranian Army, and whenever such vessel arrives at Bandar Shahpour it will be berthed immediately, even if the port is congested; in other words, vessels with Army cargo have priority for berthing.

FREIGHT TAX: Freight tax is payable on any freight earned in Iran for any export cargo loaded at any Iranian port. Per article 90 of Tax Law, freight tax is payable at the rate of 5 per cent on gross freight, regardless of whether freight is collected in Iran or elsewhere. There is no tax on import cargo freight regardless of where the freight is paid. In other words, for cargo discharged in Iranian ports, even if freight is payable at destination to be collected in Iran, there is no tax applicable.

MEDICAL: Private doctors and hospitals located in the town for medical and dental treatment and hospitalisation. Arrangements for patients' visits to the doctors, dentists and hospital will be made by Agents upon request. In case of emergency special medical attendance on board can also be arranged. X-Rays, radiographies, blood and urine tests can also be conducted by equipped hospitals existing in Khorramshahr and Abadan.

DENSITY: Fresh.

FRESH WATER: Fresh water supply alongside berth available by pipelines and at anchorage is delivered by barges, capacity 100 tons.

FUEL: Bunkers are not available at Khorramshahr Jetty, and cannot be supplied by barge. All classes of bunkers are supplied at Abadan jetties only. Bunkers could be obtained from Abadan provided arrangement for supply has been made beforehand with Iranian Oil Participants, London (Iranop London).

DEVELOPMENT: Intention to extend use of trailers and tractors and to eliminate use of railway wagons.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: After receipt of documents, the Customs Officer will seal the store room. All liquor and cigarette stocks will be sealed and reasonable ship's requirements while in port should be taken from store before sealing. This amount recommended to be assessed and be ready for removal from the stores prior to the vessel's arrival in port. During the stay at the port, and upon request and giving prior notice to the Agents' supervisor on board, arrangements may be made to have the Customs officials open the stores to issue further quantities of stores for crew consumption.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: According to regulations in force seamen should hold shore pass issued by respective Agents and signed by the Port Health, Port Police and local town Police Authorities. All shore passes should bear a photo of the holder, in order to facilitate checking at exit of port area. It is therefore necessary for officers and crew to have a photograph ready on arrival at the port to facilitate obtaining shore passes.

All officers and crew of ships lying at jetties or anchorage of the Port of Khorramshahr to carry their Seamen's Books with them when going ashore. At the gate, the Seamen's books will be checked by the Police against the shore pass of each crew member, the Seamen's Book will then be kept by the Police and will be returned to the holder when returning through the gate.

REPAIRS: Minor repairs can be carried out to a limited extent by private workshops existing at Khorramshahr. However due to lack of skilled workers the workshops in question do not undertake any responsibility or guarantee for the jobs performed, and charges are high.

For radar, wireless, echo-sounders, etc., as well as refrigerator and air condition service there are few engineering groups at Khorramshahr as well as Abadan, and technicians of these groups will attend to the repairs on board both at Khorramshahr and Abadan jetties or at anchorage, upon request.

Ships moored to the jetty are not permitted to disable main power-plants for repairs without prior approval of Marine Department. A port tug will be assigned to stand by alongside ship with tow line attached during entire period while plant is disabled.

DRY DOCKS: None.

SURVEYORS: Lloyd's Register; Det Norsk Veritas; Bureau Veritas. Surveyors for ordinary damage to cargo and/or ship as well as for on-hire/off-hire survey can be arranged by Agents.

AIRPORT: Abadan International Airport about ten minutes by car.

TIME: GMT plus 3½ hours.

TELEPHONES: May be placed on board.

SHORE LEAVE: According to regulations in force, seamen should hold the shore pass issued by the respective Agents and signed by the Port Health, Port Police and local town Police Authorities. All shore passes should bear a photo of the holder, in order to facilitate the checking at the exit of port area. It is therefore necessary for officers and crew to have a photo ready on arrival at the port which will facilitate obtaining shore passes.

DELAYS: The port of Khorramshahr is generally congested, with a waiting time of about 2/5 days. Port Administration sometimes orders vessels to discharge their Khorramshahr manifested cargo in Bandar Shahpour to ease the congestion at Khorramshahr.

PROVISIONS: Fresh provisions in limited quantity can be obtained, but large quantities of provisions sometimes may not be possible to arrange due to the fact that the Municipality is controlling the market and sometimes may prohibit the supply of the items which are in short supply. Due to certain formalities involved in supplying provisions to vessels, it is requested that 24-hour notice be given to the shipchandler.

STORES: Local commodities only available. Bonded stores not available.

LAUNDRY: Laundryman can be arranged upon request.

AUTHORITY: Ports and Shipping Organisation, Koutcheh Simorgh No. 24 Tehran, Iran.

Khorramshahr Port Director. Ministry of Finance – Ports and Shipping Organisation Port Administration of Khorramshahr.

LAVAN ISLAND: 26.47 N. 53.20 E.

Terminal: Lavan Island Loading Terminal. 26° 47′ 10″ N. 53° 20′ 30″ E.
Operators: Lavan Petroleum Co. ("LAPCO").

LOCATION: Lavan Island (shown on some charts and pilot publications as Sheikh Shuaib) lies on the North side of the Persian Gulf about 6 miles from the mainland with Lavan Island Loading Terminal in Latitude 26° 47′ 06″ North, Longitude 53° 20′ 30″ East, which is on the South-Eastern end of Lavan Island.

The island, roughly eliptical in shape, is about 13 miles in length, with a maximum width about 2 miles. It is light brown in colour and its Eastern and Western extremities are low but thence it rises to a number of hummocks having a maximum elevation of 180′ on the West part. Crude oil is delivered from Sassan Oil Field to the terminal by a 22 in. diameter submarine pipe-line which runs seaward from the island on a bearing 188° from a position in Latitude 26° 47′ 32″ North, Longitude 53° 20′ 05″ East for a distance of 76 miles where it joins the Sassan Oil Field. The Company Flow Station and Pumping Station are located in position Latitude 25° 32′ 16″ North, Longitude 53° 09′ 01″ East in the close vicinity of which is a gas flare.

PORT LIMITS: Limits of port extend approximately one mile Westward from East coast of Lavan Island, from Terminal Sea Buoy to half a mile Westward from Sassan Submarine Pipe-line Buoy.

Vessels must not enter the Port Limits unless a LAPCO Mooring Master is on board.

DOCUMENTS:

5 Crew and Passenger Lists.
4 Stores Lists.
4 Bonded Stores Lists.
Clear Bill of Health from last port.
4 Bills of Lading.
6 Manifests.

In Iran, an additional copy of the Bill of Lading is required for all exports from the country. This must be signed by the Master and forwarded to the Customs Authorities, Lavan Island by the ship's agent.

APPROACHES: Vessels approaching Lavan Island from due South will have a clear approach.

(a) Landfall. There are five gas flare towers and one ground flare. The most conspicuous flare is in position lat. 26° 47′ 34″ North, long. 53° 20′ 39″ East situated in the vicinity of Port Area. This flare onshore, when burning, makes a conspicuous landfall for Lavan Island, but at night from a distance tends to obliterate the various navigational lights.

The other flares are in position,
Latitude 26° 47′ 41″ North, Longitude 53° 20′ 19″ East.
Latitude 26° 48′ 25″ North, Longitude 53° 20′ 03″ East.
(group of 3 flares)″.

All tanks in the LAPCO Terminal Tank Farm are painted white and numbered in black from 1 to 6. Tanks No. 1 and 2 have the word LAPCO painted in black on the South side. Tank No. 2 is in position lat. 26° 47′ 57″ North, long. 53° 20′ 24″ East.

(b) Navigational Dangers. South side of Island is open and free from dangers, but care should be exercised approaching from seaward as soundings shallow rapidly near coast with depths of 200 ft. only 4,500 ft. off shore.

PILOTAGE: Pilotage compulsory for vessels berthing on, or departing from Oil Jetty, and when manoeuvring in restricted area. Cargo vessels and men-of-war do not require Pilots as they are accommodated in cargo anchorage. Pilots provided automatically on arrival for tankers if berth available. If no berth available due to bad weather or other causes, vessels will be instructed accordingly. The normal international pilot signals are to be used.

Channel 16 VHF is to be used to call Radio Room. Pilots will normally board vessels one mile S.E. of Oil Loading Jetty. ETA is to be signalled 72 hours before arrival and confirmed, correcting ETA, if necessary 24 hours before arrival.

Ships requested to have pilot ladder safely and securely rigged, and ready for immediate use, and long enough to reach Mooring Master's launch. A combination of pilot ladder and ship's accommodation ladder, so arranged that personnel can first use pilot ladder, until part way up the vessel's side, and then transfer to the accommodation ladder is recommended, especially on very large ships. A light line should be ready to take aboard Mooring Master's equipment. There should be adequate lighting at night. Vessels will provide a lee for Mooring Master both when boarding and leaving.

NAVIGATIONAL AIDS: Note: Masters are cautioned to consult their latest Notices to Mariners and Light Lists for most recent information regarding navigation aids.

Lat. 26° 46′ 49″ North, long. 53° 19′ 22″ East.

Anchorage within Port Area prohibited. Port Area used by vessels manoeuvring to and from oil loading jetty, and no vessel permitted enter Port Area until Company Mooring Master on board.

Offshore Oil Platform. Anchorage prohibited in area of Sassan Oilfield, some 76 miles South of Lavan Island Marine Terminal, due to existence of numerous submarine oil pipe-lines connecting oil wells and production platform.

RESTRICTIONS: 24-hour service. No restrictions for vessels up to 206,000 dwt as regards time of arrival. Tankers in ballast required to have on board at least 33% of their dwt. in ballast (including permanent ballast). The state of the tide does not effect entry.

MAX. SIZE: Berth designed for up to 206,000 dwt. Vessels of larger dimensions must seek prior approval from LAPCO.

No restrictions applied to size of cargo vessels using carg anchorage, but then their proximity to the shore will be governed by their draft.

CLEARANCE: (Arrival): After Mooring Master has boarded vessel at Port Limits, and before vessel allowed proceed, Master will be required to sign following forms. (a) Condition of use of Port of Lavan Island, (b) Tug Requisition.

Master will also be provided with copies of Fire and Safety Regulations and a Safety Inspection Form. After berthing has been completed, Master will be required to complete and sign "Mooring Master Time Sheet" before Mooring Master disembarks. After pratique granted, Customs inspection carried out. Master will be required to furnish particulars of vessel including bonded stores, cargo, bunkers, and other information. Five copies of the crew list and stores remaining on board will be required before clearance is granted. Customs surveillance is strict. On completion of loading, documentation and final clearance formalities will be carried out aboard vessel, either alongside jetty, or in Anchorage Area, as circumstances dictate.

HEALTH: Owners should check with Agent respecting any recent imposition of anti-epidemic regulations and requirements for additional injections for crew members. In the case of tankers, doctor will board when ship berthed at Loading Dock and for cargo vessels after ship has anchored. Should vessel, in either case, arrive from another Iranian port and carry a Clear Bill of Health, doctor will not normally board, and pratique automatically granted.

Signals to be exhibited for vessels entering from foreign port: by day: "Q" Flag flown at masthead; by night: red all-round light, over white all-round light. If suspected that ship has disease or fever on board, ship will report details by VHF Channel 12 to Lavan Island.

There are occasional outbreaks of cholera. International Certificates of Inoculation/Vaccination are essential.

See Radio, "Free Pratique".

RADIO: Call "LAPCO Lavan Island" on VHF Channels 16, 12, or 7. Tugs keep constant watch on Channel 12 VHF and call at intervals on 2182 kc/s. when vessel believed to be approaching, or scheduled call at Lavan Island. This applies to Tankers only.

Khorramshahr Radio Station normally passes on a ship's ETA to the Agent resident on Lavan Island, through Abadan. There is a radio-telephone link from Abadan to Lavan Island.

Nomination and Loading Orders. Ship's Masters should signal their ETA Lavan Island Loading Terminal 72 hours before arrival, and confirm (correcting ETA if necessary) 24 hours before arrival. This message should include amount of cargo to be loaded by vessel, destination as per charter, hours required to de-ballast, number and size of ship's manifold connections, maximum loading rate and whether any sickness on board. This message should be addressed to LAPCO, Tehran Office, Cable address "LAPCO, Tehran", Telex address LAPCO, Tehran, No. 2420, and routed through nearest coastal radio station handling such messages.

Radio Station. There is no CW radio station on Lavan Island.

VHF Radio-Telephone. Lavan Island Loading Terminal equipped with International Maritime VHF/FM radio telephone service using standard international frequencies. Masters recommended use this facility when within range of Lavan Island Loading Terminal, particularly when approaching port. In poor visibility, when vessel's approach may not be observed from shore, VHF communication may be means of avoiding delay in berthing. The following VHF Channels available on a continuous watch basis:

No. 16 (156·8 mc/s.) (Safety and Calling Channel).
No. 12 (156·6 mc/s.) (Port Operations, First Choice, Simplex).
No. 7 (156·35 mc/s.) (Port Operations, Second Choice, Simplex).

Initial contact should be made on Channel no. 16 and then transfer to Channel no. 12 for Port Operations.

High Frequency Radio. HF frequencies used by LAPCO office at Lavan Island for voice communication as follows: High Frequency Single Side Band System.

| Channels | Frequencies |
|---|---|
| 1 | 4133 kc/s. |
| 2 | 5233 kc/s. |
| 3 | 6840 kc/s. |
| 4 | 7383 kc/s. |
| 5 | 9208 kc/s. |
| 6 | 9153·5 kc/s. |

LAPCO normally stands by on H.F. SSB Channel 5 (9,208 kHz/sec.) upper side band from 0600 to 1800 local time, and on Channel 1 (4,133 kHz/sec.) upper side band from 1800 to 0600 local time. LAPCO also maintains a listening watch on 2,182 kHz/sec., HF.-AM., medium wave.

Marine Frequencies. The tugs presently equipped for voice communication with Marine Frequencies as follows:

|---|---|
| 1 | 2182 kc/s. |
| 2 | 2570 kc/s. |
| 3 | 2628 kc/s. |
| 4 | 2738 kc/s. |
| 5 | 4133 kc/s. |

Additional frequencies will be added at a later date.

Radio Telephone Frequencies. LAPCO Tugs fitted with VHF radio telephones covering all international maritime VHF radio telephone frequencies (156–162 Mc/s.).

Free Pratique: Tankers nominated to load at Lavan Island will be granted radio free or provisional pratique based upon the following advance information received from the Master.

(a) Itinerary for past 30 days or last port, if outside this limit.
(b) Number of crew/supernumeries.
(c) Number of crew with (1) expired smallpox, (2) expired cholera certificates.
(d) Any person seriously ill or died during past 30 days.
(e) Any cases of contagious/infectious diseases during past 30 days.
(f) Ship's name. Registration country. Master's name. ETA Lavan Island.

All the above items must be transmitted to: "Lapco Tehran Telex No. 2420. Attention: Marine Superintendent Lavan".

Radio messages should be sent through Bahrain or Khorramshahr Radio Stations 24 hours prior to arrival.

Masters should use item letters and digits to minimise cable length.

TUGS: 2 diesel powered tugs. Both tugs are twin screw, 3,400 b.h.p. Kort Nozzle types with a static bollard pull of 40 long tons. Normally, two tugs used to handle a vessel.

For each tug employed berthing, 3 copies of Towage Certificate to be signed by Master and delivered to LAPCO Mooring Master. For each tug employed unberthing, 3 copies of Towage Certificate to be signed by Master and delivered to LAPCO Mooring Master.

The LAPCO tugs and mooring launches assist in mooring and unmooring vessels. These are under the direct supervision and control of the LAPCO Mooring Master. Service and facilities provided by the company including the services of the LAPCO Mooring Masters, tugs, mooring launches, or berthing equipment, are at the vessel's risk.

Note: On occasions when tugs are employed standing by vessels whilst in the berth for use, if required, the full tug charge will be charged.

BERTHING: The Oil Loading Dock is located on the South Coast approximately 2½ miles from the East end of the Island. The loading platform is 2,030 ft. from the shore, located in position lat. 26° 47′ 06″ North, long. 53° 20′ 30″ East.

Deck level is 32 ft. above sea level Mean Low Water Indian Springs. Under normal conditions, 12 lines used to moor a vessel as follows: Forward: 3 headlines, 2 breast lines and 1 spring. Aft: 3 stern lines, 2 breast lines and 1 spring.

During winter South-easterly storm periods, usual to use one each additional headline and breast line at each end, making total of 16 mooring lines. Breast lines and springs of wire rope acceptable, and normally secured to jetty bollards or patent quick-release hooks, where fitted. Three-inch circumference messenger lines, 240 ft. in length, available each berth for hauling lines from mooring launches up vertical face of jetty fendering and along jetty deck, with assistance of electrically operated capstans sited at intervals along jetty.

† Bunker arm at Berth No. 2 only. All Chiksan Loading Arms are fitted with series 150 Flanges.

Tankers to have ready: Fore and aft winches ready for use, and minimum of 16 good mooring lines, 120 fathoms each, with adequate stoppers.

The Terminal accepts tension wires or ropes, only with proper supervision on the brake. Derricks, hose-lifting winches and gear must be rigged on port and starboard sides, topped over the manifold.

Ship's crews perform all operations of mooring, connecting hoses, and unmooring, on board ships.

LOADING: If possible, ships should arrive with 16-in. spool adaptors fitted to loading manifold ready for use.

Sassan Crude Oil of approximately 34·0 degrees API gravity is available from the LAPCO 3,000,000 barrel Tank Farm. Delivery of oil to the loading dock is by gravity flow, through two 36-in. diameter pipe-lines.

Rostam Crude Oil of approximately 37·0 degrees API gravity is available from the IMINOCO 1,500,000 barrel Tank Farm, immediately West of the LAPCO tanks. Delivery of oil to the loading dock is by gravity flow through two 36-in. diameter pipe-lines.

After the vessel has berthed, the Mooring Master, who acts as a loading master, will discuss arrangements, inspect tanks, sign the tanker dry certificate, and finally check cargo figures with ship's personnel. Before loading commences, all items on the "LAPCO Safety Check List" will be complied with, and an inspection made by the Chief Officer and the Mooring Master.

Loading rates of up to 50,000 bbls/hr. (6,700 t/hr.) to berth No. 1, and 30,000 bbls/hr. (4,000 t/hr.) to berth No. 2 can be achieved at Lavan Island.

Up to 40,000 bbls/hr. (5,300 t/hr.) to Berth No. 1, and 25,000 bbls/hr.

(3,300 t/hr.) to Berth No. 2 can be achieved when loading two ships simultaneously.

Do not close valves against crude oil flow.

Emergency Flow Stop Signal if all communications fail will be a continuous sounding of the ship's whistle.

BALLAST:

(a) Masters are warned that no dirty ballast, or bilge water should be disposed of in sea within 50 miles of coast of Iran. When so disposing of ballast all pipe-lines, sea suctions, strainers, and pumps that are later to be used to discharge clean ballast, must be flushed clean, so that there will be no chance of even a small amount of sea pollution when the clean ballast is pumped out.

(b) As soon as practical after arrival, all vessels' tanks will be inspected for oil in ballast. During discharge of ballast similar inspections will continue.

(c) Should ship's tanks be found leaking it will not be later accepted for loading, unless satisfactory evidence duly certified by "Lloyds" or "ABS" Surveyors, or other recognised surveyors of repair is submitted.

(d) Any vessel rejected because of dirty ballast or sea pollution will automatically nullify "Notice of Readiness" and will lose any priority of position for loading. On return from sea, Masters should tender new Notice of Readiness to LAPCO. If this accepted by LAPCO the vessel will be entered for loading as of new time of acceptance. Vessels will be rejected for dirty ballast at all times.

(e) Vessels equipped with separate system of ballast tanks will be allowed to discharge ballast and load oil simultaneously, providing approval is first obtained from the LAPCO Terminal Superintendent and provided NIOC Petroleum Inspector agrees.

(f) A vessel must have sufficient ballast for safe handling having due regard to existing weather and sea conditions. Through a careful watch of the weather and sea conditions, frequent exchange of information between ship and Terminal, and by a knowledge of the behaviour of his own vessel a Ship's Master may come to the Terminal with a minimum of ballast and thus lessen any possibility of infringement of sea pollution regulations.

DENSITY: The temperature of sea water alongside the Loading Dock varies from 71°F. in January to 93°F. in August. The density of sea water alongside the Loading Dock is approximately 1,022 oz./cu. ft. (1·022 grams/c.c.).

TIDE: The tide is mainly diurnal with a mean range of 3 ft. 0 in., and extreme range of 5 ft. 6 in., and an extreme height of 7 ft. 0 in. above chart datum, which is MLWIS.

The tidal stream varies according to the state of the tide, with a maximum rate of about 1 knot.

Tide boards are fitted to the two berthing dolphins adjacent to the loading platform.

WEATHER: In summer time from May to September temperature reaching 50°C (122°F) and humidity ranging from 10 per cent to 100 per cent. The winter (November to March) mild and pleasant with minimum temperature approximately 6°C (43°F). The wind for most of year from North-west, but sometimes particularly during winter strong South-easterly storms likely to occur lasting for several days. Oil Loading Pier partly sheltered from North-west winds, but exposed to winds from South.

During winter storms, waves of 8 to 10 ft. often occur. A maximum wave height of 15 ft. has been recorded at the Southern end of the Island.

STEVEDORES: For cargo vessels the Agent requires four days Notice of Arrival in order to transport labour from Bandar Abbas. Agent provides labour for working cargo "to the rail" and receiver provides lighterage and labour thereon.

MEDICAL: LAPCO maintains small clinic on Lavan for minor medical treatment of LAPCO staff. No medical services available except in emergency and subject to availability of doctor.

FRESH WATER: None available.

FUEL: A topping plant to provide bunkers is presently under construction, and should be on stream in 1974.

CARGO GEAR: Ship's discharging dry cargo to barges in the cargo ship anchorage use ship's gear.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: Vessel receives full detailed instructions from Mooring Master. Vessels must have fire-wires and engines not to be immobilised.

CONSULS: No consular representation on Lavan Island. Nearest consulates at Khorramshahr near Abadan.

REPAIRS: No repairs allowed alongside oil loading jetty. No workshop or repair facilities available. Ships' main engines must be available at all times while alongside jetty.

MARINE SURVEYS: Loyd's Surveyor based at Khorramshahr and can usually be called through vessel's Agent at 72 hours notice.

AIRPORT: No scheduled or regular air flights to Lavan Island. All aircraft required for transportation of goods or passengers must be made by charter. Airport is used by Oil Company Charter planes only and no other passengers are carried except in an emergency situation.

TIME: Iranian Standard Time which is GMT plus 3 hours 30 minutes.

POLICE/AMBULANCE/FIRE: There is a Government Gendarmerie Station on the Island. There are no telephones established for these services. Emergencies will be handled by LAPCO staff in case of tankers.

SHORE LEAVE: Ship's crew not allowed to go ashore.

CREW CHANGES: Not permitted.

REGULATIONS (miscellaneous): Painting and scaling. Painting, chipping, scaling or spray painting on deck or overside strictly prohibited while vessel at any jetty berth.

FLAG: All vessels are required to fly the Iranian Flag (green uppermost) in Iranian territorial waters.

Garbage. Dumping overside of garbage and refuse prohibited
Port Area.

Sanitation. Government Health Regulations require suitable cove to be fitted over all lavatory discharge outlets, etc., to prevent foulin of jetty or craft alongside.

Damage to Port Facilities. If a Master has reason to suppose th any damage has been caused by his vessel to any Port Facilities, h must agree, in writing, with LAPCO Mooring Master as to nature an extent of such damage, and this must be confirmed by LAPC Port Captain.

Rat-guards. All ships berthed alongside must provide Rat-guar for Ship's Moorings.

DOCUMENTS:

5 Crew and Passenger Lists.
4 Stores Lists.
4 Bonded Stores Lists.
Clear Bill of Health from last port.
4 Bills of Lading.
6 Manifests.

PILOTAGE: Vessels to be moored at Bahregan Terminal will b boarded by a Mooring Master of the Company within 2 miles of th SBM. The Mooring Master will advise the ship's Master on appr aches to the berth, mooring and unmooring, connecting and di connecting the floating hose, and in all other operations within th berthing area.

Vessels are requested to have a pilot ladder safely and secur rigged, ready for immediate use, and long enough to reach the Moo ing Master's launch. If at night, adequate lighting must be rigge overside for the Mooring Master to approach the side of the shi and climb the ladder safely. Adequate searchlights should also b rigged when mooring at night.

The Mooring Master will be in direct charge of the portable VH ship-to-shore radio-telephone communications.

ANCHORAGE: The SBM is in the open sea with no surfa obstructions in the vicinity. However, anchorage is prohibited i the following areas:

(a) Immediate vicinity of the SBM – within a one to two mi radius of the SBM.

(b) One mile on either side of 36-in. submarine pipe-line fro
SBM to Bahregan Oil Centre.

RESTRICTIONS: The Bahregan SBM Terminal operates 24 hou per day, seven days a week. However, mooring or unmooring is on carried out if fair or moderate weather conditions are prevailing.

In the event that berthing is delayed on account of weathe vessels will keep their position in line. Vessels required to leave th terminal area on account of weather (terminal closed) should kee in contact with the terminal via radio in order to be available whe weather moderates.

FLAG: All vessels are required to fly the Iranian flag on the for mast during daylight hours. Iranian territorial waters extend 12 mil seaward from the mainland and adjacent islands.

ADVICE OF ARRIVAL: It is important that ships establish rad contact with SIRIP when 3 days distant from Bahregan Termin and maintain this contact until just previous to arrival at the Termin
All ships should send a 72 hour ETA message to SIRIP giving th best estimate of ship's arrival time at the Terminal.

Further ETA messages should be sent to SIRIP when the vess is 24 hours and 12 hours distant from Bahregan Terminal and any other time any appreciable change occurs in the original ET or those subsequent thereto. The 12-hour ETA should include positive statement regarding ships readiness to load on arrival a the number of hours that will be required to discharge clean ball after ship is berthed in mooring, as well as details of the flange si of the manifold.

MAX. SIZE: SBM terminal designed for tankers up to 250,000 d

COMMUNICATION: Radio contact ship/shore on 2477 kc/s fro 0530z–0630z and 8230 kc/s from 1130z to 1230z. ETA notices to sent to the Oil Company: cable address "Sirip Khorramshahr" Khorramshahr port radio call sign: "EQK" – 500 kc/s.

GMT: 0530–0630 on 2477 kc/s, 1130–1230 on 8230 kc/s.

In addition, once a tanker has advised its 72 hours ETA, the Bahregan Oil Centre maintains a watch on VHF Channel 11. The call sign for Bahregan Oil Centre is "BOC". Contact can be made on other frequencies if requested.

Communications during mooring and loading: Portable VHF radio-telephone units are brought on board by the Mooring Master.

NOTICE OF READINESS: Tenders to load crude oil cargo will normally be accepted and the berth will be assigned to vessels in order of arrival, provided vessels have nominations for cargo valid at time, carry clean ballast and are in all respects equipped and ready to moor.

Tankers to have ready:

(a) Windlass and deck winches foreward, maindeck and aft.

(b) Six good nylon or synthetic mooring lines, each not less than 120 fathoms in length, with efficient stoppers for each line.

(c) On port side, opposite ship's manifold, equipment capable of lifting floating hose safely and expeditiously. Weight lift of 5·5 tons.

Ship's crew performs all operations on ship.

SBM: The single buoy mooring is 13·5 metres in diameter and 3.65 metres high at its highest point. It is equipped with the following navigational aids:

Signal light: White colour, flashing morse code "U" every 15 seconds. Range 5 miles.

Fog horn: Morse code "U" every 45 seconds.

Radar reflector fitted. The whole SBM is painted a bright orange colour.

TUGS: Available and required.

SINGLE BUOY MOORING: The Monobuoy is situated about 15 kilometres from the shore in position 29° 43′ 02″ N., 50° 09′ 46″ E. Depth of water in vicinity of buoy mooring is 30 to 31 metres. Buoy is served by a 36-in. loading line with a capacity of 700 cubic metres per hour.

MOORING: The optimum approach to the single buoy mooring is into the wind and sea. Sometimes, however, this will not be possible because of tides at variance with strong wind conditions. Accordingly, it is incumbent upon the Master to exercise careful judgement when approaching the Terminal, particularly during the hours of darkness and in poor visibility. It should be noted that the incoming tides flow towards the N.W. (approx. 310°) and outgoing tides towards the S.E. (approx. 130°). The company Mooring Master will give all necessary advice to the ship's Master.

Particular attention must be paid to the location of two strings of floating loading hose. Normally the position of the floating hoses will be controlled by the tidal currents rather than by wind effect. During daylight hours the hose string is highly visible by virtue of their covering of orange plastic floats.

When approaching the SBM at night or during poor visibility the radar is an excellent means of ascertaining the exact distance to the Terminal. The floating hose strings normally stand out very clearly on the lower radar range scales.

Once the optimum approach route has been selected, the tanker should proceed towards the SBM at a suitable speed dependent upon conditions at that time. At approximately 3,000 ft. from the SBM the tanker should have only sufficient way on for steerage. The floating hoses should be on the port side, and it is recommended that the tanker make the final approach with the SBM on the port bow, rather than dead ahead. This permits the Master on the bridge to observe the SBM at all times and in the event of any misjudgement of the approach speed there is no danger of over-running the Terminal. (The tanker should adjust her engines such that all way is off the vessel between 150–50 ft. from the SBM).

At a suitable distance from the SBM the service launch which will have maintained station during the approach, will take two lines from the ship and secure them to the mooring bitts on the SBM. The launch will then bring the two large SBM float ropes to the ship, which should have a messenger line ready to raise them. Once these float ropes (each of which has a breaking strain in excess of 305 tons) are secured the ship may, if so desired, recover its own lines which are used only to provide a safeguard during pick up of the SBM float lines.

In the event that the floatrope mooring lines provided by the Company are not used or not available, the Ship is secured using 6 lines from the tanker all on port side.

HOSES: Two flexible floating hoses connect the ship's manifold with the Terminal's cargo manifold, and separate hoses connect the underside of the SBM to the submarine pipe-line end manifold (PLEM) on the seabed. A submerged peripheral fender extending outward from the hull is provided to prevent damage to the floating hoses and SBM, should the tanker ride up against it.

After the vessel is securely moored the service launch will tow the end of the floating hoses to a point on the port side of the tanker immediately below the tanker's cargo manifolds. The tanker's derrick runner should be ready to lift the hoses which will secured by the attached chains in such a manner as to allow the ends of the hoses to reach the ship's manifold. The weight of the hose to be lifted is approximately 5½ tons.

The hoses are fitted with 16-in. flanges, and the Company will provide reduction pieces to 14 in. or 12 in.; other sizes (as well as gaskets) as required to make connections to ship's manifold. The hose connection is normally performed by SIRIP's loading crew under the supervision of the Mooring Master. However, a ship's deck officer must be present, and must direct the ship's crew as required.

LOADING: The ship's officer responsible for loading should give SIRIP's mooring Master at least half an hour's notice of readiness to commence loading. In any event, the ship should advise SIRIP during its last radio contact prior to arrival of the estimated time required to discharge ballast, so that an approximate time for commencement of loading can be established. It is also helpful if the ship advises the size and type of flange and also the distance of the manifold from the ship's side during radio connection.

The initial loading rate is normally about 1,500 long tons per hour while the recently coupled flanges are inspected for leakage and the Mooring Master and ship's officer satisfy themselves that all is in order with the SBM and the ship's facilities. As soon as this is done, the loading rate is increased to the maximum of 5,500 long tons per hour.

Caution: The incoming oil stream is controlled from the shore and it is extremely dangerous to close a ship's valve against the pressure, which may damage hose, ship's piping, or shore facilities. Vessels will be held liable for damages resulting from failure to observe this precaution.

The ship's officer in charge of loading should advise the Mooring Master half an hour before he estimates loading will be completed.

On advice from the ship a minimum of 4 minutes is required to stop the flow of crude oil, however, a reduction in loading rate before topping up the final tanks may be arranged on request to Mooring Master.

During loading or unloading the International Code Flag "B" shall be displayed from a topmast signal halyard during daylight hours. During hours of darkness a red light shall be displayed. This light should be of a character such as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, and show an unbroken light all round the horizon.

CARGO: Bahregan Sar Crude, API from 20 to 32, Temperature 85°F.

BALLAST: The waters of the Persian Gulf must not be polluted, and only clean, oil-free ballast (and/or bilge water) may be discharged.

As soon as practicable after arrival, all vessel's tanks will be inspected for evidence of oil ballast and during discharge of ballast, similar inspection will continue. If evidence of oil appears at either of these inspections, the ship must leave mooring and proceed at once to a point not less than 50 miles from any coast or island and there completely discharge all oily or dirty ballast.

Vessels equipped with a separate system of ballast and cargo tanks will be allowed to discharge clean ballast and load oil simultaneously, providing approval is obtained.

Note: When loading is carried out under rough weather conditions the tanker should not be allowed to get into a light condition, and therefore deballasting should not be completed until a reasonable amount of the cargo has been loaded.

MEDICAL: Depending on the availability of the Company doctor, medical assistance can be provided, although there is no hospital available. In cases of extreme emergency, SIRIP will arrange transport to Abadan at the ship's expense and responsibility.

DENSITY: Salinity is approximately 20% more than normal sea water.

BUNKERS: Not available.

WATER: Not available.

STORES: Not available.

SERVICES: No facilities for crew change, etc., or any other vessel's requirements, as the terminal is situated off-shore in the Persian Gulf and there are no transportation facilities other than Oil Company's flights from Abadan which are meant for their own personnel.

REPAIRS: Masters of vessels loading at Bahregan Terminal are advised that this port is considered an "open roadstead" and under no circumstances may engines be shut down for repairs while their ships are moored. There are no facilities at Bahregan Terminal for making vessel repairs.

CONSULS: There are no consulates at the Bahregan Terminal; however, consular or diplomatic representatives for most nations maintain offices in Tehran and some in Khorramshahr.

SHORE LEAVE: There is no shore leave permitted due to lack of facilities.

TERMINAL OPERATORS: Societe Irano Italiene des Petroles (SIRIP).

AGENTS: See "Khorramshahr". (Actual handling is effected by Oil Company SIRIP, but Khorramshahr Agents are in a position to handle ETA messages, etc., addressed to them via Khorramshahr Port Radio EQK, also to communicate messages to and from SIRIP Khorramshahr and shipowners. Agents can also pass arrival and sailing details to principals, and despatch copies of loading cargo documents as required by Owners. Forwarding ship's mail to Bahregan and despatching official and crew mail received from ship, can be arranged by Agents. Such services are not undertaken by the Oil Company, and it is advisable to appoint an Agent at Khorramshahr.)

BASRAH (Maqal and Umm Qasr): 30.31 N. 47.50 E.

DOCUMENTS: On arrival at pilot station vessel requires following: Ship's Register, letter from Owner confirming that vessel has not called at Israel port, all Health Certificates of Crew must be valid against cholera and smallpox, 2 copies Crew List, 2 copies Provision List, 2 copies Manifest, Freight manifest for Baghdad Rail cargo, Breakdown list and Stowage Plan, Dangerous cargo and heavy lift list (if any).

PILOTAGE: Owners having vessels bound for Basrah should contact Iraqi Maritime Transport Co. Ltd., Basrah, cables "Bawakhir Basrah" to arrange Shatt-el-Arab Pilotage. Owners should also put Iraqi Maritime Transport in funds by remittance well in advance of vessel reaching Outer Bar of Shatt-el-Arab in order to cover port tonnage dues, pilotage and dredging dues, for sailing from Outer Bar to Basrah and return.

The Pilot Boat is located usually in position 29° 45′ 15″ N. 48° 50′ 45″ E. and on arrival vessel should contact pilot boat immediately for instructions. Pilots are available for vessels proceeding to Abadan and Khorramshahr (in Iran) and Basrah (Maqal and Umm Qasr). Providing Master has given Agent 48 hours notice of vessel's ETA Pilot will board immediately providing tide is suitable to allow vessel to continue to destination. Master should use call sign YIR on 500 kc/s for Basrah Radio in order to pass messages to Agent. Vessel should listen for messages on 440 kc/s from YIR or use VHF on Channels 14 and 12. On boarding the river Pilot will hand Master various forms for completion in respect of Light Dues and River Pilotage. Master to hoist the Iraqi National Flag.

The Pilot boat is called Al Rasheed and on both sides amidships the word "Pilot" is painted in white.

The Navigation of the Shatt-el-Arab River is under the jurisdiction of the Iraqi Ports Administration which takes in the approaches to Abadan and Khorramshahr in Iran.

ANCHORAGES: On arrival off the pilot boat vessel can anchor with no depth restriction. On entering the Shatt-el-Arab River the following are the recognised anchorages:

Kasba Anchorage, position about 2 miles above Fao with a maximum depth of 35 ft. in fresh water.

Bawarda Anchorage, position about 2 miles below Abadan with a maximum depth of 31ft. in fresh water.

Hartha Point, position about 6 miles above Abadan with a maximum depth of 35 ft. in fresh water. Hartha Point is the anchorage to enable vessels to lighten to 29 ft. in fresh water to enable them to cross the Karun Bar.

Abu Flus, position about 12 miles above Hartha Point with a maximum depth of 29 ft. in fresh water.

Khora Anchorage, position about 3 miles from Basrah Wharves (Maqal) with a maximum depth of 29 ft. in fresh water.

Jubailah Anchorage, position at Basrah Silo about half-mile below Basrah Wharves (Maqal) with a maximum depth of 29 ft. in fresh water.

The maximum length between perpendiculars permitted by the Iraqi Ports Administration for vessels in the Shatt-el-Arab River is 560ft.

RESTRICTIONS: The Iraqi Ports Administration issue a booklet on Tide Tables each year and the movements of vessels in and out of the Shatt-el-Arab River are restricted to the high water tables for vessels using Basrah and Khorramshahr. Movements to and from these ports are only permitted in the hours of daylight. The maximum draft for a vessel proceeding to Basrah is 29 ft. in fresh water. If vessel's draft exceeds this lightening takes place at Umm Qasr. Although the draft obtainable alongside the wharves is 31 ft. the maximum draft for moving in the river is 29 ft. on account of the restriction at the Karun Bar.

MAX. SIZE: For vessels proceeding to Basrah the maximum length between perpendiculars allowed by the Iraqi Ports Administration is 560 ft. There is no restriction on the breadth. The maximum draft in fresh water for vessels to and from Basrah is 29 ft.

HEALTH: Masters are requested to call the Chief Medical Officer at Fao on 500 kc/s. call sign "YIS" requesting free pratique between 8 and 12 hours before vessel's arrival. All crew vaccination certificates should be valid and available for the Medical Officer's arrival on board. He will also expect to find a valid Deratisation Certificate on board. Anyone boarding the vessel ahead of the Medical Officer whilst the "Q" Flag is still hoisted is liable to a fine. Special precautions are taken in the case of a vessel arriving direct from an epidemic area and even if the crew are holding valid inoculation certificates the vessel may be delayed at the pilot station. The Iraq Government is very sensitive about the spread of cholera and smallpox.

RADIO: When a vessel is three days away from Basrah, radio contact can be established with Basrah Radio, call sign YIR on high frequencies 4, 6, 8, 12 and 16 kHz bands. When the vessel is within three days of arrival, Basrah Control Radio (YIR) can be used (transmitting on 500 kHz and receiving on 461·5 or 440 kHz).

TUGS: River-and sea-going tugs are available. Tug-boat services are offered as and when deemed necessary by port Pilot or Harbour Master, and are available at all times during day and night.

BERTHING: See "Restrictions". All berthing of vessels at Basrah is done during daylight hours only and according to suitable tide. The Harbour Master joins vessel on her arrival at Khora Anchorage which lies about 2 miles from the Maqal Wharves. In the case of Umm Qasr the Harbour Master joins vessel on arrival off the wharves.

Height of pier (quay) at berthing places above mean low water:

(a) Maqal – Plus 12·5 ft. above zero port datum. Port datum is 3·96 ft. above mean zero level at Fao.

(b) Umm Qasr – 24·65 ft. above lowest water of spring tide which is referred to as Umm Qasr Port datum.

Difference between high and low water:

(a) Maqal: A daily variation of 5 ft. between tides and max. of 8 ft.

(b) Umm Qasr: An average of 12 ft. between tides, and maximum of 17 ft.

Maqal (Ma'gal). Wharves vary in length from 155 to 170 metres, depth alongside 8·84 metres.

Umm Qasr. The wharves are of reinforced concrete with a continuous frontage of 2,100 ft. with a depth of 33 ft. alongside, and capable of accommodating three cargo ships at one time. Each berth is 600 ft. long. The wharves are provided with a total of 8 electric gantry shore cranes from 3 tons to 15 tons capacity.

BRIDGES: There are no bridges across the river from the entrance to Basrah Wharves (a distance of about 80 miles).

STEVEDORING: Information on the numbers of gangs required on board on vessel's arrival should be passed to the Agent together with vessel's ETA through Basrah Radio. The average rate of discharge of general cargo at Basrah (Maqal and Umm Qasr) is 6 tons per ganghour per 16 hour day. Contractors will place labour on board to discharge or load cargo but at the risk of the vessel as a Contractor will not accept any responsibility for damage done by labour.

Unloading of vessels basically carried out from vessels to wharves by Port cranes or ships derricks. Heavy lifts and some dangerous cargoes are discharged overside into barges. Loading from jetty is by crane directly into ships. Loading at midstream is by lighters.

Bulk Cargoes: Discharged by grab direct to the Dock at Umm Qasr and by suction to the silo at Basrah. The equipment at Basrah is rated at 2,500 L/tons per day discharge and 5,000 L/tons per day loading, but under favourable conditions discharge rate may exceed 3,000 L/tons per day.

CRANES: There are three floating cranes of a capacity 20 and 30 and 100 tons at Maqal, and one floating crane of a capacity 100 tons at Umm Qasr.

VHF: Port radar service. VHF can be used to call the Iraqi Port Administration at Basrah on Channel 16.

MEDICAL: For a vessel in to Basrah (Maqal and Um Qasr) no advance notice is required, in order to obtain medical attention. Hospital facilties available at the new port hospital and other local hospitals.

For arrival at Basrah it is necessary to hold valid cholera and smallpox certificates.

TANKERS: See "Khor-al-Amaya".

FRESH WATER: Fresh water is available at the wharves at Maqal and Umm Qasr but where a vessel is moored in midstream and requests water there is the additional charge for the hire of the water tanker.

FUEL: Only one grade of fuel oil available from the Basrah Refinery, a fuel oil viscosity 200 to 210 Red. No. 1, SG ·920.

Gas and diesel oils also available.

Fuelling is direct if taken alongside Muftiyah Refinery jetties, otherwise by barge. No coal bunkers available.

GANGWAY/DECK WATCHMEN: It is recommended that vessels moored or anchored in the river employ Gangway/Deck Watchmen.

OPENING/CLOSING HATCHES: This work is normally done by crew, but if the labour on board are asked to do it they should be supervised by an Officer.

CUSTOMS ALLOWANCES: (Tobacco) The Ship's Bond is sealed on arrival but prior to the sealing each member of the crew can have 200 cigarettes. The Bond will be opened by the Customs on the request of the Master at any time during vessel's stay in Basrah.

(Wine and/or Spirit) Each crew member is permitted to have 1 litre out of Bond. On sailing from Basrah the Master is required to wait till vessel has cleared the Shatt-el-Arab River before opening the Bond. This does not apply when vessel calls at Khorramshahr or Abadan on the way down river.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS: All crew members are required to carry with them some form of identification when going on shore.

REPAIRS: All types of repairs except major engine repairs can be carried out.

DRY DOCKS: There is no dry dock available for cargo vessels. The present dry dock called "Ajnadeen" built in Japan in 1965 has a displacement of about 4,220 and lifting capacity of 4,000 tons and has following measurements l×b×d – 105·35 ×29·20×10·95 m.

REPATRIATION: No difficulties in arranging the repatriation of crews from Basrah. Emergency visas are easily obtained for joining and departing crews.

AIRPORT: The Basrah Airport formerly an International Airport is now used only as a domestic airport and is situated about 2 miles from the Maqal Wharves but 50 miles from Umm Qasr. There is a daily flight to Baghdad to connect with International flights, also 3 flights per week to Kuwait to connect with international flights.

TIME: Iraq time is 3 hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time and there are no alterations made to clocks during the year.

HOLIDAYS: The official holiday of the week in Iraq is Friday. The other holidays are: Three days Id-el-fitr; Four days Id-el-Adha; Al Hijaa; Ashura; Birth of the Prophet Mohamad; New Year 1st January; Army day 6th January; 8th February; 21st March; 1st May Labour day; 14th July; 17th July.

POLICE/AMBULANCE/FIRE: A call to 7601 or 7606 will connect to the department required.

TELEPHONES: Telephone is placed on board a vessel as soon as secured alongside wharf.

GENERAL: The rain season in Basrah is between November and April and during the summer months from May to October the temperature can be as high as 55°C. It is important that crew members keep the backs of their necks covered whilst working on deck during the heat of the summer. The use of salt tablets are recommended during the heat of the summer.

SPECIAL SERVICES: There is a laundry service available.

SHORE LEAVE: There is no restriction on crew members going on shore but it is important that they carry a form of identification.

REGULATIONS: The Port Authority have requested that no photography takes place from the ship whilst passing naval or military installations.

DELAYS: As the port of Basrah is considered very well equipped, cargo vessels usually receive a very quick despatch and it is very seldom that a vessel experiences waiting time for a berth for discharging, loading or bunkering. All discharge takes place at the wharves and all loading takes place in midstream at mooring buoys. Where a vessel can load whilst discharging, this is permitted.

KHOR-AL-AMAYA: 29.46.48 N. 48.48.36 E.

OPERATORS: Basrah Petroleum Company Limited.

LOCATION: Island Terminal about 17 miles out in the Gulf from the mouth of the Shatt-el-Arab River.

ADMINISTRATION: All waters of the Shatt-el-Arab and of the approaches to Khor-al-Amaya are controlled by the Iraqi Ports Administration.

APPROACHES: (a) Lights. One white all-round navigation light has been fitted to the top of the radio mast on the centre piled structure at a height of 153 ft. above MHWS. Character: flashing every 5 seconds, visible for 18 miles; candlepower 7,400.

Red lights are fitted at the four extreme corners of the structure which is 1,300 ft. long. Character: fixed red visible 2 miles.

Additionally there are several aircraft warning lights (red) on various parts of the structure marking the upper extremities of towers and other erections including the central radio tower.

The channel between the entrance to the Shatt-el-Arab and the Khor-al-Amaya Sea Island Oil Terminal is marked by buoys and the Shatt-el-Arab Light Vessel (refer to relevant notices issued by the Iraqi Ports Administration, M.E.N.A.S., and Admiralty Notices to Mariners).

(b) Tides. High water at the Terminal may be expected to occur about 20 minutes before high water at the Shatt-el-Arab, Outer Bar. This may vary due to local meteorological and spate conditions. Tidal streams in the vicinity are rotatory and are not likely to exceed 2 knots. The maximum streams are generally along the berthing faces of the Terminal, but at certain states of the tide, cross sets, at right angles to the berthing faces, may be experienced. These are unlikely to exceed ¾ knot.

DOCUMENTS:

Crew List (5 copies).
Store List (2 copies).

PILOTAGE: Masters of vessels bound for Khor-al-Amaya Terminal should contact the pilot vessel which cruises in an area about 2 miles South-east of the Terminal. They will receive instructions as to whether to lie off, anchor or proceed towards the Harbour Master's launch.

(a) All vessels using Khor-al-Amaya buoyed channel are reminded that loaded tankers outward bound from Khor-al-Amaya Terminal have top priority in navigating the buoyed channel and all other vessels are to keep clear in all cases.

(b) All inward-bound vessels are to contact Khor-al-Amaya Harbour Master on VHF Channels 16 and 14 before entering Khor-al-Amaya channel for information regarding deeply laden tankers using the restricted channel, and for berthing and anchoring instructions.

(c) Pilotage is compulsory for all inward and outward bound tankers using the Khor-al-Amaya buoyed channel when the draft of the tanker is 15·85 metres (52 ft.) or over.

(d) Tankers arriving to load at Khor-al-Amaya with draft in excess of 15·85 metres (52 ft.) must give their ETA at Shatt-el-Arab Light-vessel at least 12 hours in advance by contacting the Pilot Station or Khor-al-Amaya Terminal.

TANKERS: The oil terminal is situated at Punta Molino and is represented by a finger jetty with 2 berths alongside; North for tankers up to 100,000 dwt with a depth 52 ft.; South for 40,000–50,000 dwt, with a depth of 40 ft. and one separate stern berth with 40 ft. depth available. The latter is generally used for small ships and loading refined products. At the two berths on the jetty discharge and loading is performed through up to 4 articulated 8-in. steel pipe connections. All berths are equipped for loading or discharge of full range of liquid petroleum cargoes. The distance between the connections of the hoses at midship and the stern of the ship must not be more than 450 ft.

The height between sea level and hose connection on the ship is not to exceed 15 metres, otherwise necessity of ballasting during discharge of crude carriers may arise.

Sea Berth for VLCC's (under construction): The sea berth is in approximate position 41° 13′ 27″ N., 13° 36′ 27″ E. Moored vessels will lie in an 076½° direction. The depth is reported to be 22 metres. The pipe-line to the shore is 42 in. diameter. Length 3,150 metres.

The mooring is expected to consist of one buoy with flashing red light marking the position of the manifold, two buoys to the W.S.W. of the mooring position in a line 076½° to indicate the "berthing line" and seven mooring buoys.

The berth is expected to be in use at the end of September 1974. Maximum draft initially, 19 metres. Hourly pumping rate 7/8,000 tons.

BALLAST: Ballast is to be discharged exclusively ashore into tanks of the refinery plant; discharge is performed through 8 in. connections and a 1600 metre long 10 in. pipeline at a rate of 350/400 tons per hour. It is therefore advisable that vessels nominated to load products at Gaeta arrive with as little ballast as possible. Heavy fines are put on Masters if ballast is discharged overboard.

Buoy Terminal: A steel tower, set up about 2,800 metres off the Genoa Multedo Oil Dock in water 50 metres in depth is provided for the discharge of crude oil from supertankers up to 500,000 dwt.

A 48 in. (120 cm.) submarine pipe-line connects the tower with the terminals of all the oil companies operating at the Multedo Oil Dock

Technical Characteristics: The tower consists of a steel structure having the form of a truncated pyramid set into the sea-bed at a depth of 50 metres and supporting the following parts above the level of the sea:

A lower platform having quarters for the accommodation of personnel or the housing of the various services, the deck being at a height of 6·335 metres a.s.l. This platform is protected by a steel structure mounted on elastic supports, with wooden fenders topped with rubber buffers. The toroidal structure, externally to the rubber buffers, is 34·200 metres in diameter. Under the impact of a vessel, the ring will shift axially for a distance of 2 metres as a result of the system of shock absorbers which support the lower platform.

An upper platform 10·335 metres a.s.l. which carries the rotating arm for berthing tankers and the connection of the floating discharge hoses. The rotating arm reaches a height of 13·882 metres a.s.l. and is fitted with:

(a) a bollard capable of withstanding a horizontal pull of 360 tons;

(b) two pipes 24 in. in diameter running to a double universal joint at sea level for connecting the riser of the submarine line to the floating hoses linking tower and tanker; on the rotating part of the tower, the two 24 in. pipes are fitted with cut-off valves and may be connected one to the other by means of a by-pass with a gate valve;

(d) a lighted beacon and radar reflector at a height of 23 metres.

Floating hoses for crude oil discharge: The two 24 in. pipes with which the riser connects on the tower are coupled by universal joints to two floating hoses of 24 in. diameter, with 16 in. terminals, each hose being about 310 metres in length and consisting of 29 sections of 10·67 metres, of which the last three of 16 in. diameter for connecting to the ship's manifold. They are fitted with a blank flange, a Camlock rapid-closing joint and a Keystone rapid cut-off valve that will ensure perfect tightness and rapid disconnection in an emergency.

The hose connections are exactly 90° left of the bollard with respect to the mooring vessel.

Signal lights and fog horn: The tower is equipped with a regulation flashing white light 23 metres a.s.l. and a fog horn.

TUGS: All vessels above 150,000 dwt. must have two tugs re for any emergency during their stay at the berth. They will rem at anchor near the marine terminal on stand-by and with fire-fight ready for immediate use.

Tugs are generally stationed in Savona Harbour. In view required time to reach the Terminal Area (about 20 minutes time good weather conditions) a sufficient notice should be granted.

The principal characteristics of tugs are:

Luigi Moli: motor, 300 h.p. – 50 tons bollard pull (Korte nozz Fire equipment: Equipped with "Sourbel" fire-fighting articula arms. 1 monitor fore mast, 23 m. above sea level; 2 monitors m mast, 16 m. above sea level, water/foam range 120/90 m.

MOORING: The vessel will be boarded before mooring operatio by a Sarpom Marine Terminal Supervisor (S.M.T.S.) who is experienced captain. He will remain on board up to the time t harbour Pilot boards the vessel for unmooring operations and will also act as co-ordinator of all ship/shore operations, provid local advice to the Master in any emergency that may arise.

Responsibility for the safe conduct of operations on board wh in berth or in the area of Terminal rests with the Master, as sol responsible on behalf of the Owners of the vessel.

Vessels will be boarded by the harbour Pilot off Savona Harb breakwater or at anchorage. All manoeuvring of ships procee to the Terminal and within the Terminal area will be done in acco ance with the harbour Pilot advices. Vessels will proceed sub quently to Vado Bay with a course parallel to the coast, about miles from shore, up to the terminal area.

A starboard turn will be taken, steering on the "approaching ran line", leading to the buoys field. Another range line, crossing w above line, marks the position where the starboard anchor sho be dropped. With the assistance of 4 to 5 tugs the vessel then bac into the berth.

The position of anchors is assumed for vessels of 980 ft. LOA a 13 shackles in the water. The pilot according to current informa can also do anticlockwise manoeuvring instead of above clockwi in this case the first anchor to be dropped will be the port ancho

It is recommended that at least the following number of shack in the water should be used according to size of vessel:

|---|---|
| (1) VLCC's above 140,000 dwt. | 13 |
| (2) Vessels 80 to 140,000 dwt. | 11 |
| (3) Vessels 50 to 80,000 dwt. | 9 |

According to existing local weather conditions the first line to sent out is generally on buoy N.7 or 6 (port side of vessel). T sequence of mooring operations will take place as suggested harbour Pilot.

In expected or bad weather conditions, preventer wires will picked up.

For vessels in the range of 50,000–90,000 dwt., according to exist and foreseen weather conditions and other factors, only five buo instead of seven will be used.

Rear and front marks forming the range lines show red and white chequered marks, and by night show fixed and flashing red and green light as follows:

Rear mark: One green flashing (3 miles), over a fixed red light.
Front mark: One red flashing (3 miles), over a fixed green light.

Rear mark: One green flashing (3 miles), over a fixed red light.
Front mark: One red flashing (3 miles), over a fixed green light.

Vessels must be moored to the entire satisfaction of the Pilot and Sarpom Marine Terminal Supervisor and must be ready at all times to put out more lines, to take in preventer wires using messenger lines, or to adjust lines or leave the berth as required by S.M.T.S. due to any change in the weather.

The Master of the vessel shall notify the Pilot of any special conditions, difficulties or peculiarities, such as defective equipment, lines or gear, which might impose special hazards in connection with handling, mooring or discharging the vessel.

It is required that vessels test steering gear, engine room telegraph, whistle and all navigational equipment before any manoeuvre to or from the berth. The Pilot will decline to moor vessels if they are not equipped with satisfactory mooring equipment, lines, gear, etc.

The mooring boat has the following characteristics: LOA 12 metres – beam 4·20 metres – displacement 17 tons. Motor Diesel Deutz 150 h.p., can be overpowered up to 200 h.p.

A successful test of the boat power was carried out by towing 250 metres of two 38 millimeters dia. wires at the same time.

N.B. Being an open roadstead, vessels must keep engines on stand-by during their stay in the moorings. No repairs to main engine may be undertaken in berth. Steam must be kept on deck in case an adjustment to anchor cables or mooring lines is found necessary.

The vessel's personnel are responsible for the safety of the vessel and must take all necessary precautions, whether or not so advised by the Pilot or S.M.T.S., having in mind the hazards of the operations because of the product being discharged, weather conditions and any other circumstances requiring special care or caution.

While a vessel is moored, all the vessel's personnel and vessel's operations must comply or be in accord with the Safety Rules as per form 1–49 Mar-B and others handed to Master on arrival, to ensure as far as possible the safety of the ship as well as the properties of Terminal. Unsatisfactory conditions will be reported to Sarpom Marine Terminal Supervisor who is empowered to reject the ship for future calls unless the reported deficiencies have been remedied.

Note: If in the opinion of the harbour Pilot and/or Sarpom Marine Terminal Supervisor the vessel is not equipped with adequate mooring facilities, lines or gears he will so inform the ship's Master and in such event the ship shall not be brought into the mooring until facilities, lines or gear, are deemed satisfactory.

BERTH: The sea bed at the berth is firm sand overlain by 1 to 2 metres of mud.

The berth is a conventional buoy mooring consisting of seven Langmar buoys designed for a 125 short ton load. Each buoy is equipped with a 40 mm. diameter preventer wire. Vessel is berthed with two anchors ahead and seven mooring lines to buoys round the stern. Moored vessels have their bow seaward heading South-east, 155° true.

As the mooring buoys are at distances from 500 to 650 ft. away when the ship is in position, vessels should have ropes of 200 fathoms ready for running out on each side of the after deck to warp ship into position. Where vessels are not so equipped, two ropes of 150 fathoms (or of such a length as to have the eye splice on board when in position), should be married together and flaked out on deck clear of all obstructions and ready for running.

Vessels not equipped with wire winches should have at least 15 mooring lines aft with diameter appropriate for the size of the vessel and a minimum length of 150 fathoms with lashings ready for marrying one rope to another for running out. Combinations of wire synthetic lines are acceptable on the basis that two synthetic lines replace one wire. Large diameter manila is both slow and cumbersome.

Speed of running out and warping are often of vital importance when berthing, and experience has proved that the smaller diameter synthetic ropes of equivalent strength not only improve mooring time but often make mooring possible when the larger ropes fail. Maximum circumference of such ropes should be 10 in.

Mooring wires on ship's winches are favoured at this terminal but it is recommended that the wire be not less than 1⅝ in. diameter and at least 150 fathoms long, preferably 200 fathoms. Such winches must be solidly locked when in moorings; the tension feature is not acceptable. It is also recommended that the wire be secured on the drum in such a manner that it can be slipped without endangering personnel.

Where nylon tails are used, they should be spliced on the wire round a thimble.

When slipping wire has been found necessary, the mooring company launch will make every effort to recover and return it to the vessel.

Chain stoppers must be ready both sides of vessel and aft.

DISCHARGING: Ships will discharge through two strings of hoses, i.e.:

|---|---|
| String No. 1 | 9 lengths 25 ft.×20 in. dia. |
| | 2 lengths 25 ft.×16 in. dia. |
| | 1 length 30 ft.×16 in. dia. |
| String No. 2 | 10 lengths 25 ft.×20 in. dia. |
| | 2 lengths 25 ft.×16 in. dia. |
| | 1 length 30 ft.×16 in. dia. |

The weight to be lifted on each string is about 9 tons: they are invariably taken up on the starboard side. Both headers are equipped with fast uncoupling devices.

The submarine line connected by manifold to the above strings consists of two lines (one 32 in. dia. one 36 in. dia.) of about 3·470 metres length reaching the shore installations (Sarpom Depot) which has, at present, the capacity of 387·500 cubic metres.

The maximum discharging rate allowed is 11,800 cu. m/hr = 74,000 bbls/hr with a maximum pressure at ship's rail of 150 p.s.i. = 10·6 kg/sq. cm.

Raising, connecting, disconnecting and lowering of the hoses will be performed by shore personnel (7 men), who will remain on board throughout discharging operations, using a special motor-boat chartered by Sarpom.

The boat is fitted with anti-oil-pollution equipment. Vessel's crew are required to assist shore personnel handling the boom winch and to carefully inspect their hose boom equipment before arrival.

It is recommended that vessels send maximum flow possible with due regard to safety, in order to expedite turn-around time, as well as to provide ballasting as quickly as possible.

N.B. The Sarpom Terminal maintains a vigorous tanker discharging safety programme. S.M.T.S. is authorised to suspend discharging operations in the event of any of the safety rules not being observed, or if any other danger is believed to exist. Tankers are expected to follow all safety regulations generally accepted and practised in the marine transport industry (IOTTSG Safety Guide).

The S.M.T.S. will advise the Cargo Officer or a responsible officer in due time when the switching of shore tanks, changes in discharging rates, etc. are required by the shore installation operations and for any emergency stop.

BALLAST: Vessels provided with segregated ballast will start ballasting as soon as possible during discharge operations. All vessels that are able to handle cargo and ballast simultaneously will be authorised to do so, after S.M.T.S. is satisfied that no sea pollution or cargo contamination might occur.

All efforts must be made to avoid the vessel remaining in completely light condition. Should a vessel neither be fitted with segregated ballast nor be able to simultaneously handle cargo ballast, S.M.T.S. in agreement with the Master may ask the vessel to stop discharge operations and start ballasting, after having inspected the tanks involved.

Ballast operations after completion of discharge must be reduced to the minimum required for safe handling of the vessel out of berth, which in fair weather conditions can be propeller submerged and vessel trimmed 10 ft. by the stern. Ballast operation can continue at reduced speed during unmooring.

While the vessel is ballasting the S.M.T.S. in agreement with the Master will start singling-up by letting go all preventer wires and any other additional mooring lines not strictly required for a safe mooring. This, of course, taking in due consideration all weather and current conditions.

WEATHER: The bay, although sheltered from the strongest winds blowing from the fourth quadrant by high mountains coming down close to the coast, is subject to strong wind gusts from this quadrant, and the relative wind direction varies considerably in different parts of the bay at one time due to irregularities of the coastal heights.

The bay is open to Southerly winds and seas, and it is from this direction that seas and swells caused by strong wind between South-east and South-west may interrupt marine operations. Delays in this area are mainly due to the impossibility of mooring a vessel under certain weather conditions than to withstand elements once she is moored. The berth current is part of the general offshore current stream and is not wind blown or tidal; its predominant direction is toward the South-west and the maximum speed is 0·8–1 knots; generally currents do not exceed 0·5–0·6 knots. The faster currents are likely to occur more frequently during the winter period; occasionally they reverse and set North-west with a reduced velocity.

Tide is negligible and fog is rare.

In general, weather in the bay is seasonal. From May to October it is very good. The worst period is from October to December when winds and seas from South-west cause the maximum number of port closures.

From December to May the strongest winds are experienced from third and fourth quadrants but sea is usually smooth.

12 and 24 hour weather forecast data is available on request on a round-the-clock basis at the Terminal Office. In addition the Office is provided with "Murfax" type continuous long-range weather recording data, waverider receiver, currentmeter and anemometer.

Broadcast weather reports for Mar Ligure, North Tirreno and Corsica are prepared by Navy Dept. of La Spezia and Air Force Weather Bureau. For Mar Ligure, they refer to Capo Mele (West of Vado Bay). Radiotelephone information concerning weather is also given on 2182 kc/sec. (Genova Radio Station). Weather reports transmitted on 1722 kc/sec. at 0135–0735–1335–1935 GMT.

Weather forecast covering the following 12 hours is transmitted at 0135 and 1335 GMT.

VHF–weather information can be received through Genova Radio Station on Channel 25 at same periods as for radiotelephone.

Special Gale Reports:

Wireless After 15/18 min. and 45/48 min. every hour on 500/487 kc/sec.

VHF On Channels 16 and 25 at same times as above.

SIP (Telephone) – Genoa Weather Report, prepared by Air Force Dept. at Genoa Airport, is based on the Genoa Radio information plus local information received by planes or vessels along the coast from Capo Mele to La Spezia. The report is inserted on a tape recorder and it is amended according to latest information received.

ABIDJAN: 05.18 N. 04.00 E.

DOCUMENTS:

7 Crew Lists.
6 Lists of Previous Ports of Call.
2 Lists of Ship's Stores.
2 Lists of Crew Personal Effects.
Maritime Declaration of Health.
6 Passenger Lists.

PILOTAGE: About one hour before arrival ships equipped with VHF shall confirm to the pilot station their correct hour of arrival off the roads; then the boarding time for Pilot shall be communicated. It is essential that these times are clearly understood both by ship and pilot station.

Ships shall stay in a position so they keep across the swell and the wind which both generally come from the South and they shall put the pilot ladder at the lee, i.e. Port if steering Eastward, Starboard if steering Westward.

Pilotage is compulsory, except for shifting alongside quays. For ships leaving harbour or shifting within harbour limits, request for a Pilot should be made at the Harbour Master's Office 3 hours at least before sailing or shifting. For a night sailing or shifting, request must be made before 1700.

Warning: when embarking Pilot, keep well clear of sandbank extending from entrance to Vridi Canal.

RESTRICTIONS: Ships may leave or enter Abidjan only between certain time limits. These limits are transmitted by Abidjan-Radio:

on 500 kc/s on request; on short wave, at the beginning of each watch period.

MAX. SIZE: Maximum draft 32 ft., maximum length 200 metres.

HEALTH: Request for free pratique is given by the Agent to port Health Authority, who will board vessel on arrival.

RADIO: Captains should radio their ETA and draft to "Comport-Abidjan". When at anchorage off Vridi canal, they should watch for signals from Vridi signal station, which keeps continuous watch, and advise them regarding the time the pilot will board their ship. Port Captain's office and Vridi signal station keep a permanent watch on 156·6 Mc/s and 156·8 Mc/s. Agents may be obtained through Abidjan-Radio on 2182 kHz. Abidjan-Radio answers on 1813 kHz.

VHF: 16 and 12 Channels are used: 16 for security and 12 for general traffic. It is strongly advised to use Channel 12. This channel is strictly reserved for the harbour traffic and ships wishing to talk to each other should do so on a ship to ship channel (6 or 8).

PORT RADAR: Is installed in the Harbour Master's Office. Vessels can contact port radar by VHF calling Comport Abidjan on Channels 16, 12 and 11, or through Abidjan Radio, which keeps watch on Channel 16.

TUGS: Tugs join vessel at the port entrance. Towing lines are provided by the tug.

BERTHING: At the Tanker berth in the Vridi channel, berthing is effected at slack water and unberthing is effected at the end of flood tide. Mooring at the sea line buoys at Port Bouet is only made at certain stages of the tide determined by the Pilot.

SPECIALISED CARGO HANDLING FACILITIES:

Cranes: Two sheer-legs for unloading heavy lifts, capacity 150 and 25 tonnes.

Two gantry cranes for timber handling, capacity 10 and 20 tonnes.

Grain: Priority berthing at No. 1 berth where silos and handling equipment available.

Containers: Discharged by vessel's derricks and removed by trailers. Proper container handling berths available in near future with container park of 30,000 sq. metres.

Bananas: One specialised berth with accommodation for two vessels, max. draft 7 metres.

Ore: One berth available, max. draft 10 metres.

Timber: Two berths. One with length of 300 metres and max. draft 2·50 metres and the other length 380 metres and max. draft of 0·70 metres. Timber is lowered into the water by gantry cranes and floated out to vessels.

TANKERS: One Private berth in the Vridi Channel, max. draft 30 ft. Shipmaster's Report: The Sea Line Berth at Port Bouet near Abidjan.

(a) Introduction: Vessel ordered to part discharge 21,000 tons of crude. With a maximum draft of 48 ft. 6 in., this was the largest vessel to use these facilities; the previous largest being about 60 kdwt (1973).

(b) Approach from sea: Coast line is low with few distinguishing marks. Outline picked up at about 18 miles range (using Marconi Raymark), at about the same time as 100 fathom line was crossed. Coast is very steep-to with a pronounced rift in sea bed leading to canal entrance in Abidjan.

(c) Anchorage: Vessel anchored about 2 miles from sea line terminal at Port Bouet. The usual anchorage is to West of canal, which would permit a more suitable approach to the berth.

(d) Berth: The sea berth is situated about one mile S.S.E. of Port Bouet light. According to chart prepared by terminal authorities Société Ivoirienne de Raffinage (SIR), the depths of water in the berth are 16 m. aft and 19 m. for'd, at chart datum. Members of the diving team and terminal representatives are of the opinion that there is greater than 1 m. more water than indicated; this is backed up by observed soundings of for'd depth of 21 m., with a rise of tide of 0·5 m.

Moorings consist of four 6 in. shore wires from buoys aft; four similar wires for'd, two from buoys, two from the sea bed; both anchors are used with about 8 or 9 shackles of cable on each.

Hoses are made fast on port side, 2×12 in. leading to a 1×24 in.× 5 km sea line. Back pressure is limited to 7 kg cm$^2$ (about 100 lb in.$^2$). Berth is aligned to head into the prevailing Southwesterly wind. Unfortunately this places the vessel beam on to the current which is unpredictable in both magnitude and direction. After nine years' experience at the berth, the diving team are unable to predict for a particular time if the current will run at all, or in what direction or at what strength. Current velocities of up to 2½ knots are normal. If the current starts to run at this strength at an early stage of a berthing operation it is probable that the operation will have to be abandoned.

(e) Berthing: Approach to the berth is made on a heading of 145° in line with buoys A and B on SIR chart. During much of the approach the vessel is within five cables of the shore, but, with one exception, the depth of water is adequate.

When the vessel was between one and two ship's lengths from buoy A, in Grid reference position 579.030 393.280 on SIR chart, the under keel clearance was 15 ft., for several minutes. There was a very low, barely discernible, swell running, but the approach to the berth runs with this swell directly abeam, causing the vessel to roll an estimated five degrees; the effect of this was to give a minimum bilge clearance of 10 ft.

Berthing operation is routine, with some shore labour assisting with wires. No carpenters' stoppers are provided for wires, but two each end can be made fast on to the storage drums of the winches.

(f) Discharging: Limiting back pressure maintained by two cargo pumps running at 1,200 rpm. Discharge rate achieved was 2,237 tons hour$^1$, which is usual for this berth.

(g) Bunkering: Bunkers are available in the berth in amounts greater than 500 tons. As bunkers are taken via the same sea line as cargo is discharged, the operation is somewhat clumsy and ti consuming: crude in the sea line is displaced by fuel oil; the ho is shifted to bunker connection; bunkers are taken; the hose re-connected to cargo manifold; the fuel oil in the sea line is d placed by crude oil. This sequence of operations took a total eight hours. If a total discharge was planned, it might be advisab to take bunkers in the middle of the discharge, in order to obvia the need to use stripping pumps to displace the fuel oil in the s line, amounting to some 1,200 tons.

STEVEDORES: Gangs must be ordered before 1700 on the p vious day.

SINGLE-BUOY MOORING: Asia Oil Company, sea berth suitable for up to 72,000 dwt. at Imodco Buoy.

Position: 41° 48′ 08″ N. 140° 40′ 57″ E.

Soundings: At site 15·5 metres. In approaches to site, more than 15·5 metres. The approach to terminal is free from obstructions.

There is one 20-in. crude line running 2,000 metres from shore to the buoy, and about 500 metres from shore line to the storage tanks.

Mooring: There is no night mooring. Unmooring is carried out from 0600 till 2400 hours, and may be done by the Master of the ship without a Pilot.

A mooring/unmooring gang is provided for by Agent. Two launches and one tug are in attendance at the mooring. One launch will keep the hose clear while the other handles the lines. The tug is standing by and only pushes against bow or near the stern to keep the head of the vessel in position whilst mooring.

At least six good mooring lines are required, preferably each line to its own bollard. The lines are run single to the buoy. The position of the ship's bow from the buoy is about 40 metres, when the distance from the buoy to ship's manifold is about 360 ft.

When mooring, it is requested that the propeller is completely stopped or otherwise turned astern.

Both bow anchors are to be hove well up in the hawse pipe and properly secured before reaching the buoy. Anchors are never to be used while on the buoy. They may foul the buoy's mooring cables and pipe-line on the bottom if released.

Floating Hose: There is one set of 12-in. floating hose for the discharge of crude only. The floating hose is about 600 ft. long from the buoy's manifold. The last two lengths are floating in doughnut-shaped plastic floats. The end is marked with an unlit marker buoy.

The hose connections are always made to the port manifold and are lifted with ship's gear. The hose when full of cargo and equipment weighs over one and a half tons. Information is required of the distance from ship's bow to ship's manifold, and the distance from ship's side to ship's manifold prior to arrival.

Standard flanges are used on the hose. OD 19 in. diameter of bolt-circle 17 in. with 12 bolt-holes size $\frac{7}{8}$ in.

Discharging: The discharging should be arranged in such a way as to be able to take sufficient ballast into ship's tanks, when about half way during discharge; to be able to get the ship's head down to prevent the vessel from veering too widely, and run over the hose near the buoy, in case of unfavourable conditions.

Maximum allowed backpressure by shore is about 10 kg/cm². During the discharge the main engine must not be immobilised as it may be used to keep the vessel clear of the buoy.

Stand-by Men: While on the buoy, the vessel will be required to provide sleeping quarters for four men, this includes the foreman who will remain on board throughout the entire operation. It is requested that the discharge officer be provided with meals. The other men are supplied with food from shore.

DENSITY: Average 1025.

FRESH WATER: Available at piers ex-hydrants and by barge at anchorage. Supplier, Hakodate Municipal Office.

Pilotage not compulsory but recommended in view of great number of islands causing navigational hazards. Pilots obtained from one of three pilot stations dependent upon vessels last port of departure and at Master's discretion. Pilotage available throughout 24 hours and 72 hours advance notice preferred, thereafter advising any alterations. Most Inland Sea Pilots also act as harbour Pilots up to berth or anchorage at destination. Note: No VHF Communication available with Inland Sea pilot stations.

KIN WAN (Okinawa): 26.22 N. 127.58 E. (See Plan)

Kin Wan Port Services Company, Heianza Island.

DOCUMENTS:

Ship's Register.
Last Port Clearance.
3 Crew Lists, including passport numbers.
3 Passenger Lists.
1 Stores List.
1 Declaration of crew baggage, i.e. tobacco, wines/spirits, camer wrist-watch, radio, fire arms/swords, etc. (only at first port of ca in Japan).

Ship's Agent will prepare inward/outward Declaration, 1 Carg Manifest, Cargo Manifest in Transit using specific forms. Therefor ship's agents should be provided with necessary information abou details of cargoes in advance.

APPROACHES: For those vessels which may not be provide with a large-scale chart the following suggestions are given as guide to approaching the pilot station:

Vessels should make for the position 26° 26′ N., 128° 04′ E. (off th East coast of Okinawa) and from there should steer due Wes passing No. 1 Buoy (fl. 4 sec., Ra. Refl.) abeam to port, distan about 1¼ miles. The Berthing Master will board VLCC's (150,000 dw plus) or any vessel which is a stranger to the port, when they a abeam of the buoy, but if circumstances should prevent this th vessel should continue on the Westerly course for a mile past th buoy and then alter course to 233 (T). About 3¼ miles on this ne course brings the essel approximately to the inner pilot station i 26° 24′ N., 127° 58′ E.

For the purpose of Traffic Separation and Control, the approac to Kin Wan Port is divided by a centre line joining the followin positions:

1. 26° 26′ 00″ N., 128° 02′ 00″ E.
2. 26° 25′ 20″ N., 128° 00′ 00″ E.
3. 26° 23′ 30″ N., 127° 58′ 00″ E.

Vessels entering or leaving the port should keep to their ow starboard side of this line.

PILOTAGE: Also see "Approaches".

Berthing Masters will normally board from a tug having a blue hu and cream upperworks, with a tall lattice mast bearing a numbe (1, 2, 3 or 4). Since the tugs have a fairly high freeboard, pilot ladder should be rigged with the bottom step about 6 ft. (2 metres) abov the water-level, otherwise the lower steps may be crushed o damaged. Vessels with a freeboard exceeding 30 ft. are requeste to rig the pilot ladder in conjunction with an accommodation ladde in the approved manner.

Masters of calling vessels are reminded of their obligation t comply with statutory rules and are requested to comply wit International recommendations concerning pilot ladders. If th ladder is not safe, the Berthing Master may refuse to board and thu cause unnecessary delay to the ship.

ANCHORAGES: For the purpose of traffic separation and contro the approach to Kin Wan is divided by a centre line joining th following positions:

(1) 26° 26′ 00″ N., 128° 02′ 00″ E.
(2) 26° 25′ 20″ N., 128° 00′ 00″ E.
(3) 26° 23′ 30″ N., 127° 58′ 00″ E.

Vessels entering or leaving the port should keep to their ow starboard side of this line.

Recommended anchorages:

For mammoths in order of arrival:

| M4: | Lat. 26° 26′ 08″ N. | Long. 127° 59′ 05″ E. |

(Subject Japanese Coastguard M.S.A. approval is obtained b Agent.)

For vessels 50,000 dwt–150,000 dwt.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| S1: | Lat. 26° 23′ 38″ N. | Long. 127° 57′ 29″ E. |
| S2: | Lat. 26° 23′ 14″ N. | Long. 127° 57′ 14″ E. |
| S3: | Lat. 26° 22′ 50″ N. | Long. 127° 56′ 59″ E. |

Products anchorage: The area bounded by a line joining the following positions:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| (1) | 26° 22′ 00″ N. | 127° 56′ 29″ E. |
| (2) | 26° 22′ 13″ N. | 127° 56′ 33″ E. |
| (3) | 26° 22′ 00″ N. | 127° 57′ 19″ E. |
| (4) | 26° 21′ 51″ N. | 127° 57′ 05″ E. |

The holding ground is good in anchorages, but depths in the firs groups between 22 and 25 fathoms; it is therefore recommende that at least one shackle of chain be walked back on the windlass before letting go the anchor.

Depths in the product anchorage vary between 10 and 14 fathoms.

Prohibited Anchorage: Owing to the existence of underwate pipe-lines, telephone cables and obstructions, anchoring is prohibited anywhere South-east of a line joining the following two positions:

(1) 26° 22′ 31″ N., 127° 58′ 08″ E. (i.e. the North-east dolphin of the Sea Island)
(2) 26° 21′ 37″ N., 127° 56′ 44″ E. (i.e. the North-east dolphin o No. 3 berth on the Products Pier)

For berthing, Masters of vessels are requested to have the propeller submerged and vessel in a reasonable trim for ship-handling purposes (not exceeding 3·5 m.).

RESTRICTIONS: Berthing and sailing operations take place 24 hours a day with the exception that vessels do not berth on Nos. 4 and 5 between sunset and sunrise. However, the island of Okinawa recently reverted to Japanese control and it is possible that movements after sunset may be restricted in the future, especially if the anticipated increase in traffic takes place.

There are no specific restrictions on draft, but in order to ensure safe handling characteristics it is recommended that vessels arriving in ballast arrange that the propeller is fully submerged, with a stern trim not exceeding about 10 ft. Vessels which do not meet this requirement may be delayed in berthing until additional ballast has been run in.

MAX. SIZE: Five berths are available for calling tankers. No. 1 berth can accommodate vessels up to 500,000 dwt., and No. 2 berth vessels up to 150,000 dwt. These two berths are situated at the offshore platform. Berths No. 3, No. 4, No. 5 are situated at the product dock. Also see "Berthing".

| Berth No. | Max. dwt. | Least depth of water below datum | Remarks |
|---|---|---|---|
| Sea Berth 1 | 500,000 | 102 ft. | |
| " " 2 | 150,000 | 90 ft. | |
| Prod. Pier 3 | 60,000 | 50 ft. | Max. dist. stern to manifold 320 ft. |
| " " 4 | 20,000 | 36 ft. | |
| " " 5 | 10,000 | 30 ft. | |

In addition to the above tanker berths a dry-cargo berth is also available. This berth is 110 metres in length and has a least depth of 22 ft. below Okinawa Datum.

HEALTH: At first port of call in Japan, vessel may obtain free pratique. Quarantine Officers will attend vessel only from daylight to sunset, and Captain to show all vaccination cards and Derating Exemption Certificate. In case vessel arrives from cholera-infected zone within 10 days, Captain must advise crew and passengers' health condition to Quarantine Officer through ship's Agent prior to arrival, and close all soil pipes before entering port.

No person other than port health and customs officer is allowed to board or disembark from a vessel until clearance has been obtained from Government Authorities.

Radio pratique is available to vessels in possession of valid certificates issued by the Japanese Government. For radio pratique procedures Owners are advised to consult with their Agents for details.

RADIO: When en route to the Kin Wan Port at Okinawa a vessel's ETA must be communicated to his Agent, 72, 48 and 24 hours prior to arrival. If VHF is not available arrival information can also be passed to your Agent by "Ship Telephone Service". Naha: 098854–5155.

It is important that ETAs are confirmed 12 hours before expected arrivals and amendments communicated when known.

VHF station "Kin Wan Tug" located on Heianza Island keeps a 24 hour listening watch on Channel 16 (156·800 mc/s) and Channel 13 (156·650 mc/s). Tel. 098967–8131 is also manned 24 hours per day.

RADAR: The port is not equipped with radar. Poor visibility may occur in heavy rain, but fog is rare. Coastlines and buoys within the bay give good echo returns on ships' radar. All tugs are fitted with radar, and on occasions vessels have been guided into the port by them in heavy rainstorms, the tug keeping close alongside within sight of the bridge, and communicating by VHF.

TUGS: Four tugboats are stationed at the Terminal. The Berthing Master in consultation with the Master will decide the number of tugs required for each berthing operation and as stand-by tugs during the vessel's stay in port.

Vessels are berthed with the assistance of up to four tugs according to the vessel's size and weather conditions. Such tugs will either secure alongside, "American style", or will secure forward or aft by their towing hooks. Tugs' lines are always used. The tugs are of 2,400 h.p. and have twin C.P. propellers with independent Kort-nozzle rudders, and are manned by highly skilled crews. It should be noted that the port charges for vessels are a fixed amount based on deadweight tonnage, and this charge is not affected by the number of tugs used or not used. Masters may thus follow the Berthing Master's recommendations regarding tug requirements without having to consider what may well be dangerous economies.

READINESS: A vessel is "arrived" for notice of readiness purposes, when the Berthing Master boards or, if vessel proceeds to anchorage without a Berthing Master, when she drops her anchor.

BERTHING: In normal circumstances no lines are run out until the vessel is alongside the berth and in position. Tugs will hold her there whilst the mooring takes place, springs usually being run first, followed by breastlines, then head- and stern-lines. On the larger berths all lines except springs are lowered to the water and taken to the dolphins by line-handling boats, where they are secured to quick-release hooks. Nothing is required in the way of pennants, tails or shackles. Springs are passed direct to the dolphins by heaving-lines.

Owing to the depth of water, anchors are not normally used when berthing at the sea-berth. However, the outboard anchor should in all cases be ready for emergency use.

Weather permitting, vessels secure starboard side alongside at No. 3 Berth. At Nos. 4 and 5 vessels can only berth starboard side to the pier, owing to the construction of the berths. Therefore if wind conditions do not permit of berthing in this way, the berthing will be delayed until the wind is suitable. At the sea-berth, mammoth vessels normally berth port side to the pier, but this is only to reduce the time taken for the operation, and they can be berthed starboard side to if conditions require it. Smaller vessels are berthed either way according to requirements and conditions.

The Marine Office is equipped with a Weather Facsimile Recorder, and Masters can obtain the latest information regarding possible storm conditions by contacting the Harbour Master on VHF Channel 14 or by calling 214 on the internal telephone system from the berths. When typhoons are imminent all cargo operations cease and vessels are required to vacate the berths and are recommended to proceed to sea.

FUEL: Heavy fuel is available at Nos. 1 and 2 Berths. All grades of bunkers are available at Nos. 3, 4 and 5.

CONSULS: At present the only Consulates on Okinawa are those of U.S.A. and Taiwan, but it is expected that Consular Officers for Norway and Greece will be established.

REPAIRS: Only minor repair facilities are available in Kin Wan, for such small components as can be sent ashore, e.g. repairing of valves or piping, re-winding of electric motors.

DRY DOCKS: None.

GANGWAYS, WATCHMEN: Shore gangways are fitted at Nos. 1, 2 and 3, and are supplied free of charge. Ship's gangways must be provided at Nos. 4 and 5. Watchmen are not required since access to the berths is controlled by the Company's security guards at the installation gates.

REPATRIATION: Crew changes and/or repatriation can be arranged by the Agent.

AIRPORT: Kin Wan Port is about two hours by car from Naha airport (depending on traffic conditions) from where there are frequent services by several major airlines to all parts of the world via Tokyo, Honolulu, Taipeh or Hong Kong.

TIME: Local time is nine hours ahead of GMT, unchanged throughout the year.

HOLIDAYS: Local holidays do not normally affect operations in the port. Bank Holidays are now basically the same as those in other Japanese ports.

POLICE/AMBULANCE/FIRE: Ambulance 319 or 300 after hours or 211 (C.C.D.) or VHF 16; Fire 319 or 300 after hours or 211 (C.C.D.) or VHF 16; Police inform C.C.D. by VHF Ch. 16 or tel. 211, or Harbour Master tel. 214.

TELEPHONES: Telephones are not placed on board, but for urgent ship's business arrangements can be made for calls to be placed through the Company switchboard.

SERVICES: Tank-cleaning alongside is prohibited, but facilities for discharge of tank washings are available. See "Pollution Control".

SHORE LEAVE: For reason of safety the Terminal and the Off-Shore Platform are restricted areas. However, ship's personnel and visitors to ships are permitted to disembark and embark via the dolphins, which are also the personnel landing areas. Loitering at the loading platform will not be permitted.

Unauthorized or apparently intoxicated or disorderly persons shall be prohibited from entering the pier and the Terminal.

Shore passes will be issued by the Agent. These passes must be surrendered to the Agent prior to the ship's departure, unless the vessel is bound for another port in Japan when they can, after stamping, be used in the second port. The pass is sufficient, and no other means of identification need be carried when ashore.

POLLUTION CONTROL: Gas-freeing is not allowed on tankships alongside the pier.

To minimise the chances of pollution all ballast, whether clean or dirty, must be discharged ashore, except that which is contained in independent "permanent" ballast tanks. Also all ballast loaded into cargo tanks must be taken from ashore, and not from the bay. The shore ballast tank has a capacity of 550,000 barrels and is connected to all tanker berths.

Caution: The sea berth is surrounded by a new type of sink/float oil fence to contain any oil that may be spilled on the sea. This fence is moored in place by 36 anchors and ropes. Vessels are therefore warned against approaching this fence or using any anchors in the vicinity of the sea berth. Nor should they throw overboard any old wires, ropes or other rubbish which may foul or damage the fence or its moorings.

The Terminal will, in case of an oil spill, take such steps as may be deemed necessary to fight the pollution before it spreads. If the spill is due to faulty equipment or materials on the vessel or to negligency on the part of ship's personnel, the Terminal shall be indemnified for any expenses incurred in connection with the preventive action taken.

No ballast is to be taken from the Bay unless required for the ship's clean permanent ballast system. Ballast for cargo tanks will be supplied by the terminal.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS: Smoking and use of naked lights is strictly prohibited on board vessels alongside the berths, except in those enclosed spaces aboard ship specifically designated by the Master as "Smoking Areas".

Fire wires of steel must be hanging over the side of the offside bow and quarter whilst alongside to enable tugs to connect readily in an emergency situation. The towing eyes should be maintained at water level.

Boiler tubes must not be blown whilst vessel is alongside and every precaution must be taken to prevent sparks and soot particles escaping from the funnel.

Mooring of boats or craft with mechanical propulsion alongside a vessel loading/discharging crude oil or in the process of ballast is not allowed, unless special permission has been given by t Terminal.

In case of a fire aboard a vessel alongside the pier the follow sequence of procedure should be adhered to:
(a) "Kin Wan Tug" to be informed immediately.
(b) All cargo operations to cease forthwith.
(c) MOVs and gate valves on loading arms, nitrogen and ba limit valves to be closed as soon as possible.
(d) Dock personnel to stand-by for disconnecting loading ar unberthing or fire-fighting in accordance with instructio issued by the Berthing Master or "Kin Wan Tug".

During an emergency situation on board a vessel alongside, t Berthing Master will be in charge of organising the preliminary fi fighting assisted by "Kin Wan Tug". He is to make use of available means at his disposal, such as tugboats, launches, pe sonnel. Terminal equipment and other facilities to assist the ves and protest lives and Terminal installations. Should the Berthi Master be unavailable or unable to communicate, "Kin Wan Tu will direct the preliminary fire-fighting.

Kin Bay area comes under the jurisdiction of the 11th District the Japanese Coastguard and lies in Kin Nakagusuku Port. T telephone number of the Captain of the Port-Coastguard offic 11th District is 098892–4874.

PILOTAGE: (a) Inland Sea pilotage should preferably be arranged through Agent by cable via Nagasaki Radio giving 72 hours notice. Urgent correction of ETA outside business hours should be cabled direct to pilot station. Inland Sea Pilot Association covers all Inland Sea ports. Pilotage not compulsory but recommended in view of great number of islands causing navigational hazards. Pilots obtained from one of three pilot stations dependent upon vessels last port of departure and at Master's discretion. Pilotage available throughout 24 hours and 72 hours advance notice preferred, thereafter advising any alterations. Most Inland Sea pilots also act as harbour pilots up to berth or anchorage at destination. Note: No VHF communication available with Inland Sea pilot stations.

No particular light or sound signals required. Even if the vessel already obtained free pratique in other port, need to approach the aforesaid position for Pilot, because of no pilot position located in Toyama-Shinko.

YOKOHAMA (incl. Negishi and Tsurumi): 35.27 N. 139.38 E. (See Plan)

DOCUMENTS:

Ship's Register.
Last Port Clearance.
3 Crew Lists, including passport nos.
3 Passenger Lists.
1 Store List.
1 Declaration of Crew's Baggage, i.e. tobacco, wine/spirits, camera, wrist-watch, radio, firearms/swords, etc. (only at first port of call in Japan).

Ship's Agent will prepare Inward/Outward Declaration, 1 Cargo Manifest and Cargo Manifest in transit using specific forms. Therefore ship's Agent should be provided with necessary information about details of cargoes in advance.

PILOTAGE: As Yokohama/Kawasaki a busy port, all movements – entering, leaving port and shifting within port – regulated by Harbour Authorities, and Agent has to make application for movement one day before, also tugboat(s) arranged through Agent. If any change necessary to arrangement already made, two hours notice sufficient to make rearrangement with Pilot. If Pilot required at area off Ashika Shima Lt. Bn. in Tokyo Bay for passing Uraga Strait, 24 hours prior notice required for dispatching Pilot. (In rough sea Pilot cannot be obtained in that area.) No station pilot boat; Pilots use small launches and often make use of tugboat when it is employed at same time, for embarking and disembarking especially when sea rough. In either case, launch or tugboat with Pilot on board displays "H" flag or lights prescribed in International Regulations. Pilot for Yokohama/Kawasaki port picked-up off Yokohama fairway entrance buoys No. 1 and No. 2, but in case ship has to wait for berth, usually does not take Pilot and proceeds to anchorage shown on chart as "Quarantine Anchorage" or as near as safety permits, and anchors. In this case Pilot boards at anchorage. If anchor or picks-up Pilot inside harbour limit, pilotage cheaper because assessed on two stages; "From Bay to Sea" and "From Sea to Berth", but Master requested to anchor outside fairway. Vessel to provide properly approved pilot ladder.

Uraga Channel:

Vessels requiring a Pilot for the Uraga Channel should radio request to Anjin Yokosuka, advising ship's details and arriving time at No. 1 Uraga Channel light buoy. Uraga Channel Pilot embarks 3 to 5 miles S.S.E. of Kannonsaki lighthouse, and will disembark on arrival at destination port limits. Applications for Uraga Channel Pilot should reach pilot office 24 hours before vessels arrival at No. 1 Uraga Channel light buoy.

Recommendations: To be followed by tankers of 100,000 dwt. tons or more when they navigate through the Uraga Channel with cargo loaded:

1. Twelve hours and three hours, respectively, before such a vessel expects to pass the Uraga Channel No. 1 light buoy, it should report the following items to the Yokohama Maritime Safety Division. Also, after the three-hours-in-advance report, it should keep its radio station open. This, however, is not required if the vessel is south bound:

(a) Name of vessel.
(b) Signal letters, dwt. tonnage, type and quantity of cargo, name of port intended to enter (not required in a three-hours-in-advance report).
(c) Availability of international VHF transmitter-receiver equipment aboard.
(d) Time at which the vessel expects to pass the Uraga Channel No. 1 light buoy.

2. Refrain from sailing through the Channel when visibility is poor (less than about one nautical mile).

3. Avoid sailing through the Channel at night unless it is essential to do so.

Follow any instruction that may be issued from the Director of the Yokohama Maritime Safety Division as to the time for sailing through the Channel.

4. Maintain look-out at stem.

5. Between the neighbourhood of the Uraga Channel No. 2 light buoy and that of the Uraga Channel No. 5 light buoy, avoid overtaking other vessels (weighing about 500 gross tons or more) unless it is essential to do so.

ANCHORAGES: 12–26 m. in quarantine anchorage, and 26–34 m. in other areas. For details refer to chart published by Hydrographic Division of Japan MSA.

RESTRICTIONS: Entry or departure or movement inside port not allowed from sunset to sunrise, but ships less than 15,000 g/t without dangerous cargo can be given special permission to enter, leave port and move inside the port (only in Yokohama). In Kawasaki, which is very narrow and long, no special permission given. Depths of shallows in Yokohama, Tsurumi and Kawasaki fairways 11·6, 11·2 and 12·0 metres, and Pilot Association make these the maximum drafts accessible to the berths inside the respective fairways. Ship with max. draft of 11·6 metres, when entering Yokohama through Yokohama fairway, has to wait for tide.

MAX. SIZE: Maximum permissible size of tankers for proceeding to installations in Yokohama:

| Name of Berth | Max. g/t | Max. LOA | Max. safe draft |
| Keihin Yokohama (sea berth) | No limit | No limit | 23·00 m. |

PRATIQUE: Radio Agent for free pratique not less than 12 hours and not more than 36 hours before arrival, advising full details of vessel and health conditions on board. When free pratique is granted by radio vessel will be required to submit the following documents to Quarantine Officer on arrival:

Maritime Declaration of Health.
Crew List.
Passenger List.

The following vessels will not be able to get radio pratique:

A vessel that has been in contact with an infected area or a suspected infected area within 15 days of arrival.

If a vessel has on board any case, or any suspected case of infectious disease, within 15 days of arrival.

If crew or passengers on board do not possess Valid Smallpox Vaccination Certificates.

If a vessel does not possess a valid Derat or Derat Exemption Certificate.

RADIO: Recommended Captain communicates with Agent through Choshi Radio or Nagasaki Radio which cover all ports in Japan. If specifically West bound vessel to Choshi and North bound to Nagasaki Radio respectively.

TUGS: under control of Pilot, compulsory in Yokohama/Kawasaki for foreign ships, and normally join ships in fairway between outer breakwater and Lt. Hos. and Entrance Lt. Buoys. If ship is at anchor in quarantine area or near to it, tug(s) joins ship at anchor. Usually two tugs used for mooring and/or unmooring, but depends largely upon special conditions of berth and weather conditions. Tug's lines used and charge included in towage.

BERTHING: No specific requirements. Pilot boarding time will be notified by ship's Agent mainly by radio.

Shipmaster's Report No. 2

Information covering Nampo, North Korea, previously known as Chinnampo. See in connection with this B.A. Chart 1257 and 1656, China Sea Pilot III.

The following general information was produced by the navigating officers of a vessel in 1974.

NAVIGATIONAL INFORMATION: Pilot boarding point now 38° 37′ 5″ N., 124° 49′ 5″ E. Wreck at 37° 38′ 2″ N., 124° 48′ 2″ E., 3 masts above water at all states of tide. Radar echo good at 6 miles. Buoy—old position 37° 37′ 4″ N., 124° 51′ 4″ E., moved to 37° 37′ 2″ N., 124° 50′ 7″ E.

Light Sei To—flash every 23 sec. Visible for 8 miles Light buoy at 37° 37′ 4″ N., 124° 53′ 6″ E., flashes 18 sec.
Light Shimai To flashes 18 sec.
Light San extinguished
Light Chiri extinguished
Light Hi To extinguished
Light at 38° 41′ 7″ N., 125° 18′ 1″ E., (Bachishin) flashes 30 sec.
Light at Nanryoki extinguished
Light at 38° 43′ 3″ N., 125° 24′ 6″ E., extinguished.

PILOTAGE, ANCHORAGES, INSPECTION AND CLEARANCE: The pilot boarding point is at the same time the outer limit of Nampo Harbour and the clearing inwards point. To await pilot and further instructions before proceeding into Nampo, vessels must wait here. Information can be obtained via coastal radio Nampo (details in Nautical Wireless Service Standing instructions), VHF is not available.

The anchorage at the pilotage waiting point is good, and the bottom is a thin layer of grey mud with clay underneath it. With wind from the S.W., there is a slight swell. Depth of water between 25 m. and 26 m., vessels should anchor with a chain length of at least 100 m. on the capstan and calculate adequate room for swinging, since there is a very strong tidal flow at all states of the wind and weather, running up to 4 kn. according to our observations.

The pilot comes on board with clearance authorities. As pilot cutter (also no VHF) a normal tug is used, which in Winter is also used as an ice-breaker. The tug does not display a pilot's flag, only the national flag. On the engine skylight the protective shield of an anti-aircraft gun is mounted. The hull of the tug is black, superstructure white with large Korean characters on the front of the bridge. Pilotage only available during daylight hours.

At the clearance inwards point (pilotage boarding point) all binoculars, including bridge binoculars, and photographic equipment is gathered together and sealed for the total time in port. It is only released after the pilot leaves the vessel on departure from the port. Likewise all echo-sounding, radar, direction finding equipment is sealed. The use of such equipment and filming and photography in North Korean ports is completely forbidden.

From the clearance inwards point the journey to the anchorage in front of the town is usually at full speed for most of the way. The anchorage is selected by the pilot. The pilot gives a good impression and from our observations knows his job well. However, one can only expect very rudimentary English from him. The same applies to the clearance authorities who have only a very few words of English. Clearance proceeds slowly but is carried out very correctly.

GENERAL INFORMATION: When at anchor in front of the town, further official authorities come on board. These check the whole ship, and go through the deck and engine room areas accompanied by one chosen member of the crew. Whilst the ship is being examined, all other crew members must remain in their cabins. The crew member accompanying the authorities must have his seaman's book with him as identification. When the authorities leave the ship finally they take the log away, and bring it back after a few days. Going ashore is permitted, but normally only in the port area. There is a seaman's hostel there. Travel further inland is possible, but only by giving 24 hours prior notice to Immigration via the ship's Agent. Also from time to time it is possible for crew members to fly out, but this must be arranged via the state ship's agent. Visits to other ships is also possible, but only by giving 24 hours prior notice to Immigration. Radios and cassette recorders may not be taken on land or even on deck. Their use is only permitted within the ship and cabins. Fresh water and fresh food are available. In the roads water is delivered by water boats. Removal of rubbish is also possible by due notice through the Agent, and is even possible at the anchorage. Boat manoeuvring can likewise take place, but it must be reported, and may only take place in the vicinity of one's own ship.

For clearance inwards, the following documents are required:

7 crew lists.
1 list of items in possession of crew divided into gold, valuables, money, signature.
1 vaccination list.
1 maritime declaration of health.
1 passenger list, even if none on board.
1 narcotics list.
1 list of tobacco and personal goods.

The authorities bring a list of provisions with them and fill it out after declaration on board. Stores, such as alcohol and cigarettes are not sealed.

The health authorities place greatest score by cleanliness of toilets, refrigerators, food stores, kitchens, pantries, hospital and first-aid station.

Generally, it may be stated that the ship's broker and agent speak and understand good English, but from the authorities normally one can expect no knowledge of Western languages.

The port roads offer anchorages for at least 15 sea-going vessels and enough room for swinging. However, in each case at least 170 m. chain should be allowed so that the vessel lies securely. The tidal current, in accordance with our observations, runs at a good 4 kn. The anchorage bottom is good and comprises grey mud. The depths of water shown in the charts are, in accordance with our observations, roughly correct.

To the West of the port on the town shore there is a large shipyard with a mobile gantry crane over a slipway under construction. The slipway is about 150 m. long. Normally, the crane is at night directly on the bank (high water mark) is illuminated and thus constitutes a good bearing, particularly at night, since otherwise no long-range port lights are available.

The position of the crane is about 34°, 43′ 2″ N., 125° 24′ 1″ E. This area where the shipyard is located is designated as "Iron works" in chart 1656 map of Chinnampo Ko. The waterside there no longer has an inlet, but has been straightened out, and building work is still in progress. See plan section of "Guide".

Likewise building works are in progress along the whole shore line between the shipyard and Nampo Ki. The shore line is also straightened here, and to all appearances has been developed as anchorage and repair yard for the Korean Navy. The 2 red/black buoys to the South of the iron works in the chart are no longer there. In this area there is only a small fixed buoy for guard boats and fishing craft.

In the middle of Shienshin island there is a 9-storey white hotel, which is a good landmark by day.

The tidal pole in front of Nampo Ki is no longer available. On the Southern end of Nampo Ki is a bunker with a small house on top. The lower part of the house is pink and the upper part white. The west pier of Hibatsu To has 5 mobile port cranes, with lifting capacity up to 5 tons. At the Southern end of the pier are 2 new large warehouses. A floating crane is available, American type, and with a capacity of a good 160 tons. On the Western pier is likewise a small warehouse and 2 mobile port cranes (up to 5 tons). At the Southern end of the Western pier, are two berths for deep sea freighters with a good 9 m. water depth N.W. alongside. At the Southern part of the Western pier there is a good 8 m. of water along a length of some 210 m. At berth I (West pier, Southern berth), vessels up to 32 feet draught can go alongside in normal water conditions. The depth of water in the inner part of the port could not be exactly determined, but judging by the vessels there must be about 5 m.

The old coal pier has a berth with at least 10 m. depth of water. East of this pier is also a further coal pier, equipped also with conveyor belts and about 10 m. depth of water alongside.

For berthing and unberthing there are one large and three small tugs available. The large tug acts as pilot craft and for the authorities to visit for clearance. It has been previously described.

From our observations, in the inner roads loading and unloading rarely takes place. There are only a few lighters available. As the port is overloaded, a long waiting time must always be allowed for (at least 14 days).

Medical care for crew members here is somewhat difficult, since one tries with all means to avoid having to have the crew member transferred beyond the confines of the port. In this connection, the doctor comes only once on board and a decision is taken as to whether or not a visit to hospital is necessary. For such a hospital visit one has further to go through the Agent to the authorities to obtain permission to go beyond the port area.

Below are some soundings of the roads. The vessel's draught = 8·35 m. Times in GMT. Wind in degrees and knots. First bearing is Nampo Ki, second bearing is the pier light, fixed red, in front of the east pier:

| Circulating 5 kn. | 360°, 45° | 0640 | 16·58 |

The pier structures have shuttering walls at the bottom, and the upper part is composed of equal-shaped stone blocks. At the mooring points fenders are composed of car tyres strung together on wires. The pier itself is in a satisfactory condition. Rail connection is available, and lorries may run along it. Water connections are also available. As the two cranes on pier berth No. I have very large beams, they are often positioned between two hatches and then work the two hatches alternatively.

Loading and unloading is made difficult since it is not possible to obtain precise information as to the number of gangs, the time they will turn up for work, whether they will work with their own equipment or with cranes or with the mobile cranes available. It continually happens that suddenly port workers will appear or disappear, although shortly beforehand the Agent will inform to the contrary.

Telephone connections with Europe are possible. Connections can be obtained at the Seaman's Club in the port after 1600 hours. On average it takes an hour to get through. It is advisable always to try to get a line to Moscow, and then ask for the required connection oneself in English from the Moscow operator. This noticeably hastens the connection. Comprehension is at times very bad, calculation of charges is dreadful, and one must be prepared to pay three or four times the price as would appertain for a similar call in Europe.

The local currency is the Won. 1 US dollar = approx. 2·15 Won. In the Seaman's Club all customary Western currencies can be changed into Wons.

Loading rigging can be positioned from the ship. If for example this has to be done at night, it must be discussed in advance with the Agent as to whether this has to be done by the ship or the port personnel. If the rigging is done by the port personnel, it must be checked carefully.

Clearance outwards occurs in the harbour roads and not at the pier. It takes a good 3 to 4 hours. Here also, all crew members must be in their cabins for checking purposes, and if the authorities require it, personnel must be available to guide them around the ship. On leaving the port, yet another list must be presented of currency which each crew member has spent in Korea.

They are only interested in foreign currency which has been exchanged for wons in the Seaman's Club, since wons may not be exported.

On the journey out from the port, the pilot is accompanied by an assistant and a member of the coastguard. The latter, shortly after coming on board, removes all seals from apparatus sealed when coming into port. The pilot leaves the vessel at a position 38° 35′ 5″ N. and 124° 55′ 5″ E.

Herewith some soundings, taking into consideration draught of vessel. First bearing – pier light East side Hibatsu To – fixed red. Second bearing chimney at 38° 44′ 1″ N. and 125° 25′ 9″ E. (shown on the chart as Chy.)

RADIO: Address of Radio Station and call sign, Inchon Ra (HLC).

RESTRICTIONS: A peculiarity of Inchon port is the wide t range, i.e. max. 30 ft. difference between the low and high ti Because of the extreme tidal range in Inchon Harbour and the str tidal currents which result, the importance of maintaining st surveillance of the vessel's mooring lines is emphasised. In this gard, the ship's officers and crew must be diligent in the performa of their duties. All vessels to discharge or load commercial carg should invariably obtain prior permission for berthing/ancho from the Inchon District Marine Bureau at least 24 hours be arrival, then proceed to a nominated anchorage in the stream un direction of a compulsory Pilot.

HEALTH: The Quarantine Anchorage is located outside the h bour limit, at anchorages No. B–4, B–5, B–6, B–10, B–11, B-12 C–1 to C–8, the position and depth of which are noted above vessel which sailed from an "Affected Zone" and not passed days thereafter is compelled to receive 24 hours quarantine bef entering the discharging anchorage. Quarantine is available o for the period from sunrise to sunset.

TUGS: Tankers berthing at Kyung In Energy Co. Terminal norm require three tugs for berthing and two for unberthing. All tugs op ated by Korean Navy.

BERTHING: The port consists of the "Outer Harbour" and "In Harbour" which are separated by two islands called Wolmido a Sowolmido, which are connected by a bank. The Outer Harb comprising downstream of the Han River, is used as Stream Anch ages for commercial ocean steamers.

A new tidal basin constructed in the area of the present in harbour. The dock will include entire area of the present In Harbour which would provide a total 1,400,000 square metres of wa area; 3,820 metres of berthing pier including 1,160 metres of (co tainer Pier and max. 12 metres or 39 ft.) depth. This new doc directly connected with the terminal of the Seoul–Inchon High After completion the new dock would accommodate a total of 240, tons of vessels alongside the piers simultaneously, as follows:

|---|---|---|
| 50,000 | tonners | 1 ship |
| 20,000 | ,, | 3 ships |
| 10,000 | ,, | 6 ships |
| 8,000 | ,, | 8 ships |
| 5,000 | ,, | 1 ship |

TANKERS: Kyung In Energy Co. Terminal

Designed for 50,000 dwt. over 50 ft. depth at LW. The marine term is situated at 37° 30′ 12″ North 126° 36′ 19″ East. The face of the d phin fendering system is on a bearing of approximately 347 deg true.

The vessel will be berthed alongside the main and secon berthing dolphins with the vessel's hull against the fenders, wh are an integral part of the dolphins. All the dolphins are equipped w electric capstans and quick-release mooring hooks. A naviga light and fog horn is located on the Southern Exterior Mooring Dolphin (Exterior Mooring Dolphin No. 1). A navigation light is also located on Exterior Mooring Dolphin No. 2 on the North side of the terminal facilities. When a vessel of the 50,000 dwt. class is moored to the terminal, the bow and stern lines will perform the function of the breast lines. Therefore, the spring lines must be led out through the chocks on board which will provide sufficient leads ahead and astern to restrict the movement of the vessel along the face of the dolphins. In this regard, due consideration must be given to the rise and fall of the tide.

Loading Arms: There are three "Continental-Emsco" loading arms situated on the loading platform. The one to the extreme North and the middle one of the three are for the discharge of crude oil. Both are fitted with 16-in. swivel connections having 150 pound flanges. The loading arm to the extreme South is for the loading of naphtha and is fitted with a 12-in. 150 pound flange. The loading arms are designed for a working pressure of 100 psi.

During the connecting and disconnecting of the loading arms to the vessel, the loading arms will be manipulated and positioned by shore personnel. During the period of time when the loading arms are connected to the vessel's manifold, they will be in the "float" position and will be self-adjusting.

General Information:

Under no circumstances should any member of the ship's crew activate or operate the controls for the loading arms. Authorised shore personnel will perform this function.

The "Continental-Emsco" loading arms will tolerate only a minimum amount of transverse movement by the vessel in either direction. In other words, the movement of the vessel along the face of the dolphins is restricted. For this reason, it is mandatory that the vessel be kept in position, and that the mooring lines be properly tended. It is the responsibility of the vessel to maintain sufficient deck crew on duty to properly tend the mooring lines, and to ensure that the vessel maintains proper position relative to the loading arms.

Discharging Crude Oil:

The distance from the loading platform to the tanks is approximately 2·2 kilometres (1·4 miles). A 30-in. block valve is situated near the location where the trestle joins the island causeway. Block valves are also installed in the pipe-line system near the inlet to each of the crude oil storage tanks.

There are three crude oil storage tanks on Yul Do Island. Each has a capacity of 200,000 barrels. The tanks are 48 ft. in height with an overflow at 46 ft. There are no check valves in the crude oil pipe-line system. Thus, the vessel must take precautions against back-filling due to head pressure on the system.

It may be necessary to discontinue the discharge of crude oil when changing from one tank to another ashore. The vessel will be given adequate notice for the stoppage of the ship's cargo pumps.

Ballast:

It is unlawful to discharge dirty or oily ballast water into the waters of Inchon Harbour. Severe penalties may be invoked against the vessel by the Republic of Korea in the event of pollution of harbour waters.

The centre loading arm provides a dual function. It is used for discharging ballast from the vessel as well as for the discharge of crude. The ballast flows through a 12-in. pipe-line to the ballast storage tank on Yul Do Island. This tank has a capacity of 30,000 barrels, and is situated about 1·1 kilometres (0·68 miles) from the loading platform.

Loading Naphtha:

Naphtha is stored in two mainland storage tanks each of which has a capacity of 125,000 barrels. Three pumps provide the flow for shipping naphtha. Each pump has a capacity of 1,600 gpm (2285 BHP). The pumps are on independent circuits. Thus, the loading rate of the naphtha can be governed by the number of pumps used.

The pipe-line from the pumps to the loading platform is 18 in. and is reduced to 12 in. on the loading platform. A block valve is located in the 18-in. pipe-line near the point where the island causeway joins the trestle. Another block valve is provided in the 12-in. pipe-line on the loading platform.

The pumps which are used for shipping naphtha can be stopped from the Marine Terminal Loading Platform, but they must be started from the mainland. Under normal conditions the vessel's deck officer on watch should give the terminal personnel 10 minutes notice prior to requesting that the loading rate be reduced, and the same notification prior to the completion of loading. As previously stated, the pumps can be stopped from the loading platform in case of an emergency.

The approximate distance from the mainland naphtha storage tanks to the loading platform is 5·4 kilometres (3·35 miles).

Regulations:

1. Sufficient number of crew members are to be on duty at all times to properly tend the mooring lines and ensure that the position of the vessel is maintained alongside of the dolphins.
2. Except in the case of an emergency, the deck officer on duty shall give the terminal personnel at least 10 minutes notice prior to changing the loading rate of the naphtha, and at least 10 minutes notice prior to the completion of loading cargo.
3. Under no circumstances is the vessel's main propulsion engine to be disabled, or are any repairs to be undertaken while the vessel is moored to the marine terminal.
4. The vessel's fire-fighting equipment is to be kept ready for immediate use. A sufficient number of hoses shall be led out forward and aft to provide full deck coverage.
5. Lights must be provided by the vessel to illuminate the water area in the vicinity of the bow, stern and off-shore side.
6. Smoking will be permitted in such Interior spaces as may be designated by the vessel's Master. However, smoking will not be permitted on any open deck areas.

SHIPMASTER'S REPORT

Approaches: Inchon, the port for Seoul, the capital of South Korea, is situated in Latitude 37° 28′ 20″ N., Longitude 126° 37′ 09″ E., and is approached from the South through the Yellow Sea. From Kyoknyolbi Do (Clifford Is.) LH. a course should be set to pass 1 mile North of An Do. LH., in the vicinity of which the pilot boat will be waiting. Pilotage is not compulsory from this point but is recommended and the pilot should be ordered at least 48 hours before arrival through the Agent, in Inchon.

From An Do vessels proceed via the Dong Soodo (East channel) which is very winding and narrow in places. All lighthouses on this part of the Korean coast appear to show lights of very low power, the range of visibility appears to be about one quarter of that shown on charts and in the Adm. Light List.

Pilotage is about 38 miles to the Inchon anchorage for deep-sea vessels, about three hours steaming. The Pilot was good even in thick fog, and all pilots seem to speak reasonable English. The pilot launch is fitted with VHF.

The anchorage is extensive, with room for about 30 ocean-going vessels, holding ground is good and no trouble was experienced in currents of 5 knots, although even stronger currents are experienced at Spring tides.

The port: Can be divided into three sections according to location and function; the inner dock, outer harbour and Northern shoreline.

The Inner Harbour basin is presently operated for the accommodation of cargo ships up to 50,000 dwt. The outer harbour, of new construction, is largely for coastal and fishing vessels of less than 500 tons, and is located just outside and to the Southwest of the inner basin.

The Northern shoreline, North of the closed basin has unloading facilities at many private plants. These are lighter berths.

With the completion, in May 1974, of the new lock system and second tidal basin, the berthing facilities in the port have changed the cargo handling capacity from 1,420,000 tons to 6,270,000 tons per year by providing 3,820 metres length of quay and container berths.

Within the inner harbour is the first tidal basin (the older lock system dating from 1923). This basin is accessible through the new lock system.

The Port of Inchon is administrated, managed and operated by the Government, represented by the Inchon District Marine Bureau (IDMB) in the Ministry of Transportation.

Decisions on administration and operation of the port, particularly to daily activities, are made by the Director, District Marine Bureau of the above-Ministry.

Port activities, such as cargo in transit sheds, or in storage and port facilities of Government property, are in the custody of the Association of Port Management. This Association is formed from members of the various port users associations and was formed in 1972, under the control of the Minister in charge of Port Operations.

Port service companies and Stevedoring companies are still privately owned.

Repatriation and relief of crewmembers was made without any apparent difficulty. Flights to and from the U.K. being routed through Tokyo.

NOTICES: All vessels bound for Korean ports should give an ETA to the local Agents 27 hours prior arrival. This is essential to enable the Agents to notify the Port Authorities and arrange Pilot if necessary.

RESTRICTIONS: Vessels should enter during daylight hours only. Many small Korean fishing and cargo boats in this area display dim navigation lights or none at all at night. Pilot is not compulsory but all vessels calling at this port recommended employ a Pilot in view of the hazardous channel and tidal difficulties. Controlling depth 8 ft. at Bar. Keel clearance of 2 ft. required.
